Lancaster Farming

VOL. 26 No. 43 | Lancaster Farming, Saturday, August 22, 1981 | $7.50 Per Year

Ag Progress has something for everyone

The latest line of machinery will be demonstrated next week at the 1981 Ag Progress Days. Several million dollars worth of equipment will be on hand for inspection, both in field demonstrations and company exhibits, by visitors to Penn State's Rock Springs Ag Research Center. Take along this week's Lancaster Farming so you don't miss a single event.

UNIVERSITY PARK — Gas up the car and load up the kids. It's time once again to head to the Penn State Agricultural Research Center at Rock Springs for the 1981 Ag Progress Days.

Over $10 million worth of brand new farm and home equipment will be shined up and ready for the thousands of visitors who will give them a critical once over or stop for a closer inspection as they meander through the midway.

Joining the mechanical beauties on the midway will be exhibits of farm supplies, seeds, fertilizers, silos, farm chemicals and lots of other displays for all to see. For the homesteader and fulltime farmer, alike, there will be chain saws on hand for a look-see, along with lawn and garden tools, sprayers and home conservation equipment.

"A record number of commercial exhibitors are displaying goods and services for agriculture," reports Joseph Harrington, Penn State agronomist and Ag Progress Days chairman. "Some of the world's most sophisitcated farm equipment will be shown."

Along with the tons of moving parts and metal that will meld into a scene of reds, greens, blues, and other hues, visitors to Ag Progress Days will be able to watch field demonstrations on the latest methods of filling silage bags, tilling, mowing, planting, and harvesting.

Taking advantage of Ag Progress Days as a means of reaching a large audience, Penn State has erected several educational exhibits representing many college departments. One area that will have prominence is the Extension home economics exhibit which focuses on creative family life, including new ideas in food, fabrics, 4-H, and other areas.

Ag Progress Days truly has something for everybody, so come

Lancaster County ag continues to grow

BY DICK ANGLESTEIN

LANCASTER — The figures clearly show that Lancaster County agriculture is still growing by leaps and bounds, but there are a number of hidden meanings of equal importance behind those totals.

The bottom line for the value of all county farm products — livestock and crops — stands at $664,399,850 for 1980, according to the Pennsylvania Crop and Livestock Summary.

That means a dollar increase of more than $100 million over 1979. Even with inflation taken into consideration, that's a healthy jump.

But, according to Jay Irwin, County Extension Director, there's plenty more meaning behind that total. For instance:

—The passing of the reins of farming appear to be moving smoothly from one generation to another, helping to assure the future of local agriculture.

"The sizable increase in poultry and hog operations shows that farm owners are opening new livestock enterprises requiring less land to accomodate upcoming generations in the family," Irwin explained.

Hog numbers jumped some 84,000 units from 1979 to 1980, increasing their value by about one-third or $7 million.

Poultry and more specifically layers soared by some 2 million birds, sending their value up by some $16 million.

These sizable increases in hog and layer operations also demonstrated the continuing trend toward diversification that can only add to the long-range strength of local agriculture.

Also, the figures are telling dairy — the long-time stronghold of Lancaster agriculture — to watch out since poultry is nipping at its heels.

ATTENTION HOG PRODUCERS

Beginning Tuesday, July 14th, and for every Tuesday thereafter, Walter M. Dunlap and Sons will conduct a fat hog sale.

This sale will be in addition to the Monday, Wednesday and Saturday sales, thereby giving all hog producers a choice of marketing their hogs any one of four days a week instead of three.

It is important to note that all hogs consigned for Tuesday's market must arrive between 6 A.M. and 9 A.M.

From chick to cage, we formulate feeds and feeding programs with your profit in mind.

At Pennfield Feeds, our basic goal is to help our customers make more money. We believe we can accomplish this for you, too.

Unlike many other feed companies, we develop custom feeding programs for each individual operation.

It all starts with a Pennfield man reviewing your operation with you. Your goals. Your records. The health and overall condition of your birds. Whether you grow chicks or buy pullets. The type of equipment you use. The production potential of your flock. Your management practices. And other factors that have an effect on your profit potential.

With the aid of computers, we then design a feeding program specifically tailored to your birds' needs — a program that can improve your profits by reducing expenses, increasing production, or both.

And we're a local company. We buy our feed grains locally. Shipping savings are passed on to customers. Our feeding programs are developed through test work and field trials based on local conditions.

These and other Pennfield advantages are helping hundreds of customers increase their profits. We can do the same for you. Phone or write us today.

THE OLD FARMER'S ALMANAC

AUG. 24-30, 1981

Will swap this day for one in May.

Mend your fences now Nathan F Leopold (murderer of Bobby Franks) died Aug 29, 1971 New moon Aug 29 (Sat) Average length of days for the week, 13 hours, 20 minutes U S soldiers land in Japan Aug 28, 1945 Torrents of rain broke the great Southwest drought Aug 30, 1932 Lies must have clothes, but the truth goes naked

Ask the Old Farmer: Where did the expression getting the "upper hand" originate? F Y, Sacramento, Calif The two-handed sword was used in Europe before the 12th century, and the expression probably started when the sword was invented The upper hand in this case was the guiding hand and thus the more important

Home Hints: Oven cleaner really whitens whitewall tires

OLD FARMER'S WEATHER FORECASTS

New England: Sunny and warm, showers at midweek, clearing at end

Greater New York-New Jersey: Week begins sunny and hot, by weekend partly cloudy and cooler

Middle Atlantic Coastal: Seasonal temperatures become sunny and hot throughout, few showers west

Piedmont & Southeast Coastal: Clear and hot, then showers central and south, heavy north

ORTHO DIQUAT CLEARED AS A POTATO VINE KILLER.

This is news any potato grower will welcome. ORTHO Diquat 2 Spray or ORTHO Diquat Water Weed Killer makes the ideal harvest aid. It allows you to schedule an earlier than usual harvest and probably get a better price for your potatoes.

Diquat works even in cool weather. It desiccates the vines and kills the weeds to make a faster, easier harvest and reduce wear and tear on your harvest equipment.

Diquat is competitively priced with other harvest aid chemicals, and it will not stain application equipment.

Talk to your farm chemical dealer today about Diquat for a faster, easier potato harvest.

Ag Progress?

Once again hordes of farmers and other folks will be pouring into Penn State's Research Farm for the annual event known as Ag Progress Days.

Packed into three days will be events and and exhibits designed to inform farmers about the latest in agricultural research and technology.

What's the newest innovations in conserving soil and water, tilling, planting, and harvesting hay and corn? What technological advances have been made in the realm of farm machinery to make life a little easier for the hard-working farmer?

All these questions and more will be answered as Pennsylvania farmers and their families reap the benefits of years of research and experimentation done at Pennsylvania's land grant university for the sake of ag's progress

Yes, there is no question but that agriculture has "come a long way" from the days of the hand plow and the cyclone seeder. Farmers today can feed more people using fewer man hours and less acreage than their forefathers — and most people take for granted that this will continue to improve

But the fact is, farmers are running out They're running out of land, out of financial assets, and out of will power to go on with their hard life when they can't turn a profit — even with all the research that has gone into modern agriculture The nation is running out of young people who can either afford to or desire to become farmers — and what will be the benefit of all the research if there are no farmers left?

Yes, there's been progress in agriculture Just recently we've learned how calves can be produced by artificially fertilizing eggs in a test tube The fertilized egg can be placed in a donor cow or even frozen And scientists are now talking about the near possibilities of cloning — producing absolutely identical offspring of our 'super' cows

We grow vegetables in water, hatch featherless chickens, and seed corn in gel strips Things that have become commonplace in our ag society, like no-till planting, embryo transfers, and farming with computers, would have boggled the minds of farmers of the early 1900's — even those of just two decades ago

What lies in store for agriculture in the U S and elsewhere? The answer lies in the fields and laboratories of our universities and research farms. It's both exciting and frightening to try to speculate just how advanced the American farmer could become

With all the progress that has been seen in the past few years, it is not unfathomable that farmers will soon be watching a computer print-out terminal while they drink their morning coffee rather than turning an ear to the radio for market information

Computers and lasers on planting equipment will ensure that seeds are 'lovingly' dropped at just the right depth and spacing Complete intake and output information on cattle, hogs, and sheep will be available at the touch of a button for producers to use in determining profit margins

Dairy and beef herds will be made up of identical super cows produced through a procedure where a single cell is 'sliced' and grown into calves

Sound too far-out to be plausible? Don't forget that's what people said about embryo transfers and automatic magnetic feeders

Ag progress — the sky seems to be the limit But in all the vast possibilities, we need to keep in mind the dangers of becoming 'too smart' and the fact that we are still just mere humans trying to make our lives, and the lives of others, a little easier and hopefully a little better than before.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W ALTHOUSE

YOU CAN DO IT!
August 23, 1981

Background Scriptures:
Deuteronomy 30:11-20.
Devotional Reading:
Nehemiah 9:26-31.

"It's too late for me to change my life!"

"Things are too messed up to straighten out!"

"I've always been this way and I always will be!"

"There's no way I can start over!"

These are just a few of the things that people tell me when I challenge them to put their lives in order. So many people conclude that there is a point at which a life is no longer worthy or possible of redemption.

I can understand those feelings, for there are times when the challenge to "clean up our act" seems totally beyond our meager capacities. We feel doomed to stay exactly where we are: at the bottom of the pit!

The Choice Is Ours

But one of the enduring themes of the Bible is that it is never too late, never too difficult, never impossible, unless we choose to make it so. As Moses sums up his third discourse to the people of Israel, he makes it clear that their destiny depends upon their own choices: "See, I have set before you this day life and good, death and evil" (Deuteronomy 30:15). As someone has put it, there are no hopeless situations; just people who have grown hopeless about them. If we choose to regard life without hope, it will be without hope. It has not been decided for us by someone else. It is our choice: "therefore choose life, that you and your descendents may live" (30:19).

Moses makes clear, not only that we can choose life, but that, we are constantly making choices—good and bad—and there are consequences that follow those choices. If we choose not to follow God's commandments, there is an eventual price to be paid. "But if your heart turns away, and you will not hear, but are drawn away to worship other gods and serve them, I declare to you this day that you shall perish" (30:17,18). So, we are not helpess victims of life; we shape our lives by the choices we make.

Very Near

Neither is the good life in God's will so far beyond our grasp. "For this commandment which I command you this day is not too hard for you, neither is it far off. It is not in heaven, that you should say, 'Who will go up for us to heaven, and bring it to us, that we may hear it and do it?" (30:11,12). Of course, it is not easy, but neither is it beyond our grasp, if we really want it. One doesn't have to have a high I.Q. nor rise from a higher culture to grasp that which we must do. No, "the word is very near you; it is in your mouth and in your heart, so that you can do it" (30:14).

When we look at our own lives, it is easy to conclude that new life is beyond our grasp. But when we behold in us the power of God's redeeming love, we need to remember that: WE CAN DO IT!

To Apply Lime When Seeding Small Grain

Preparation is being made for fall wheat and barley seeding. This is an excellent time to apply lime. A soil test will indicate how much per acre, if needed. This is doubly important if you plan to seed down a grass-legume mixture next spring.

Many times a clover or alfalfa producer will wait until spring to have lime applied to his field. This is not the way to get a good stand. Lime needs up to six months to react in the soil and correct the acidity.

If soils need lime, it should be worked into the topsoil when the small grain seedbed is being prepared. Legume seedings are costly; be sure the soil is between 6.8 to 7.0 pH so they have a good chance to survive.

To Fertilize Strawberries

The new strawberry patch that you planted this spring should be pushing runners by this time of year. It's a good idea to fertilize these new plantings during August. A fertilizer high in nitrogen or nitrogen only would be best.

The objective is to encourage more runners and develop a stronger plant. It will also increase yields for next summer. Another thing, weeds must be controlled at all times to have a healthy strawberry patch. The earlier in the summer we can get the runner plants to take root, the better way they will be established for next year.

To Plan Winter Cover Crops

This is a good time to give some thought to a winter cover crop on land that has been tilled this past season The seeding of ryegrass, bromegrass, or winter grains following the harvest of the main crop this fall, will help reduce soil erosion.

In addition, a cover crop adds organic matter when it is incorporated into the soil next spring. Cover crops are especially helpful on slopes and hillsides where water erosion is a problem. Just a word of caution, some herbicides used on corn (atrazine) may prevent the growth of any grain or cover crop this fall.

To Be Aware Of The Adult Stage Of The Corn Rootworm

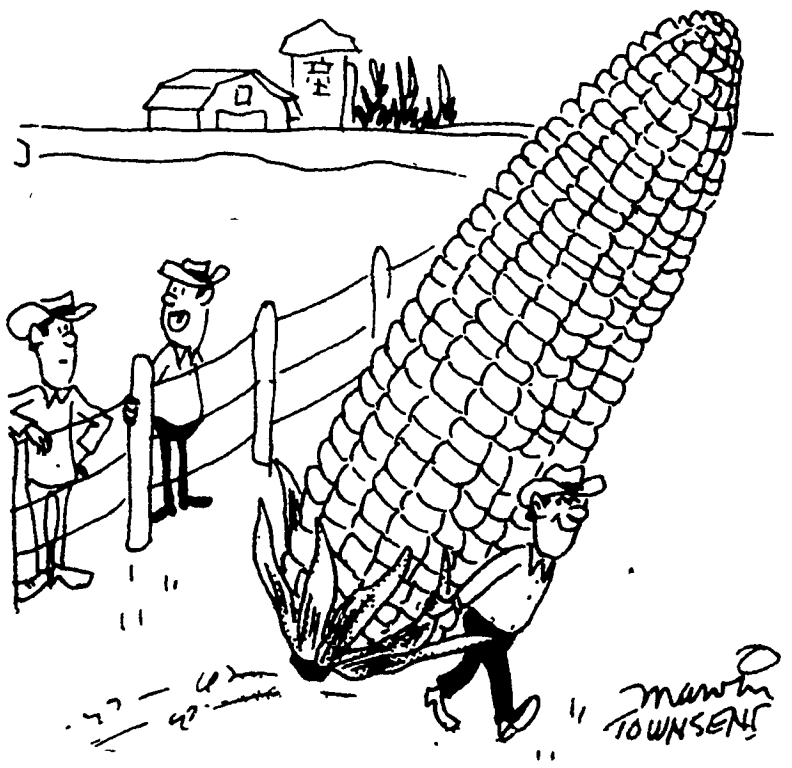
The adult stage of the northern corn rootworm are starting to emerge. In fact I've seen a number of these little green beetles in our home. They are merely a nuisance in the home.

If you recall, the life cycle is something like this; the beetles lay most of their eggs during September and October in the soil around the corn roots. The eggs remain dormant for 8 or 9 months and begin to hatch in the latter half of June. The small white larvae hut for corn roots and begin feeding as soon as they find them. If the larvae cannot find corn roots, they will die. This is the reason that rotation of crops is effective in controlling corn rootworms.

So, keep a close watch for the small greenish beetle, this will be an indicator on what to expect next spring.

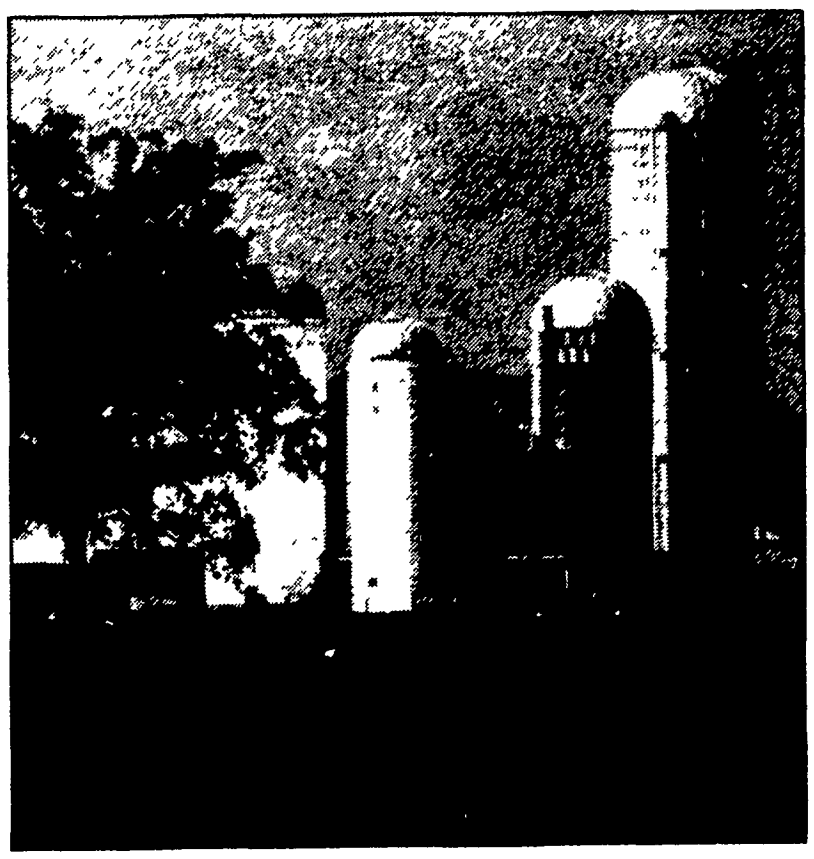
If you find the green beetle on your corn silk, they will do very little damage since most of the corn is pollinated.

HAY HAWS



"May be should ask him what hybrid seed he used."

WE'RE NUMBER ONE!



Per Bale or Per Silo
Preserve Hay and Haylage Nutrients with BEACON PRE-SERV* Products!

If you use hay by the bale, Beacon Hay Pre-Serv lets you bale it at 25% moisture. This allows you to bale earlier in the day, later at night, and well before rain can damage it while drying. Baling at higher moisture levels means you get tougher hay with less leaf shatter . . .hay that cows definitely prefer, with as much as 20% more nutritional value!

If you ensile hay into hay crop silage, Beacon Silage Pre-Serv controls the fermentation process by speeding it up. Therefore, a stable silage condition is reached much sooner. Less heat is produced during the fermentation process. The reduced temperatures can lessen the chance of protein being heat-damaged.

That means more nutrients in the haylage where they can be used to make more milk. And that means less feed to buy.

Hay Pre-Serv. Silage Pre-Serv. Both are blends of food-grade mold inhibitors, anti-oxidants and flavors. They improve palatability and digestibility while they reduce spoilage. And both are easy and inexpensive to apply. Find out more about these great products now. Per bale or per silo, you'll get more milk production, and that means more profits!

Perry County sale benefits Princess group

LANDISBURG — The Perry County Dairy Princess Committee netted more than $2,000 from proceeds at the recent Dairy Princess Promotional Sale in the Art Kling Auction Barn near Landisburg.

From the 47 animals up for sale, Sante-Acres Lift-Off Nana topped the sale with a $4,000 price tag which was double the sale average.

The 2-year-old Holstein female was purchased by Thomas and Shayne Dum, Landisburg and consigned by Kenneth and Jane Benner, Millerstown.

Art Kling's consignment, a 2-year-old Kit Builder daughter was purchased by Merle and Nancy Woodring, Chambersburg, for $3,400.

Daniel Albright, Landisburg, bought the third-high seller for $3,000. Dumbelle Farms consigned the 4-year-old Dumbelle Burke Select daughter.

Six sale animals ended up in Lancaster County. Henry Lapp, Gap, purchased three. John Kreider, Lancaster, bought a 4-year-old Jet Stream daughter and Clarence Shirk, Ephrata, trucked two animals home.

Hummelstown breeder, Franklin Wagner, Jr., purchased more than one-third of the total consignments.

The sale, which helped raise money for the Perry County Dairy Princess Committee also benefitted the county's Junior Holstein Club.

Kenneth and Jane Benner donated a calf to the Club, which in turn consigned the animal to the sale and received the full sale price towards Club activities and expenses.

Ayrshire breeders gather at Conebella

By Lee Smith

ELVERSON — A group of 175 Ayrshire breeders and just plain folks met at the farm of Charles Gable and family last Saturday to enjoy a little fellowship and examine the dairy operation known as Conebella Farm in West Nantmeal Township in Chester County. Charles Gable lives on the farm with his wife Josie, a son, a daughter and his parents.

"Dairy farmers have not yet learned that our product must be sold," was the comment of Earl Keefer, president of The National Ayrshire Breeders Association. Some of those seated in the dairy machinery shed nodded in agreement.

The crowd was invited to take part in some educational contests and many of them responded. There was a milk tasting contest, presided over by the lovely dairy princess of Chester County, Charlene Rohrer. The object was to guess which breed made the milk. There were a number of breeds of cow milk represented and one sample of goat milk.

Harold Kulp, J. Dodds and Charlie Kulp shared first place honors. When the awards were presented not one person in the crowd would confess to mistaking goat milk for cow milk.

A feed identification contest was won by Roy R. Mentzer with the second place going to Laverne Mentzer.

A third contest was to judge which daughters belonged to which dam; again it was a three way tie between Eugene Kulp, Delphine Martin, and Linda Spickler.

Dairy Judging was next and the participants were to evaluate two groups of four cows, two-year-olds and aged cows, and compare their scores to the judge Peter Morris' findings. In the youth division the

STOP BY THE FIBERDOME BOOTH DURING AG PROGRESS DAYS AND SEE OUR SUPER SPECIAL ON CALF HUTCHES

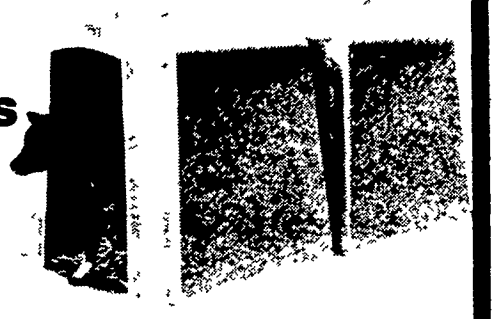
fiberdome CALFhutches start them out right



Raising calves is a tricky business That's why modern calf raisers are going to individual hutches...to help save more calves by cutting down on pneumonia, scours and hoof problems Properly made hutches help eliminate the dampness, crowding and poor ventilation that plague many calf barns.

You can be assured of this kind of healthier environment with Fiberdome CALFhutches. Their unique one-piece construction of heavy gauge fiber glass makes them weatherproof, so they will last indefinitely with normal care No joints for moisture and bacteria to creep through. A white gel-coat finish keeps them cool in summer

When not in use, stakes can be removed and strong U-bolts on top let you conveniently pick units up to clean or stack for compact storage.

Scott Stoltzfus, son of Mr. & Mrs. J. Wilmer Stoltzfus, Elverson, had never shown a champion 4-H hog. He had come close many times, but recently his dream came true. Scott's home-raised 250 lb. Duroc cross barrow was named Grand Champion of Chester and Delaware Counties 4-H Swine Show.

Not only was Stoltztus's named Grand Champion, out Scott himself was named Champion Senior Showman. For his accomplishments, Scott received a trophy donated by Lancaster-Chester County Pork Producers Council for his champion hog. He also received a trophy donated by ABC Groff Inc., New Holland, for his showmanship ability. The following day Hatfield Packing

AGWAY answers your needs

Good silage isn't good enough anymore.

You're looking for ways to keep your milk production costs down. One of the best ways is to get more feeding value from your silage. And you can do that with Sila-bac® brand silage inoculant.

Silage treated with Sila-bac silage inoculant retains more of the total protein, dry matter and energy it has when you put it into your silo. Seepage is greatly reduced. You also have less spoilage and shrinkage.

Even more important is the better digestibility your herd will get from silage treated with Sila-bac silage inoculant. And that means better utilization of each ton of silage fed.

The result is lower feed cost. Every ton of silage you feed goes further. Ask your Pioneer salesman about Sila-bac silage inoculant. He'll help you make your good silage even better.

Co., Hatfield, purchased the Champion for $3.85/lb..

Scott's younger brother Mike, 10 years old, was named reserve Champion Senior Showman by judge Keith Bard, a Spot breeder from Lewistown. The Champion and Reserve Champion Junior Showman was Lois and Alice Bagshaw, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Bagshaw, Gap. The two sisters are identical twins and the judge had a very difficult job choosing between the two showmen. Lois was presented a trophy donated by the West Chester Agway.

Nelson Beam, son of Mr. & Mrs. Omar Beam, Elverson, exhibited the Reserve Champion Barrow and the Reserve Champion Trio. The Duroc crosses were all home-bred barrows. Nelson, last year's Champion Senior Showman, was this year's honorary judge and helped the official judge in the Showmanship Classes. Both the Reserve Champion and Reserve Champion Trio was purchased by Hatfield, paying $2.00/lb. and $1.00/lb., respectively.

Nine-year-old Brian Beam, son of Mr. and Mrs. Titus Beam, Elverson, exhibited the Champion Trio. The pen of three purebred Durocs was bred by Daryl Sheiss, Chambersburg. The 680 lb. pen was purchased by Porkland for $1.50/lb. and Brian was presented with a trophy donated by Nissley Inc.

Champion Senior Showman for Delaware County was Keith Bryan, son of Mr. & Mrs. Bud Bryan and Reserve Champion was Dan DiCamillo. In the Junior competition, Mark Umberger was named Champion Junior Showman and Amy Simasek was the Reserve Champion.

The buyers that turned out for the sale Saturday morning include: Hatfield Packing Com-

Pa. produce dealer ineligible to operate

WASHINGTON, DC. — Charles A. Cesnales, Jr., doing business as City Market in Butler, has become ineligible to operate in the produce industry after failing to pay a reparation award of $10,220 for produce purchased between February and May of 1980.

USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, which licenses produce firms under the Perishable Agricultural Commodities Act, had charged the firm with failing to pay the agreed price to a Pennsylvania wholesaler.

Charles Brader, marketing official with AMS, said the firm had been given an opportunity to answer the charges but had failed to do so. Therefore USDA ordered payment of the amount claimed.

Cesnales is ineligible to conduct business subject to the act until the award is paid and may not be employed by or affiliated with any PACA licensee without USDA approval.

Under PACA, all interstate traders in fresh and frozen fruits and vegetables must be licensed by USDA. USDA is authorized to suspend or revoke a trader's license for violating the act.

Harvesting tobacco beneath blue skies but in shadow of

BY DICK ANGLESTEIN

FETTERVILLE — It was perfect tobacco harvesting weather.

Outside, crystal clear blue skies were marred only by scattered puffy clouds.

A crisp breeze whistled gently through the open slats of the tobacco shed.

The wind's whispers were mixed with two kinds of dull thuds on the wood floor One was the occasional nervous dancing of the shod pair of horses tied off to one of the posts The other was a softer sound made when a loose tobacco leaf fell from the upper parts of the shed, landing heavy stem first on the floor.

The only other sounds was the Dutch dialect chit-chat among the three generations of the Lancaster County farm family hanging the tobacco.

As were many of their neighbors, the family was taking advantage of the ideal sunny, cool weather to spear tobacco.

But their crop, while outwardly resembling hundreds of others, was different. It was being harvested in the shadow of the Narvon mine and in the even deeper shadow of the dump for hazardous wastes proposed for the mine site in Eastern Lancaster County.

Eli Newswanger farms the land closest to the mine and has already been intimately involved in the preliminary jockeying by various interests in the dump proposal.

Eli, his father Aaron and brother Aaron Jr. form a three-man relay team to transfer the tobacco laths from the wagon bed up some 40 feet into the upper reaches of the large shed.

The elder Newswanger hefts the 35-pound laths from the wagon to Eli, perched on the second level of hanging rafters. Up, the tobacco is passed from Eli to the younger Aaron, who's balanced spread-eagle on the fourth tier of rafters. He places the laths just beneath the roof.

The agricultural acrobats walk the rafters as easily as they walk the furrows Eli slides his feet forward and backward on the rafters to get into position. Young Aaron bends lower than his feet to grab the lath and then straightens to bring it over his head for hanging.

Eli's young son scampers barefoot about the shed retrieving the loose leaves that sporadically flop down.

"How are we going to farm without water?"

When it comes to discussing "that dump", Eli's silence is as meaningful as his words.

And his words, with the same strong meaning, can come in two languages – English and his more comfortable Dutch.

"I'm flatly not in favor of it," Eli states in English for the benefit of a reporter who didn't have the foresight to take full advantage of learning his parent's second language.

"My spring is right against their line (the mine property).

"The spring is fed from farther up and in a short time the water would be ruined.

"It supplies the two houses and the barn.

"It has been holding up pretty good. Quite a few around here have dried up this year.

"If it (the wastes) gets into my water, naturally it's going to go farther and get the neighbors.

"How are we going to farm without water?

"You can't afford to buy water for the stock and everything "

A brief respite is taken by the trio as the wagon is inched forward to fill another section of the shed.

Eli recalls his first indication of something being afoot just as if it happened yesterday.

"It was back in March," he said.

"A real estate guy walks in one day and asks if we want to sell the farm.

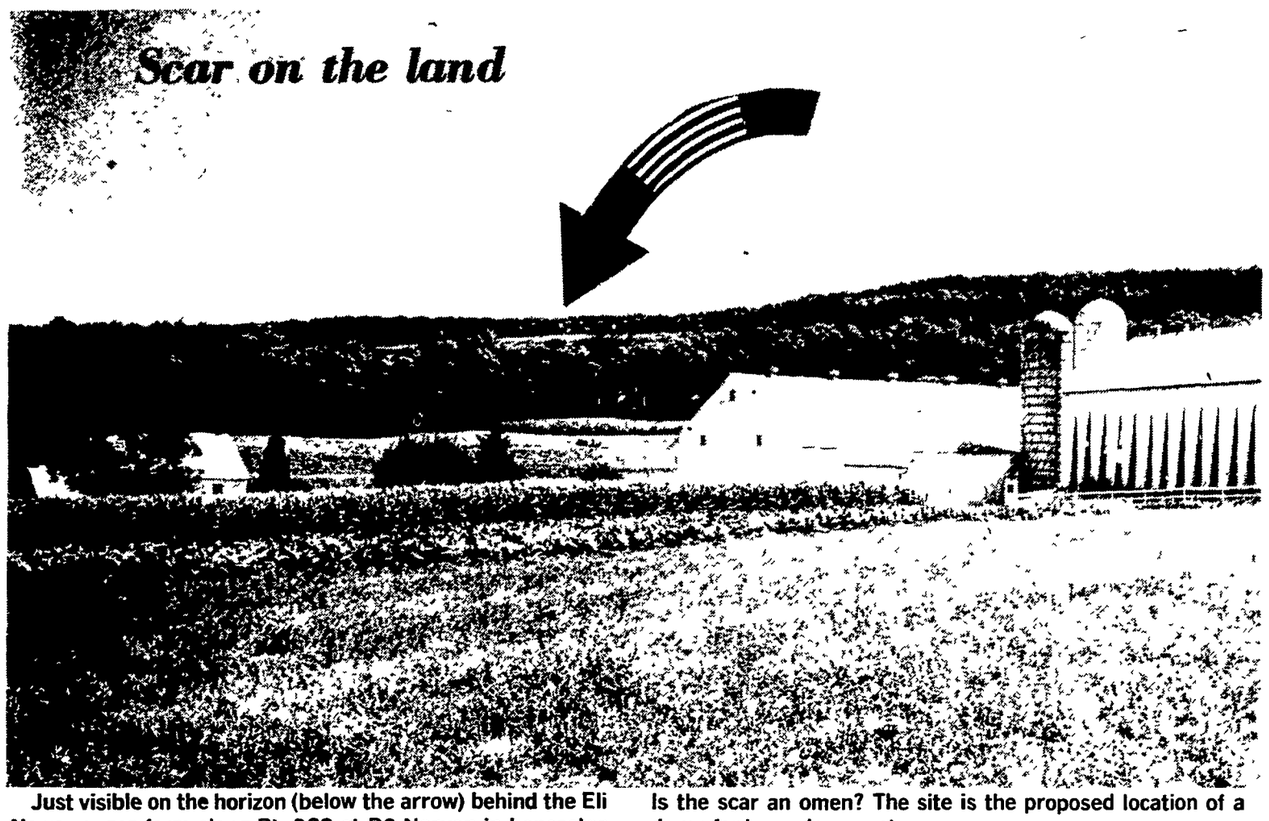
"He came all the way out from Lancaster and I thought it was kinda funny that he'd just walk in that way."

Then a week or so later, another piece of the puzzle fell into place.

"The mine guy came next and asked if we wanted to sell some land for a right-of-way to the mine," Eli explained.

"He said that maybe they wanted to mine some more clay."

Scar on the land



Just visible on the horizon (below the arrow) behind the Eli Newswanger farm along Rt. 322 at R2 Narvon in Lancaster County is a barren strip amidst the trees—the Narvon mine. Is the scar an omen? The site is the proposed location of a dump for hazardous wastes.

"The mine guy came next and asked if we wanted to sell some land for a right-of-way to the mine," Eli explained.

"He said that maybe they wanted to mine some more clay."

(The Newswanger farm provides the only convenient access from Rt. 322 to the mine without crossing anyone else's property.)

"I wasn't going to sell any farmland," Eli said.

"But we have this swamp area

"I threw it right in his face...there's no grounds for any sale."

and I thought I might sell that, if a neighbor that owns an adjacent piece would also agree.

"But then we started to talk among ourselves.

"And we came up with this possible dump.

"When the mine guy came back, I threw it right in his face and he didn't want to hear anything about it.

"Then and there I said there's no grounds for any sale."

The company that actually wants to buy the mine and establish the proposed hazardous waste dump has never contacted Eli. It is keeping a similar low profile in its municipal contacts, too.

Finally, the last of the five-plant laths is hefted to the top of the shed.

The team is rehitched.

"Back, back," Eli commands.

And, it's back down the lane past the two houses dating to the early 19th century, up through a canyon of corn to spear another wagonload of tobacco in the shadow of the hazardous waste dump site.

Members of the Eli Newswanger family proceed up farm lane to harvest another wagonload of tobacco in the shadow of the Narvon Mine - proposed site of a dump for hazardous wastes.

Comment time on fruit, vegetable marketing orders ends Sept. 1

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The public has been given more time to provide comments to a team reviewing federal marketing orders for fruits, vegetables and speciality crops.

The new deadline is Sept. 1

"Some people indicated they needed more time to formulate their comments, so we've extended the earlier deadline by one month," said Richard Heifner, the team leader. Heifner is an economist with the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Marketing Service.

Review of the programs was called for by the President's Task Force on Regulatory Relief, with a goal of eliminating any marketing order regulations that are not needed or that hamper productivity.

Comments should be sent to: Richard Heifner, AMS, 3063-S, USDA, Washington, D.C. 20250. A summary should accompany statements longer than 10 pages.

Woodson Farm takes Black and White honors

LANSDALE — Woodson Yoho Samson Emaliane, the aged cow entry of Roderick Wood, Pennsburg, was named Grand Champion Female and Senior Champion at the Montgomery County Holstein Club Show on Monday.

The 5-year-old champion whose ancestors trace as far back in the Woodson breeding program as 1916, is sired by Winterthur Prince Select Yoho and out of Woodson Samson Bright Emmy.

Bred to Bootmaker, the champion is due to freshen next spring. According to Wood, her present lactation is estimated to be the best. She is expected to finish with 22,550 lbs. milk and 976 lbs. fat.

Wood also took another champion back to his Pennsburg farm on Monday. Woodson Astro Rorae Helena was chosen by judge Sam Acker as Junior Champion.

The senior yearling, owned by Harry Wood, II, is an Astronaut daughter out of Woodson Rorae Yoho Hecuba.

After more than 70 Holsteins were exhibited on the cool summer day, Woodson Farm, a familiar prefix to Holstein breeders, recieved the Premier Exhibitor and Breeder banners.

"We probably have one of the oldest continuous preixes in the state," said Rod Wood.

The prefix dates back to 1912 and the Woods began registering cattle in 1916.

Rod Wood operates the 200-acre farm which provides for 40 registered milking Holsteins. He is assisted by wife Wendy the 1981 Montgomery show chairman, and son Ian, 7, as well as two employees.

Wood explained the Woodson operation, geared toward developing purebred animals, recieves 30 percent of annual income from heifer sales.

Freddy-Hill Farms of Lansdale was also well represented on Monday. Fred Seipt's aged cow E-Bert Complete Softy took home Reserve Champion honors. The 7-year-old Black and White is sired by Paclamar Triune Complete and out of E-Bert Paragon Samson Sally.

The Seipt's VG-88 has a top record of 20,743 lbs. of milk, 868 lbs. of fat and 4.2 percent test.

Judge Acker chose Telford dairyman Michael Halteman's junior heifer as Reserve Junior Champion.

Halteman's Indianvale Marvex Lollipop, a Marvex daughter is out of Indianvale Performer Patty.

Two Telford juniors were also honored. Thomas Halteman was chosen as Youngest Owner-Breeder and Jonathan Keener was named top Junior Showman. Marcia Slater, Perkiomenville, was second best showman at the event.

Goats are added attraction at Kutztown

KUTZTOWN — This year Kutztown Fair had four goat breeds and thirteen youths competing in goat type, showmanship and fitting.

One exhibitor was sixteen-year-old Debbie Price of Douglasville, who also exhibited Guernseys during the dairy cattle show. Debbie proved she knows her goats as well as cows, going home with Champion Alpine, Junior Champion Nubian, and Reserve Champion Nubian honors. With only two years experience, Debbie was selected as reserve champion showman, topped only by Joe Flock of Leesport.

Debbie is an eleventh grade student in the Daniel Boone School District, who became interested in goats "just because I liked them." Presently, she has ten goats which she milks.

The results of the showmanship and fitting classes and champions of the various breeds are:

Willi Wilson, 15, of Mertztown, exhibited the grand champion market hog at the Kutztown Fair. The crossbred Yorkshire weighed 231 pounds.

Jim McCauley, 13, of New Tripoli, showed the reserve grand champion market hog, the second place heavy-heavyweight.

KUTZTOWN — While one Lehigh County resident swept the beef competition at the 1981 Kutztown Fair last week another was waiting to try his luck with the hog shows:

Having shown hogs for five years and beef for four, Wilson was not new to the ring, as his showmanship skills proved. He also was selected as top swine showman and fitter.

The grand champion entry was a Yorkshire crossbred weighing 258 pounds. It was entered in the Heavy-Heavyweight class with two penmates Reserve grand champion also was a heavyweight hog shown by thirteen-year-old Jim McCauley, New Tripoli — covering both bases for Lehigh County. McCauly has been showing hogs for three years. His sister and two brothers also competed in the show.

Seidel completes 4-H dairy showman's career in 'grand' style

BY LAUREL SCHAEFFER
Staff Correspondent

KUTZTOWN — Helen Seidel, 19, of Kutztown was rounding-out her 4-H dairy showing days in fine style as she competed in the 107th Annual Kutztown Fair Dairy Show. Her entries in the Holstein Show placed first in senior calf, second in senior two-year-olds, and first in 4-H four-year-olds.

The four-year-old, Adairland Sue-Ellen was topped only by another four-year-old entered by Keith Buch, Fleetwood. This competitor placed as grand champion, with Helen's cow taking reserve grand champion of the 183 entries of the open show.

The grand champion was Ro-Ru Happy Nodia sired by Harbocrest Happy and out of Ro-Ru Paclamar. The reserve champion, also named grand champion of the 4-H show, was sired by Round Oak Rag Apple. Her dam was Adairland Lucky. She has recorded 16,000 pounds milk and about 700 pounds fat.

Helen also excelled in the Dairy Fitting and Showmanship competition, placing third in showmanship and first in fitting in her age classes. Not new to the show ring by any means, Helen has left her mark in the dairy showing circles. Last year her entries came away from the All-Pennsylvania with two-year-old honors of the Open Show and Junior All-Pennsylvania Two-Year-old. She earned an Honorable Mention at the Junior All-American.

Helen keeps busy working at a local animal hospital and helps out at home after work and weekends. She has twenty-five cows of her own in the family's 65 milking.

The show results, as placed by Judge Jack Ball, Bunker Hill, West Virginia are:

Helen Seidel, 19, wrapped up her 4-H dairy showmanship career by taking the grand championship with her four-year-old, Adairland Sue Ellen. The Kutztown dairywoman went on to show her four-year-old to the reserve grand championship of the Open Holstein Show last week.

Kutztown crowns 4-H Colored Breed 'queens'

KUTZTOWN — Christine Dietrich, 13, of Hamburg led her three-year-old Oakridge Commander's Star to the grand champion honors of the Ayrshire show last week during the annual Kutztown Fair. Having shown for the past five years in 4-H, Christine also had the first place intermediate calf, senior two-year-old, and four-year-old.

Patti Dreisbach, Hamburg, exhibited the grand champion Jersey during the Kutztown Fair. The fifteen-year-old took the top honors with her aged cow, Jersey Acres Q Rhoda.

Another entry shown by this young lady placed second in the Intermediate Calf Class, and took home blue ribbons for Best Udder, Produce of Dam, and Dam and Daughter classes. It was her four-year-old that was named reserve senior champion of the show. Both of Christine's champion cows were sired by Oak Ridge Commander's Star and were out of Miss Daisy May.

Christopher Blatt, Robesonia, showed the first place junior calf and his brother James showed the first place junior two-year-old. Christopher's junior calf was named reserve grand champion of the show. She was a March calf sired by DeAy's Hi Dropkick out of Heindel B. Denise.

This year the Brown Swiss Show of the Kutztown Fair could have been renamed the "Scott Hauseman Dairy Show." Taking all but the Junior Champion honors of the show, this R4 Boyertown resident swept most of the blue ribbons of the show, winning Grand, Reserve Grand and Reserve Junior Champion honors as well.

Scott only settled for the second spot in junior competition behind an intermediate calf, owned by Michael Spayd, R3 Reading, which was named junior champion. It was Scott's senior calf that took the reserve junior honors, out placing his own senior yearling.

Michael Kline, R1 Birdsboro, had the first place junior yearling followed by Tom Galloway, Bechtelsville, and Clark Sattazahn, Womelsdorf. Second place senior yearling was owned by John Lindstrom, Breiningsville.

Scott's brother, Gary, showed his junior two-year-old to first place in its class. He also placed first in Best Udder, and Senior Get-of-Sire. He took red ribbons in Three-Year-Old, Four-Year-Old and Five Years and Older classes, placing behind Scott in each class.

Gary Hauseman also placed third and fourth in Senior Two-Year-Olds and second in Dam and Daughter.

Bob Russell, Boyertown, placed first in Senior Two-Year-Olds, leaving the red ribbon for Scott Hauseman. Other entries of Scott Hauseman placed third and fourth in Five Years and Older, and he had firsts in Best Three Females, Produce of Dam, and Dam and Daughter classes.

Eastern Berks 4-H Club placed first in school or club herd while Oley FFA placed second.

It took some doing, but Richard Hartz, Oley, finally topped the Zollers family at the Kutztown Fair Guernsey Show. Having seen the Zollers' Guernseys take grand champion honors at the show for the past several years, Hartz must have been more than pleased when his three-year-old entry, Foxie Springs Falcons Cotton, was named grand champion.

Reserve grand champion was awarded to a four year old shown by William Zollers Jr., named Lindenhof Bart Olga, sired by Grandview Wistars Bart. The sire of the grand champion was Spring Ridge G. Falcon.

Junior show honors were awarded to Richard Hartz for his junior yearling, Manatawny Fayvor Wanda while reserve junior honors were bestowed upon an intermediate calf named Blue Mt. View Boots, shown by Susan Hollenbach, Bernville.

Fifteen-year-old Patricia Dreisbach, Hamburg, watched as her sister, Carol walked away with Junior Champion and Reserve Junior Champion Honors at the Kutztown Fair Jersey Show. not to be out done, however, Patti returned to sweep the honors during the Senior Show and went on to capture the honors of Grand and Reserve Grand Champions as well.

It was Patti's aged cow, six-year-old Jersey Acres Q Rhoda, sired by S.S. Quicksilver of Fallneva, that captured the highest honors of the show. Scored at Excellent-91, this cow was champion last year at the same show and also at the 1980 Reading Fair. She maintains a record of about 12,000 pounds milk and 500 fat.

Reserve grand champion was a four-year-old named MLF Milestone Pride, sired by Advancer Sleeping. The junior champions shown by Carol Dreisbach are full sisters, a senior yearling sired by Jodys Noble Surville out of Spring Run G.O. named Wilderness Jody Vixen and an intermediate calf named Wilderness Jody Virginia.

The Dreisbachs have a herd of about 70 registered Jerseys, eleven of which belong to Patti. Asked why she is so attached to a particular breed, Patti explained Jersey's are easy to work with and are quiet cows.

Pinesedge Farm, Shoemakersville, showed several members of their unique herd of Milking Shorthorn to champion honors during the dairy shows at the Kutztown Fair. Having representatives in most classes of the show, the Yoders took all champion honors except for the Junior Show where, their daughter, Wendy was awarded champion honors for her senior two-year-old named Honey Creek Caesar's Mary and her aged cow, Clayside Cinderella 6th. These cows were named senior and grand champion and reserve senior and reserve grand champions of the Junior Show, respectively.

In the Open Show, senior and grand champion was a three-year-old named Pinesedge Lady Valentine, sired by Valley View V. Strasburg. Reserve grand and reserve senior champion was Pinesedge Melody, an aged cow sired in 1970 by Pinesedge Apollo.

Junior champion was a junior yearling named Pinesedge Mario's Cantata while the reserve junior champion was a senior yearling, Pinesedge Mario Miss Jill, both sired by Cedar Valley Mario.

The results of the Guernsey and Jersey show are:

Is your goal 50+ bushel soybeans?

Use a UNIPEL® 10-10-30 fertilizer program.

There's no trick to producing 50-60 bushels per acre soybeans It just takes sound fertility planning with a precise soybean fertilizer such as ORTHO UNIPEL 10-10-30

UNIPEL 10-10-30 precisely meets the growing need for more Potash compared to Phosphate in many Midwest soils . as well as soybeans' big appetite for Potash.

Each UNIPEL 10-10-30 fertilizer pellet chemically combines a precise 1-1-3 ratio of quick-acting and long-lasting forms of Nitrogen and Phosphorus . plus plenty of available Potassium for soil and plant needs

UNIPEL pellets are uniform in size, shape and density. They spread evenly. The result—more uniform plant feeding and crop maturity, and improved soybean yields and profits

Shoot for 50+ bushel soybeans this year We've got the ammo—ORTHO UNIPEL 10-10-30 fertilizer

Buck to host invitational pull

EAST PETERSBURG — The Buck Tractor Pull Stadium will be the site of the National AAA Invitational Tractor Pull to be held here on August 28, and 29.

Pullers from all over the United States and Canada will be testing the power of their modified tractors during the two day event.

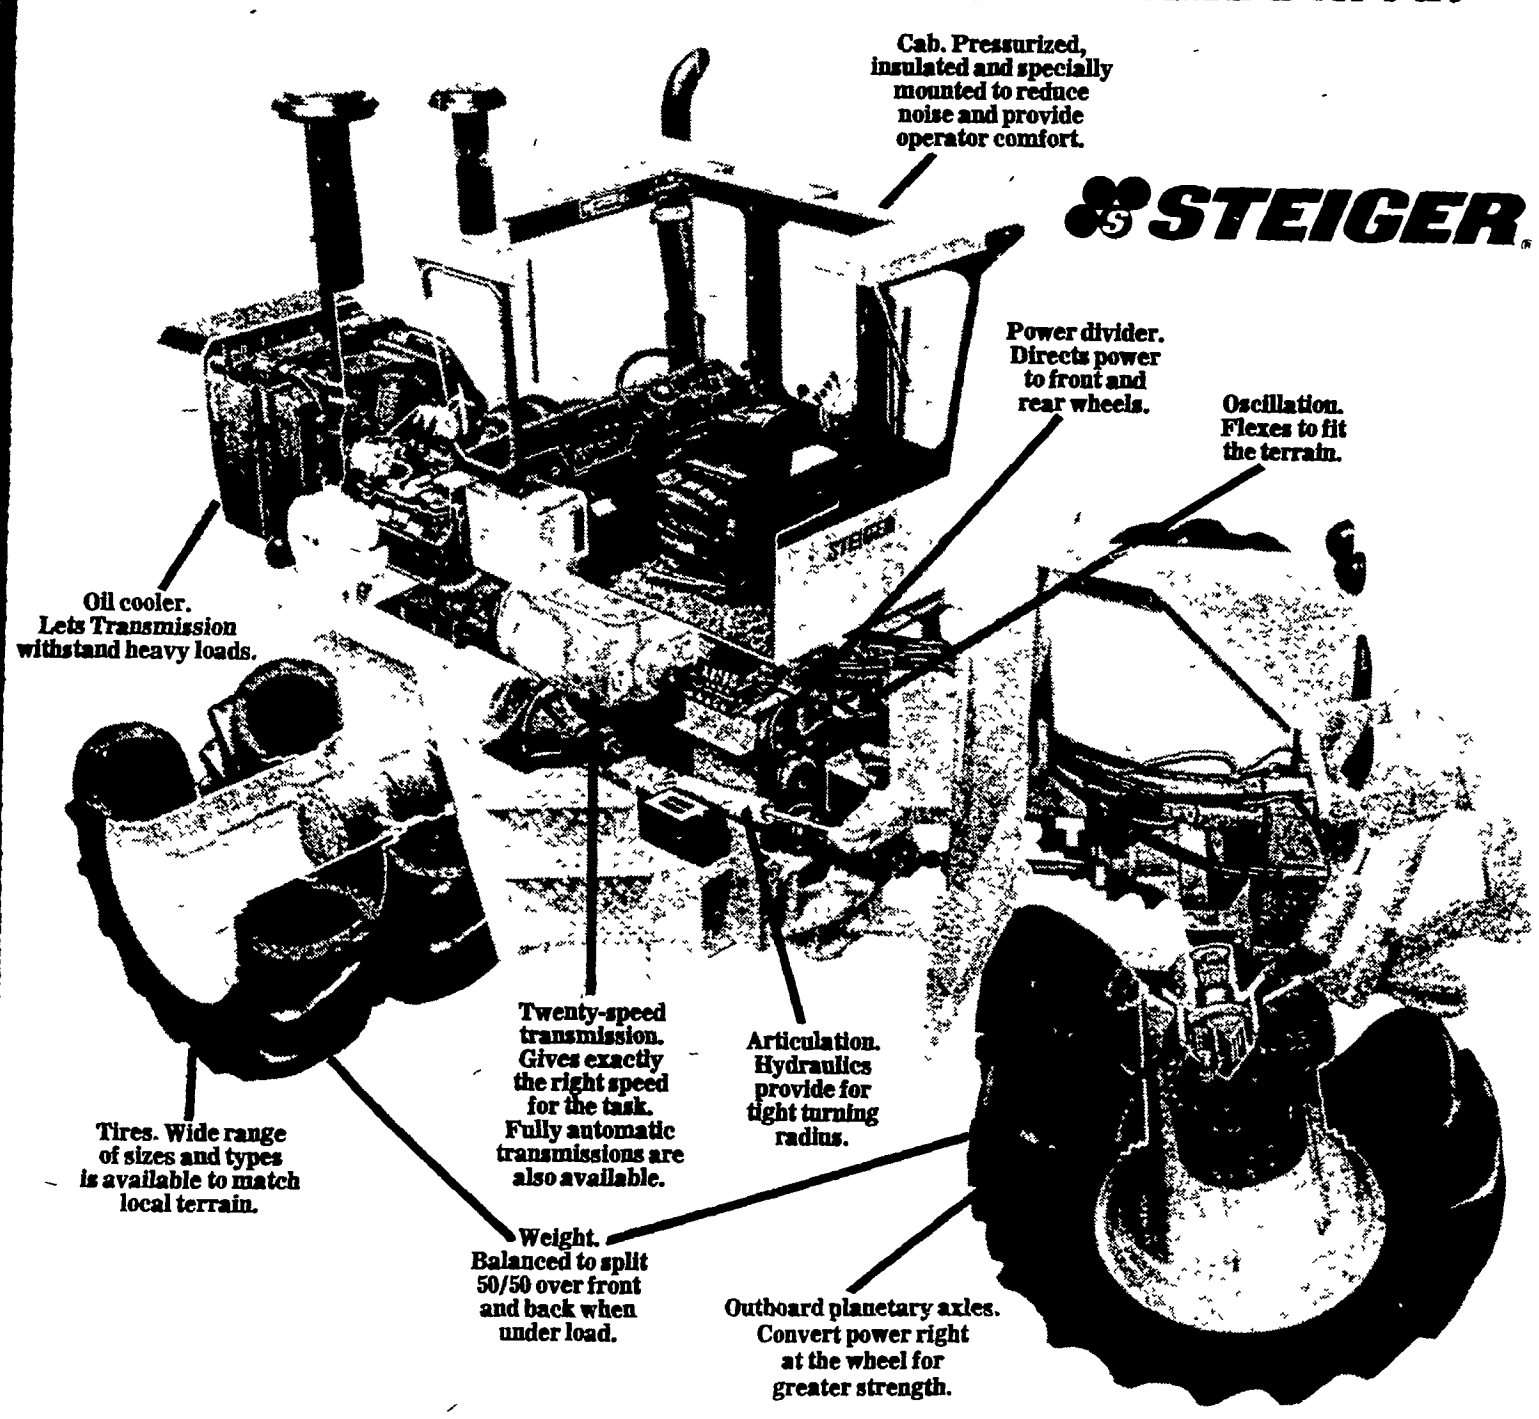
The tractors that will be pulling in this competition will have up to four engines. The engines themselves can be anything from highly modified automotive or tractor engines to supercharged, turbocharged, aircraft, and jet turbine engines are sometimes used.

The Buck Stadium is located a 10 miles south of Lancaster on Route 272. More information about the pull can be obtained from the stadium at Box 218, East Petersburg, PA 17520, Phone; 717/569-3296.

BIG FARM POWER AND EQUIPMENT

COMPARE STEIGER AGAINST THE COMPETITION
at AG PROGRESS DAYS - AUG. 25, 26, 27

WHAT TO LOOK FOR IN A FOUR WHEEL DRIVE:



Cab. Pressurized, insulated and specially mounted to reduce noise and provide operator comfort.
STEIGER
Power divider. Directs power to front and rear wheels.
Oscillation. Flexes to fit the terrain.
Oil cooler. Lets Transmission withstand heavy loads.
Tires. Wide range of sizes and types is available to match local terrain.
Twenty-speed transmission. Gives exactly the right speed for the task. Fully automatic transmissions are also available.
Articulation. Hydraulics provide for tight turning radius.
Weight. Balanced to split 50/50 over front and back when under load.

THE KEYS TO COMPARING 4WD TRACTORS.

Drawbar horsepower. The most basic criterion is how much can it pull as measured in horsepower at the drawbar This is more important than engine horsepower because the drawbar is the working end of the tractor

Cost per drawbar horsepower. This is the real way to measure what you're getting for the money Just divide the cost by the tested drawbar horsepower and you've got a figure you can use to compare all makes and types of tractors

Fuel consumption. How much work can the machine squeeze out of a gallon of diesel fuel? While many people gauge fuel efficiency by gallons per hour this is not the the best measurement The best way amount of work per gallon or more scientifically horsepower hours/gallon

Drive train ratio. Divide the drawbar horsepower by engine horsepower The result expressed as a percentage indicates how much power is actually available to do work at the drawbar

Weight to horsepower Generally speaking the higher the weight to horsepower ratio the more power the tractor will ultimately deliver You might ask why doesn t everyone build them real heavy? The answer the cost of steel But like in everything else you can find quality if you look for it

Noise All manufacturers have a decibel rating on their cabs One Steiger four-wheel-drive has been proven to be as quiet as 75 5 decibels under full power and load That s about as quiet as a pick-up truck A quiet tractor reduces operator fatigue, improves productivity

Krause sisters sweep Kutztown steer show

BY LAUREL SCHAEFFER

KUTZTOWN — With ten years of showing experience behind her, Diane Krause, 18, of Slatington led her champion mediumweight steer to Grand Champion honors last week at the Kutztown Fair Market Steer Show.

Judged by Rodney Gilbert, Delaware Valley College of Science and Agriculture, Diane's steer led the way for her younger sister, Debra 11, to follow. These black steers placed first and second in the light-mediumweight class, took champion mediumweight honors and went on to be unsurpassed as grand and reserve grand champions of the show.

Diane is a recent graduate of Northern Lehigh Area High School and will be attending Penn State in the fall to study animal production.

Having had one terrific week, Diane also was named grand champion showman and fitter in the beef contest. She also was a member of the first place livestock judging team at 4-H State Days at Penn State Campus. All-to-prove it wasn't "just luck" that keeps her in the winner's circle.

This was Diane's sixth year showing beef cattle. The Krauses started an Angus breeding herd five years ago and presently have about thirty cows and calves at home. Diane and Debra are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Krause, Slatington.

The Market Steer Show results are:

Ag arena committee seeks, salutes consignors

UNIVERSITY PARK — The number of animals consigned to the Penn State Ag Arena sale scheduled for December 11 at the Farm Show Complex is on the rise, with the strongest support at the present time coming from the beef industry.

This all-breed sale will include dairy cattle, sheep, and swine as well, with proceeds going to the construction of a 190,000-square-foot facility to be used in holding various student activities and exhibitions, such as the Little International, Dairy Expo, Hort Show, horse shows, FFA and 4-H judging contests, and statewide shows and sales.

"We're hoping people will consign animals to the Ag Arena Benefit Sale and donate 50 percent of the sale price to the arena," says Milford Heddleson, College of Agriculture coordinator of environmental quality affairs and co-chairman of the fund-raising campaign. "Our goal is to have several hundred high quality animals in this sale."

So far, the several-hundred-head goal is still a long way off.

According to William Nichol, co-chairman of the ag arena committee and executive secretary of the Pennsylvania Holstein Association, there has only been one dairy animal consigned to date That animal is a Holstein offered for sale by Obie Snider of Imler, Bedford County. However, Nichol reports his state directors will be signing up more consignments by September.

The sheep breeders also are having a slight hold-up in securing commitments for the sale since there is no statewide mailing list of sheep producers in Pennsylvania. According to Tom Calvert, of the Pa. Sheep and Wool Growers, the sheep committee is trying to "get everything cleared" to send out their appeal for consignments through the Extension service newsletters.

So far, there are only three ovines on the sale register: a Suffolk yearling ewe and a Dorset yearling ewe from Penn State, and a Suffolk ewe lamb consigned by John Kimbark, Manheim, Lancaster County.

The swine producers are having better results, reports Dennis Grumbine, president of the Pa. Swine Breeders Cooperative. There have been 14 breeders who have consigned animals to date

The beef breeders are leading the way, however, with 28 producers consigning one or more head.

The following swine producers have consigned animals:

D. L. Grumbine & Sons, R2 Myerstown, Berkshire - 1 boar, 2 gilts, 1 bred gilt; John Strawbridge, Stewartstown, Hampshire - 1 boar; Rodger Bankert, R3 Hanover, Duroc - 1 boar, 1 gilt; Leon Arnold, R7 Lebanon, Yorkshire - 1 boar, 1 gilt, 1 bred gilt; Charles E. Griest, R1 Abbottstown, Spotted Poland - 1 gilt, Black Poland - 1 gilt; James T. Parlett, R1 Airville, Chester White - 1 boar, 1 gilt; Ed Hildebrand, R2 Biglerville, Chester White - 1 boar, 1 gilt; Larry Arnold, Lebanon, Duroc - 1 gilt; John H. Hinkle, R1 Strasburg, Yorkshire - 2 gilts; Charles B. Hall, R1 Julian, Yorkshire - 2 gilts; Elwood Houser, Lebanon, Yorkshire - 1 gilt; Joel Stern, R2 East Berlin, Yorkshire - 1 boar, 1 gilt; Lazarus Brothers, Whitehall, Yorkshire - 1 boar, 1 gilt, 1 bred gilt, Spotted - 1 boar, 1 gilt, 1 bred gilt, Duroc - 1 boar, 1 gilt, 1 bred gilt; and Harry Bachman, Annville, Berkshire - 1 gilt.

The following beef breeders will be represented:

Limousin - John D. Moore, R3 Newville, Keystone Limousin, 1 bull, 1 heifer.

Angus - Conrad Grove, R1 Downington, Devereux-Soleil Farms, 1 heifer; Gilbert Watts, Bellwood, Logan Spring Farm, 1 heifer; Bob Coleman, Harrisburg, Longmeadow Farms, 1 heifer; William Sweigard & Son, R3 Halifax, Mountain View Acres, 1 heifer; Harry and Nona Stambaugh, Green Pastures Farm, 1 heifer, 1 bull.

Charolais - Ray and Sue Bratton, Bratton Charolais, Mifflin County, 1 bull, 1 heifer; Fletcher Byrom, Micasu Farm, Allegheny County, 2 heifers; Leo Dumont, Dumont Farm, Donstable, Mass., 1 heifer; Fred Mazey, Honey Brook Farm, Princeton, N.J., 1 heifer; Rodger and Mary Mitschelle, Flying M Ranch, Tioga County, 1 heifer; James Wentzel, Sunnyside Farm, Somerset County, 1 heifer.

Chianina - Galen Dreibelbis, Hidden Hollow Farm, Centre County, 2 heifers

Hereford - Terry Shearer, Pigeon Hill Farms, R1 Abbottstown, bull semen; Richard Samders, J & R Farms, Union County, 1 heifer.

Polled Hereford - The following farm owners have agreed to consign animals, the number to be determined at a later date: Dr. Frank Perrone, Chalfont Farm, Greensburg; William Gray, Graystone Farm, R1 Schellsburg; Phil Scott, R2 Gettysburg; Jesse Terry, J.V. Farm, R2 Douglassville; Stockdales Hereford Farm, Dayton; Hunt Hereford Farm, R2 Portersville; Frank Darcey, Jr., Spring Bottom Farms, Fairfield; Lawrence Dodds, Spring Rung Farm, York.

Any other producers interested in consigning animals to the December sale should contact the following people:

Dairy cattle - William Nichol, Pa. Holstein Association, 839 Benner Pike, State College, PA 16801;

Beef cattle - Robert Coleman, Pa. Cattlemen's Association, 4605 North Road, Harrisburg, PA 17109;

Swine - Dennis Grumbine, Pa.Swine Breeders Cooperative, R2 Myerstown, PA 17067; and

Sheep - Tom Calvert, Pa. Cooperative Sheep and Wool Growers, R4 Berlin, PA 15530.

Penn State's Heddleson points out the estimated cost of the Ag Arena is $900,000. About 19 percent of this amount has been raised to date.

behind at about $143 million – only $20 million back.

And had it not been a depressed year for poultry operators, that lead could have beeen completely wiped out and put the egg and broiler operators in the top spot.

Another interesting statistic shows that Lancaster County now has almost half – 46.4 percent to be exact – of all the layers in the state.

"That's enough eggs to feed about 7 million people," Irwin points out.

Lancaster also has more than a third of the state's hogs.

Of course, all the figures add up to the fact that Lancaster County has an even firmer grip on the title as the Number One ag county in the state.

In all major livestock categories, it continues to lead in everything but sheep.

And on the crop side of the ledger, Lancaster continued to show gains, too.

Corn, for grain, is still tops, with silage second. Tobacco is in a close third.

But if the present tobacco harvest cures out well and farmers get a good price this winter, the big-leafed crop could well move into the runnerup spot. There's a lot more tobacco out there this year.

The trend of taking land out of pasture and putting it back into cultivation continued, with the number of tilled acres jumping by about 22,000 from 1979 to 1980. A lot of it went into corn, as well as hay acres that were converted to row crops.

Corn and silage had a combined value of some $68 million in 1980. This should jump considerably this year.

Those ears are a lot bigger and filled out this year as compared to the 1980 drought year. Those plants are a lot taller and have leaves all the way to the ground and should fill silos a lot quicker.

Sizable harvest hikes are expected over last year's avereage of 85.9 bu. of corn to the acre and 15.5 tons of silage.

Last year, the last full year under the retiring Max Smith as extension director, saw Lancaster County agriculture continue to grow.

Max was the first to see it pass the half-billion dollar mark. And, it looks like it won't take long for Jay to help nudge it over the billion-dollar mark.

Dums celebrate 9th with top dairy honors

BY DONNA TOMMELLEO

NEWPORT — According to a 1981 almanac, the ninth wedding anniversery is celebrated with gifts of pottery and willow. Instead, the Thomas Dums,III, of Landisburg commemerated that special day on Wednesday with ribbons, mostly blue, and Premier Exhibitor and Breeder banners.

The Dumbelle Farms couple were among the many exhibitors at a three-in-one dairy show at the Perry County Community Fair Grounds.

The multiple event included the 4-H Dairy Club Roundup, FFA competition and an open dairy show for breeders of Holsteins and color breeds.

Show judge Paul King of Kingway Farms, Delta, chose Dumbelle Peachum Ingrid as Grand Champion All-Breed Cow. The 2-year-old, bred to Elevation, also captured Grand Champion Holstein and Senior Champion awards.

The Grand Champ is sired by Wilbar Pride Admiral Peachum and out of Dumbelle Lift-Off Irene.

The Dum's DA-MS-TD Milu Holliday took home Reserve Junior Champion Holstein honors. The senior yearling is sired by Milu Bety Ivanhoe Chief and out of Holliday Pinonia Bootmaker.

At one point in the competition, five of the Dum's 12 entries qualified for the Senior Champion class. Before the all-day event ended, Dumbelle Farms also earned ribbons for Best Three Females and top Holstein Herd.

Millerstown breeders, Kenneth and Jane Benner also compiled a lenghty list of winners. Their 4-year-old Bootmaker daughter was named Reserve Grand Champion All-Breed Cow.

Santee Bootmaker Stylish also took Reserve Grand and Senior Champion Holstein honors.

In addition, their entries collected Best Udder, Senior Get of Sire, Produce of Dam and Dam-Daughter as well as several individual class awards.

Alrada Elevation Pancake, an Elevation daughter is out of Ha-Ma BDI Governor Pabst-OC-B.

FFA'er Brian Jacobs, Landisburg, exhibited a Kit Builder daughter. His entry was named Reserve Junior All-Breed Champion.

In the color breed competition, Clifton Brubaker's 4-year-old Jersey was named Grand Champion Jersey. The Loysville breeder's Napoleon Peanut Duchess, also the Senior Champion, is sired by Summetz Morgan Napoleon and out of Peerless Nomad Julie Peanut.

Beckys Green Acres Bessie, the Duncannon breeder's senior yearling entry is sired by Green Acres Napoleon Hercules and out of Elaines Becky Irene.

Landisburg breeder, Brian Rock exhibited two Jersey champs. His senior calf, Rocky Run Chocolate Molly was named Junior Reserve Champion. She is sired by Observer Chocolate Santa and out of Rocky Run Superb Louella.

Rock's aged cow entry, Beauty Sunny Brook Lolly Pop was chosen as Reserve Senior Champ. The 6-year-old Jersey is sired by Advancer Sleeping Milestone and out of Sunny Brook Crowning Beauty.

The Brown Swiss competition ended with Sandra Kling's 5-year-old entry on top. The Landisburg exhibitor's Cottage Home Mina Joy Princess was Grand and Senior Champion Swiss. The Champion is sired by Ebenezer Verna's Beau and out of Cottage Home Mina's Joy.

Todd Cauffman, Millerstown, exhibited the Reserve Senior and Grand Champion Swiss. Cauffman's 5-year-old cow GRC Laddie Supreme Bunny is sired by Waveney's Laddie G. and out of Ritterlea Supreme Bunny Sue.

The rolling Tuscarora mountains provided a beautiful setting for the show while the Thomas Dums,III, offered ice cream and anniversary cake to exhibitors and guests.

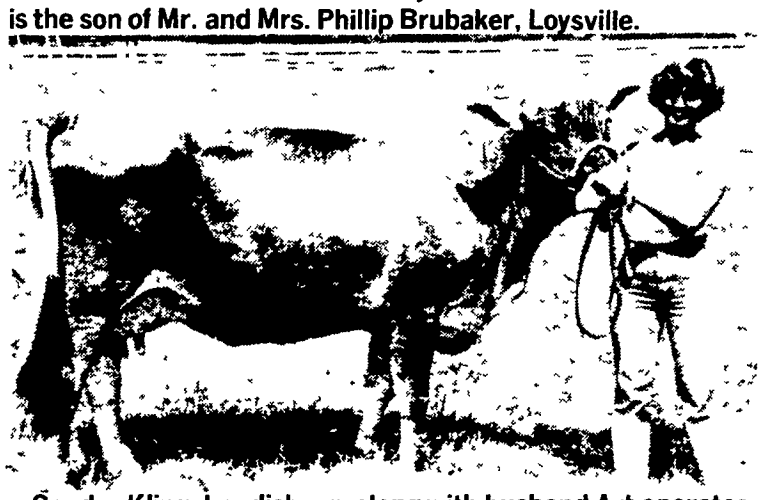
Clifton Brubaker, 13, displays the Grand Champion Jersey at the Perry County Dairy Show on Wednesday. This is the fourth year Brubaker has shown Napoleon Peanut Duchess otherwise known around the barnyard as "Bambi." Brubaker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Brubaker, Loysville.



Sandra Kling, Landisburg, along with husband Art operates a sale barn and sees a lot of cattle come and go. But Kling managed to latch on to this big gentle Swiss long enough to take Grand Champion Brown Swiss honors. The Champ, Cottage Home Mina Joy Princess is a 5-year-old.

Together with three of their four children, Tom and Shayne Dum celebrate their ninth wedding anniversary with top honors at the Perry County Show on Wednesday. Flanked by Perry County Dairy Princess Cheryl Byers and Pennsylvania Holstein Association representative Doug Hershey, far right, the Dum Family includes: Shayne, holding son Thomas IV, 20-months, Sarah, 7, Tom, III, and Emily, 4. Missing from the picture is daughter Meranda, 6.

Burdette entry takes grand honors

BY JOYCE BUPP
Staff Correspondent

CARLISLE — "Windy-Knoll View Kit Jacquelyn," a three-year-old Tiho Kit Builder daughter, entered by James and Nina Burdette, Mercersburg, got judge Obie Snider's nod for the senior and grand championship during last Saturday's Southcentral Championship Holstein show at the Carlisle Fairgrounds.

She puts it all together and is showing more maturity today," praised Snider of the well-balanced young cow with impressive size and scale. He also complimented her for her cleanness, and for her well attached udder, both fore and rear, and named her the best bred and owned animal at the competition.

Still milking in her first lactation, the champion is projected to 17,000 pounds with a 3.8 percent butterfat test. Her second dam was an Ex-91 daughter of the well-known Kingpin.

Pulled into the reserve senior and grand spot was the senior two-year-heifer exhibited by the Robert Kauffman family's Penn Springs Farm, Elizabethtown.

"Penn Springs Milestone Ada," is sired by Poverty-Hollow Milestone. Also in her first lactation, she's projected to 21,000 of milk. Her dam was a VG daughter of Paclamar Astronaut, and the grandam was scored Excellent.

Judge Snider praised the young cow for her stretch and scale and her sharpness, and noted she has a very high and wide rear udder with a strong suspensory ligament.

Delmer Cornman, Mechanicsburg, earned the junior champion honors with his tall and growthy Straight-Pine Elevation Pete senior yearling heifer. it was not the first junior win for "Corlan Farms Pete Penny." She also took the Carlisle Fair competition earlier last week, the Shippensburg show, and the April Pennsylvania Holstein state show at Harrisburg.

Reserve junior champion ribbons went home with Phil and Karen Laughman, Thomasville, for "Philka Marvex Rockman Rhonda." An intermediate class heifer, she's sired by Lawcrest Marvex-Twin.

Le-Ida Farm, of R4 Newville, walked off with a matching set of purple premier breeder and exhibitor banners. It was the first such win in eight years of showing Holsteins for the Leroy and Ida Showaker family.

"I was really shocked," Mrs. Showaker commented later, adding that their operation was truly a family one, where "everyone helps out." With a string of cattle in the show barn, everyone also turned out to help with the show, including their son, four daughters and two sons-in-law.

"Le-Ida Apollo Gac Chuck-Twin," a jr. yrlg. son of Glendell Arlinda Chief, took champion bull honors for Le-Ida Farms. His twin brother, "Charles-Twin," was the reserve champion bull."

The Showakers have been dairying for 29 years and are milking a herd of about 60 head of registered Holsteins, with a herd average of over 15,000 pounds of milk and 580 butterfat. About 190 acres in the operation are cropped in corn and hay for the herd.

Over 150 registered Holsteins were exhibited in the championship show, one of several

Le-Ida Holsteins, the Leroy Showaker family dairy operation at Newville, snagged both the Premier breeder and exhibitor banners as the climax to the Southcentral Championship show. From left are Mrs. Ida Showaker, Leroy, daughter Doris, granddaughter Stacy Cornman, daughters Cindy Showaker and Deb Varner, son Ed, and sons-in-law Greg Varner and Clarence Cornman, Jr.

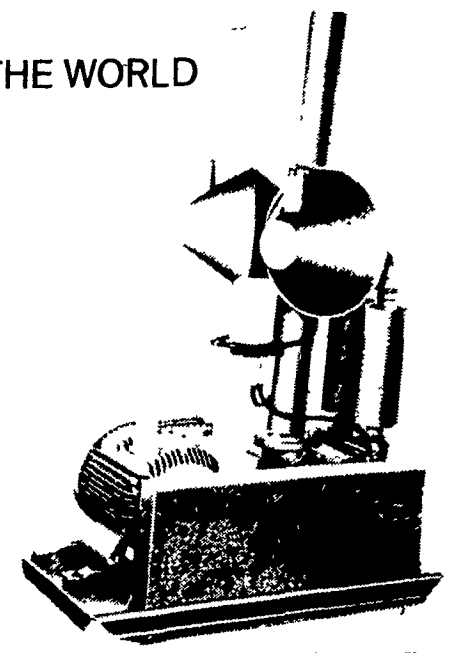
WESTFALIA systemat MILKERS TO THE WORLD

Westfalia is high capacity RPS 2800 Vacuum Pump

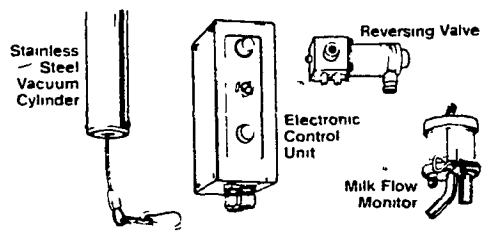
We're talking about high capacity milking with any milking operation And we're talking about uninterrupted vacuum supply up to 100 cfm ASME (2890 1/m) Westfalia Systemat's new RPS 2800 Vacuum Pump System brings you smooth, efficient airflow extra bearing strength positive power transmission with multiple V-belt drive.

An extra big advantage the RPS 2800 takes widely available SAE HD#10 motor oil You've got a choice of 5, 7½ of 10 hp motor for single-or three-phase operation And you can buy only what you need — the pump alone (with or without motor and oil reclaimer) — or the complete RPS 2800 Vacuum Pump System, base-mounted and ready-to-go You just can't beat it

All items made of stainless steel



"With Westfalia ACR it's like having an extra hired hand."

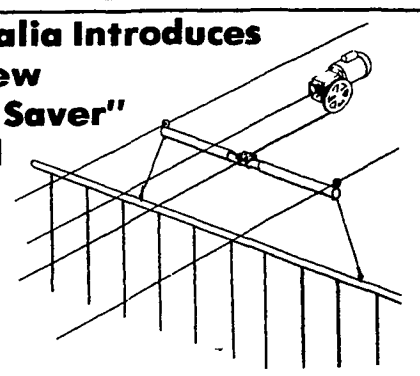


Save up to 50% in man-hours.

The Westfalia Automatic Cluster Remover can save you time and money while minimizing the threat of mastitis

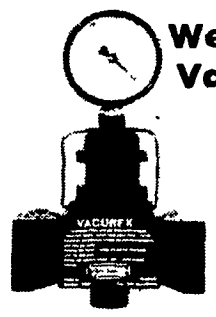
All you do is prepare the udder, switch on the ACR, attach the cluster and that's it The ACR works with any system When milk flow drops off it automatically allows for stripping action to get all the milk Then the ACR shuts off vacuum, pauses and gently detaches the cluster

Westfalia Introduces the New "Time Saver" Crowd Gate



"Effectively Cuts Milking Time by 10%

• Safe• Efficient• Economical• Easy to Install & Operate The new Westfalia "Time Saver" Crowd Gate is the newest in the line of Westfalia dairying equipment Westfalia has combined precision design with a modern effective method of sound and electrical impulses to guide cows into prep stalls and/or milking parlors All cows respond to this proven method of physical response



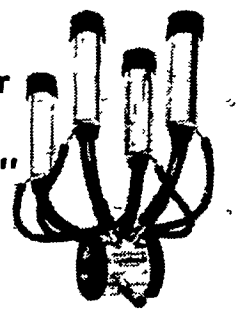
Westfalia Precision Vacuum Regulator

VACUREX 2400

Westfalia's highly sensitive Vacurex vacuum regulator responds in milliseconds to pressure deviations in any milking machine system And it corrects minute changes automatically with servo control accuracy (85 CFM ASME Rating)

Air flow is stablized over a wide range of pressures supplying optimum vacuum to each milker Furthermore, Vacurex is easy to install, easy to adjust, and easy to maintain

"A new superior cluster for precise milkout."



Westfalia Systemat introduces a new milking cluster Designed for clean, fast, GENTLE, milking and minimum machine strip, this cluster will save you labor and money while promoting good udder health

Here is a true collection of efficient technical devices It's all business with large inflation inlets for maximum milk flow, large outlets to take milk away, full visibility claw lets you use it with confidence Special cushion grip allows for easy handling and wide spread inlet for high producing cows

VACUREX 5000

Westfalia's VACUREX 500 gives precise vacuum control automatically, eliminating deviations from your present level The unique, servo controlled VACUREX 5000 covers a wide range of pressures, responds to any vacuum changes and initiates corrective action in milliseconds VACUREX 5000 fits any milking machine system and is easy to install, adjust and maintain winner was Matthew Edwards. In the woman's there was a tie between Sue Kulp and Elsie Wolff. And in the men's division, the winner was Earl Keefer.

With the exception of Ardrossen Farms, Villanova, the Conebella Farm is probably the oldest Ayrshire dairy farm in the state.

Started in the 30's by Charles Gable's father, C. Harold Gable, the operation has grown to its present size. The farm has 198 acres planted mainly in corn and alfalfa.

Conebella Farms has received 23 consecutive breeder awards and has developed 36 cows with over 100,000 pounds of milk, and six of these exceeded 150,000 pounds.

The current DHIA rolling herd average on 61 cows is 13,995 pounds of milk and 596 pounds of fat, with a 4.3 percent test.

On July 27, 1981, nine animals in the herd scored 90 points or better with an official average of 81 points. Conebella Ora Renee scored 94 points.

The free stall heifer barn was built in 1972 and the main barn remodeled in 1980. The main barn is a stall barn equipped with pipeline milkers. The managers are flush with the feed alley and finished with glazed tile.

The managers in the heifer barn are also lined with glazed tile. The 8-feet-wide service alleys are maintained with a barn cleaner. Ventilation provided by four fans was more than adequate and even though all the doors were open a fly was hard to find.

President Keefer made his remarks after lunch after a fine rendition of popular and gospel songs by The Goodwill Barbershop Quartet, a local group.

Keefer said the dairy business was headed for a period of challenge and uncertainty. The population will increase by 1% over the next five years but there will be a greater percentage of senior citizens—low consumers of milk—and a smaller percentage of people under 19 years of age. Therefore the trend will be toward less not more milk consumption per capita.

In 1974 milk was the number one beverage in this country. Today it ranks fourth behind soft drinks, coffee, and beer. The dairy industry invested 21 million dollars in advertising this past year while soft drinks invested 181 million and beer 225 million dollars.

While milk demand is falling he said, milk production is increasing 2½ times faster than cow numbers are decreasing.

"We, today, are not producing for the market place, but for the government". The alternatives for the dairyman he stated is to cull cows, take a close look at the bottom 5 to 7 percent of your herd, step up advertising by from 50 to 100 percent, reduce your debt load to lessen the pressure for poorer quality and higher production.

For the Ayrshire cow to compete successfully in the future it must become larger with good feet and legs, and have an improved ability to convert more milk from larger amounts of roughage and less grain.

Smaller cows which are profitable now will not be able to compete in the future. The export of feed grains and the production of alcohol from corn will make cheap feed a thing of the past.

Doug Dodds, Executive Secretary for the association told the group that, while he didn't have a crystal ball, he felt that cows close to production age would bring a good price in the fall, there would be a soft market for heifers with some time to go. He also mentioned that the forced sale of an Ayrshire herd in Wisconsin averaged $2530 per cow.

Milton Brubaker gave out 41 production awards for the association. 30 were the individual cows and 11 were herd awards. Mielke Heinz for Ardrossan Farms collected 21 certificates.

One of the awards was for top herd in the state which produced an average of 16,784 pounds of milk with 687 pounds of butterfat and a 4 percent test, for the 119-cow operation at the Villanova farm.

USDA quarantines to contain Fla. medfly outbreak

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The U.S. Department of Agriculture has established emergency regulations to restrict movement of 81 kinds of produce and plants from the Tampa, Florida, area to prevent the spread of Mediterranean fruit flies.

According to Assistant Secretary of Agriculture C.W. McMillan, the regulated produce and plants can serve as Medfly hosts.

The quarantined area includes a 48-square-mile area in Hillsborough County, centered in the Ybor City section of Tampa. The area is bounded on the north by Hillsborough Ave. (U.S. Rt. 92), on the east by Williams Road, on the south by a line ½ mile north of state route 676A and on the west by Nebraska Ave.

McMillan said a public hearing to receive comment on the action will be held September 15, at 10 a.m. in the Ybor Room, Curtis Hixon Convention Hall, 600 Ashley Drive, in Tampa.

"This quarantine action, coupled with a parallel action by the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services, is designed to contain the Florida outbreak while we work with the state to eliminate it," said Greg Rohwer of USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service. "Previous outbreaks of the pest in Florida in 1929, 1956, 1962 and 1963 were all elimiated."

Regulated items include tomatoes, peppers, apples, apricots, avocados, some kinds of oranges and lemons, cherries, grapes, grapefruit, mangoes, peaches, pears, and many other kinds of fruits, vegetables, nuts and ornamentals.

"These regulations were mad necessary by the trapping of thre Medflies in a trip in Ybor City an another approximately 1½ mile away," said Rohwer.

Today's action became effectiv as soon as it was signed by agenc officials because of the emergenc nature of the infestation.

The public is invited to testify a the hearing or send writte comments, until October 13, t Regulatory Support Staff, PPC APHIS, USDA, Federal Buildin Hyattsville, Md., 20782.

Details of the action appear i the August 14 Federal Register.

Participating in the ribbon cutting for the official opening and dedication of the new John F. Cope processing plant are, from the left, Pa. Secretary of Agriculture Penrose Hallowell; Mrs. John F. Cope; her son, Thomas L. Cope, company president, who represents the fourth generation of the family in the business; and U.S. Congressman Robert Walker.

40 million ears of corn dedicated

The dedication ribbon admist a sea of Silver Treat sweet corn.

While Thomas L. Cope, president, pays tribute to the cooperative efforts that brought the company back from a disastrous fire of July a year ago, other family members look on. From the left, they are John T. Cope, fifth generation in the family business; Mrs. Thomas Cope; and Mrs. John F. Cope.

Hallowell cites farmer/processor link at Cope rites

BY DICK ANGLESTEIN

RHEEMS — An important multi-faceted agricultural symbol was dedicated in the Lancaster County community of Rheems on Friday, August 14.

For a number of sweet corn growers in a four-state area, it was a symbol of a market for some 40 million ears of their product.

For a pioneering Lancaster County food processing business, it was a symbol of a "phoenix" rising out of the ashes of a disastrous fire.

For the family involved in the business, it was a symbol of the varied cooperation that permitted the resumption of making a unique "Dutch" food product within a year's time.

For Rheems and surrounding area, it was a symbol of the return to employment for a number of residents.

For agriculture in general, it was a symbol of that vital link between farmers, who grow the various raw foodstuffs, and the processing industry, which converts it into the finished edible product for the dinner table.

And it was this latter symbol that State Sec. of Agriculture Penrose Hallowell stressed at the dedication ceremonies for the new processing plant of John F. Cope, Inc., which turns out that unique, tasty dish – dried sweet corn – which no respectable Pennsylvania Dutch cook would leave off the menu for any holiday or other important meal.

Secretary Hollowell said that the new plant was a symbol of the growth and progress in the state's agriculture-agribusiness economy.

"Our farmers and our food processors, like the John Cope Company, do not operate in a vacuum," he noted.

"Without a strong farming sector, many of our food processors would be unable to continue in business. By the same token, if our food manufacturers weren't located here, many of our farmers would be at a competitive disadvantage.

"This is important to Pennsylvania consumers as well, because the relationships between our farmers and food processors hold down the costs of food products by reducing the costs of transportation and energy."

Hallowell explained that the state's 62,000 farm families help support 15,575 food manufacturing establishments with annual sales of $9.7 billion. The industry employs 98,000 Pennsylvanians with a payroll of $1.23 billion, and accounts for 30 percent of the total real value added by all Northeastern U.S. food manufacturers.

The new Cope plant presently makes about four million pounds of sweet corn products.

This translates into about 40 million ears of corn which arrive from late July to the end of September at the Rheems plant from about 50 growers scattered throughout Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York and Maryland.

The plant's new production line handles 12 tons of raw sweet corn per hour and is capable of processing up to 18 tons an hour.

Established in 1900, the Cope Company is the second largest corn processor in the state.

The company's famous dried sweet corn is distributed worldwide. Other products include frozen corn, popcorn, dried squash seeds and dried green beans.

Among new products for the future is sweet corn powder for use in soups and sauces.

Purina announces Lancaster Chow plant

ST. LOUIS, MO. — Ralston Purina Company announced today that it has purchased approximately eight acres of property in East Hempfield Township in Lancaster County for the purpose of constructing a new Chow feed manufacturing facility.

The announcement was made by W.M. Jones, group vice president and director of the company's Chow division.

According to Jones, "the new facility will employ approximately 15 people and will produce Purina Chow feed products for livestock and poultry Our new plant will service independent Purina dealers in the immediate Lancaster area, including the southeastern portion of Pennsylvania."

The new production facility will be a multi-million dollar project with an initial plant capacity of 150,000 tons of Chow feed products per year. Construction is scheduled to begin immediately and start-up planned for November 1982.

Ralston Purina Company is a broadly based food and feed company with sales of 4.9 billion during its last fiscal year. As the world's largest producers of commercial feeds for livestock and poultry, Ralston Purina has over 120 manufacturing plants in the United State and 11 foreign countries

Ellien joins Dean Witter

LANCASTER — Robert Lindon, research director, announced that June Ellien joined the Dean Witter Reynolds Commodity Division as a grains analyst recently. Ellien is a fundamental analyst and will be concentrating on the wheat and corn markets.

Ellien comes to DWR from Gill & Duffus, an international trading group. Prior to Gill & Duffus, she was with E.F. Hutton. She is a member of the Chicago Agriculture Economics Club and the Research Division of the Futures Industry Association.

Dean Witter Reynolds, Inc. is a member of all major U.S. stock and Commodity exchanges. The company has branch offices in all 50 states and in many overseas locations. Senior vice-president, Arthur R. Marcus, a member of Dean Witter Reynolds' board of directors, is head of the Commodity Division based in Chicago.

Extension offers free home maintenance publications

NEWARK, Del. — Not every vacation brings ocean breezes or trips to exotic lands. Sometimes summer vacation is a time for paint-up and fix-up around the house.

If this is your time to catch up on home repairs, the University of Delaware Cooperative Extension Service has some free publications that can help. One new series that may be of interest explains the various aspects of wood finishing.

Extension Publication #132 goes into Finishing Exterior Plywood, Hardboard, and Particleboard, starting with care and preparation before construction.

Extension Publication #133 discusses Paint Failure Problems and Their Cure. Moisture problems are covered, as are blistering, peeling and cracking.

Discoloration of Housepaint — Causes and Cures is the subject of Extension Publication #134. The booklet explains how to deal with paint discolored by mildew, blue stain, iron stain, chalking, or brown stain over knots.

Extension Publication #135 discusses the Selection and Application of Exterior Finishes for Wood. It explains the various types of wood one might encounter, from fiberboard to lumber, and the kinds of paints and stains that are suitable for each.

To learn more about Finishing and Maintaining Wood Floors, ask for Extension Publication #136. The publication explains how to prepare the surface and how to select and apply a finish.

The Extension Service offers many other free publications about home repair and maintenance, including several others about wood.

Wood Decay in Houses — How to Prevent It and Control It, USDA Bulletin #73, describes causes of damage and safeguards that may be taken. Diagrams show proper building practices to avoid wood decay.

USDA Bulletin #203, Wood Siding, explains how to install, finish, and maintain wood siding.

Painting Inside and Out explains proper surface preparation, how to plaster, paint selection and application tips, and some common reasons for paint failure. Ask for USDA Bulletin #222.

One common reason for paint failure is excessive moisture. This is especially true of basements. USDA Bulletin #115, entitled Making Basements Dry, describes the causes of wet basements, methods of correcting the situation, and ways to avoid the problem in new construction.

Find out what to do about leaky faucets, frozen water pipes and the like with USDA Bulletin #2202, Simple Plumbing Repairs for the Home and Farmstead.

Mildew is an all too common problem in our local climate. To learn How to Prevent and Remove Mildew, ask for USDA Bulletin #68.

AFBF travels to Mexico to talk ag exports

PARK RIDGE, Il. — A delegation of U.S. farm leaders led by Robert B. Delano, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, go to Mexico next week to explore possibilities of expanding agricultural exports to that nation.

Accompanying Delano will be Cecil Miller Jr., AFBF vice president and president, Arizona Farm Bureau; Carrol Chaloupka, president, Texas Farm Bureau; and Fred Heringer, president, California Farm Bureau. All are members of the AFBF board of directors. Glenn Tussey, AFBF staff specialist in international trade will coordinate delegate activities.

After conferring with Mexican and American agricultural, trade and government representatives in Mexico City, the group will travel to the state of Michoacan, a fertile and productive agricultural region west of Mexico City.

In Michoacan, the Farm Bureau team will visit agricultural, production, packing and trade areas and meet with processors, traders and farm organization officials. Stops are scheduled at farms producing a variety of commodities, including rice, cotton, avocados, citrus fruits and horticultural crops.

In announcing the tour, Delano noted that Mexico has become an increasingly important trading partner for U.S. agricultural commodities. In 1980, Mexico purchased two and one-half billion dollars worth of U.S. agricultural crops — primarily corn, sorghum, wheat and oilseeds — making Mexico the world's third largest customer for American agricultural exports.

During the same year, the U.S. purchased about $1.2 billion in agricultural commodities from Mexico, chiefly vegetables, coffee and livestock.

Delano said the Mexican visit is an extension of Farm Bureau's long established policy of export promotion.

"With an expanding population and substantial revenue from petroleum, Mexico has both the need for increased quantities of agricultural imports and the means to pay cash for them. U.S. farmers and ranchers have a locational advantage in supplying this growing cash market," Delano said.

Franklin Co. land survey progresses

CHAMBERSBURG — "The work on the National Resources Inventory is progressing well", says Charles Worrilow, soil conservationist with the Chambersburg field office of the USDA Soil Conservation Service.

"All the field work is done, except for some spot checking of a percentage of the blocks", reports Worrilow.

Work on the inventory has been going on for about a year in Franklin County. There are 303 sample blocks of 108 acres each. Information gathered in these blocks will give an indication of how much cropland, pastureland, and forest land is being lost to urban sprawl.

"When we finish checking the information, it will be sent out for computer analysis. The results can then be used by planners from the Franklin County Conservation District.

NEW!! Hydraulic Folding Wing Pulverizers

Brillion has been the leading manufacturer of pulverizers for many years The latest units to be added to the line include a series of hydraulic wing models in working widths of 21', 23' and 25' that fold to 12'6". A second series in working widths of 26'8", 30'8" and 32'8" fold to a transport width of 14'2"

The new design requires a single hydraulic system for operation. The machine can be raised and lowered and wings controlled from the tractor seat. May be ordered with regular smooth rollers or Crowfoot wheels.

Now you can cover more acreage, faster. Break up hard clods, pack soil free of air pockets Help cover seed, hold moisture, push down stones Husky and durable, like all Brillion pulverizers, they're built to take the punishment of today's high speed farming.

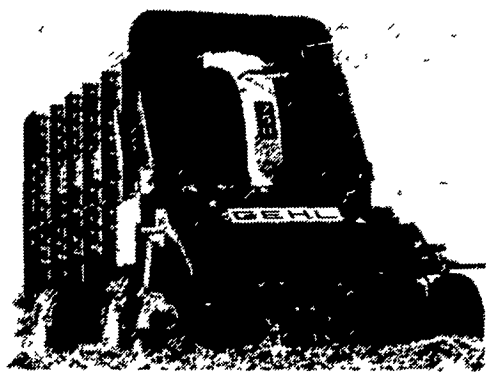
GEHL - A CUT ABOVE THE REST



750 forage harvester

Here s a mid range performer at an economical price designed for use with tractors from 70 to 120 hp 540 and 1000 rpm drives available You get direct feed flow from the cylinder into the blower the cylinder is actually set into the blower compartment speeding material flow Eight heavy tungsten carbide faced knives at 800 rpm give 6 400 cuts per minute Attachments include 1 and 2 row corn heads hay pickups or mower bar Knife sharpener is just one of the many options available

1000 forage harvester

The 1000 features Gehl s exclusive spinner delivery system giving you high capacity in a heavy duty forage harvester With no cross augers to plug you get continual flow of material from the large 21' cylinder into the off set 36" blower Standard features include the in head hydraulic knife sharpener positive down stop for total attachment operating height control one way shear bolt protection, and a wide choice of attachments The 1000 is designed for efficient operation with tractors from 80 to 170 hp 540 or 1000 rpm drives available

All This Equipment Has FREE FINANCE Till May 1, 1982 No Interest or Payments, only a Small Down Payment.

disc mowers

Whether it s down and tangled alfalfa, matted grasses or crops heavy with dew or fresh rain these mowers will cut them Both the 5 6" unit or the 7'10" mower feature heavy duty cutting discs with three specially tempered reversible knives on each disc to give a clean cut Because of the high speed cutting action of these mowers cutting time can be reduced — you can cut your crop at ground speeds as fast as the operator can comfortably operate the tractor

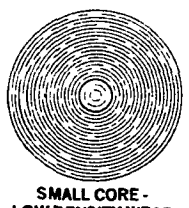
For making large round bales in the 2000 lb plus category the 1850 is your baler It makes bales that are a full 6 feet in diameter and 61 inches wide It s truly the heavyweight among round balers

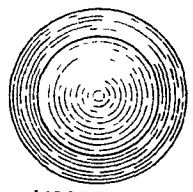
1450
The 1450 is the perfect partner for custom operators making bales in the 1000-pound range that are 5 feet in diameter and 45" wide allowing bales to be stacked two-wide on a trailer

SMALL CORE HIGH DENSITY WRAP



SMALL CORE - LOW DENSITY WRAP

LARGE CORE - HIGH DENSITY WRAP

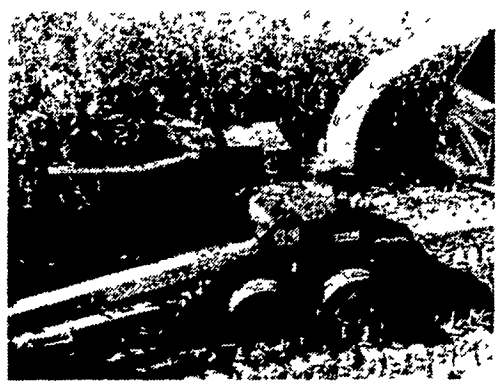


LARGE CORE - LOW DENSITY WRAP

"air-draulics" The Simple System

Air pressure controls the formation of the bale core The actual size of the bale core is determined by the placement of an easily adjustable hydraulic triggering mechanism Once this trigger is activated, hydraulic pressure takes over to control bale wrap The hydraulic pressure maintains constant belt tension on the bale Lower the pressure for less densely wrapped bales increase it to get densely wrapped bales

Either way you ll get uniformly shaped bales that will stand up to weather, retain valuable nutrients



1250 forage harvester

This is the capacity giant a heavy duty forage harvester designed to handle tractors up to 250 hp, with capacity at lower levels as well! Giant 25½" cutting cylinder and nine knives make short work of big jobs Unique 6 paddle, 24" spinner delivery system keeps crop moving from cylinder to trailing box New one side cutterbar adjustment—the easiest adjustment system available anywhere—is standard Crop attachments include 2 and 3 row corn heads 6 hay pickup snapper head water tank and swinging auger feeder for high moisture corn self-unloading boxes

Gehl's self unloading forage boxes provide you the round trip speed you need to keep harvests moving Choose from the top-of the line 940 to the-economical 640 All may be equipped with varied combinations of beaters and roofs The 940 features multiple unloading speeds forward and rear unloading option Safety bars and ropes are standard on all Gehl boxes Options include unloading trough extensions for bunk or fenceline feeding

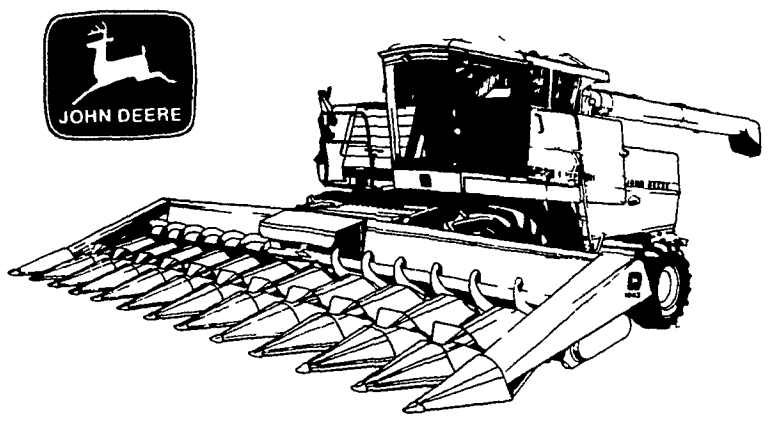
COMBINE DEMONSTRATION



Discover for yourself that John Deere Titan Combines continue to be the most productive harvesters of crops grown in this area.

Check out, in the field, such unique advantages as feeder house reverser, on-the-go adjustment of concave, hydraulic control of cylinder speed, Sound-Gard® styled cab, and much more.

Discuss with our combine specialists the specs and price on a Titan Combine with header equipment to handle your crops.

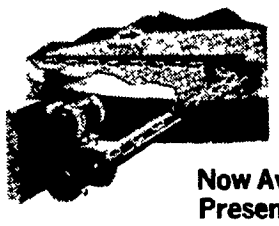
SPECIAL CONVERSION MODEL LAIDIG 43 JR.



LAIDIG Best name in BOTTOM UNLOADERS

Now Available For Your Present Glass Fused to Steel Silo.

We will be accepting Sealed Bids on one of these models at Ag Progress Days.

Convert your gravity flow or chain type unloader to the new Laidig Jr., specifically designed to adapt to the trough of your existing silo.

★ Special price for early order. This unloader can be installed whenever your grain structure gets empty later this year.

Place your order now to take advantage of this special price.

Note: This unloader requires no changes to switch from shelled corn to ground ear corn, this requires only a 3 HP motor.

THIS IS NOT A NEW PRODUCT... THE LAIDIG HAS HAD MANY YEARS OF RELIABLE FIELD EXPERIENCE

GUNITE Silo Relining & Repairs

Extensive tests have been conducted on Gunite Below are some of the properties of Gunite

1. Excellent bonding
2. High Density
3. Extreme strength and hardness
4. High resistance to absorption

The excellent physical properties of the material are due to the water content being only the amount needed to satisfy chemical hydration

Reseal and re strengthen your silo with Gunite

Re: House bill #1483
Printer's #1723

Fellow Pennsylvanians:

House bill 1483 is a dangerous infringement on the FREEDOM and PROPERTY RIGHTS of all citizens of the Commonwealth. You should request a free copy from your representative.

HB 1483 provides for another TAX on your right to drink water from your own well or spring. Page 40 line 10

HB 1483 confiscates your rights to all water on your own land. The bill says;

The water resources of this Commonwealth are public natural resources held in trust by the Commonwealth for the benefit of all the people. Page 7 line 18

Fellow American, that is right out of the Communist manifesto. That is the doctrine of HILTER-MARX-CASTRO-MAO...IT IS NOT A PART OF THE BILL OF RIGHTS or of THE UNITED STATES CONSTITUTION or THE CONSTITUTION OF THIS COMMONWEALTH. It is not the doctrine of WASHINGTON, JEFFERSON.

While you read this sentence someone is dying trying to escape the tyrany proposed for all Pennsylvanians by HB 1483.

HB 1483 provides the right of EMINENT DOMAIN for not only a bureaucracy of the Commonwealth but for certain public utilities-the right to CONFISCATE the water from your well, even after you paid for a permit. Page 36 Line 1-17

HB 1483 provides that you MUST permit AGENTS of the department to ENTER and EXAMINE ANY PROPERTY (your home)- you must GIVE THE AGENTS free and unrestricted ENTRY and ACCESS. P42.

I am not suggesting that those members of the House who introduced HB 1483 are communists or communist agents. I am suggesting that they have not read the language of the bill. I am suggesting that every member of the House examine the bill and the effects it will have on the FREEDOM of ALL PENNSYLVANIANS. NO ONE CAN SUPPORT THE CONSTITUTION AND THIS LEGISLATION.

The bill was introduced by

INTRODUCED BY BITTLE, KOWALYSHYN, GEIST, LASHINGER, NOYE, BURD, GANNON, CESSAR, COLE, CAPPABIANCA, WASS, MICHLOVIC, STEIGHNER, STEWART, LETTERMAN, GREENWOOD, ITKIN, KANUCK, McCALL, J.L. WRIGHT, SNYDER, GRUPPO, SIEMINSKI, ARTY, GLADECK, DAVIES, MANMILLER, BOYES, REBER, NAHILL, SWIFT, BURNS, BELFANTI, RYBAK, W.W. FOSTER, ZWIKL, HEISER, MOEHLMANN, SIRIANNI, SAURMAN, CORNELL AND HAGARTY, JUNE 2, 1981

Only you can preserve your FREEDOM. Please write your Representative. Copies of the bill are free from your legislator. Please contact me if you need additional information.

Sincerely,

Andrew J. Watson

Farm wives talk on their differing roles

BY SALLY BAIR
Staff Correspondent

Managing a modern farming operation takes a combination of intelligence, drive, determination and faith. In many operations the most valuable asset is the farm wife — that rare combination of homemaker, mother, tractor-driver, egg-gatherer, cow-milker, gardener and go-fer. Her support and help are an invaluable contribution to the success of the farm.

But what is right for one woman may not work for another and each farm wife must find her own place in the enterprise if the marriage and the farming business are to be happy.

At the recent Pennsylvania Association of Farmer Cooperatives' Co-op Couples Conference, three Pennsylvania farm wives shared their feelings and discussed the way they support the farming operations of which they are a part. Each of these women is fully involved in her husband's work, but each has a different responsibility.

To Janice Burkholder, involvement in her husband's partnership with his father means keeping records. Having worked as a secretary, she feels recordkeeping not only keeps her in touch with her previous career but is also an invaluable aid in their farming operation.

Janice's records, however, do not just include bills, milk checks, calf registrations and other expenditures involved with the farm. She also keeps a complete budget for both the farm and her household, and she knows exactly where every penny is spent. She admits, "I thrive on paper work. I love to know where the money goes."

Her husband, Stan, is a Franklin County dairy farmer and together with his father, farms over 400 acres and milks 125 dairy cows which average 19,300 pounds of milk and 690 pounds of fat.

While her father-in-law had previously kept all farm records, Janice states, "We gradually took over the bookwork so we know what's going on. Most major decisions my father-in-law lets up to us."

Janice writes all the checks for the partnership but they are signed by either her husband or father-in-law so that they see what's going out or coming in. She points out that since partnerships are not eligible for the NOW banking accounts they keep their checking account balance as low as possible. She said her family feels some of the easiest earned money is paying bills on time so as not to be faced with interest payments. They also keep a close watch on interest rates at the bank and on money market certificates.

Another of Janice's specific jobs is to write the numbers for brucellosis testing and for classification. She also takes care of calf registration, saying, "My husband feels it saves him a lot of hours."

Above and beyond the usual bookwork, Janice also figures a monthly budget and estimates what kind of income they can expect. This includes trying to estimate how many cows may be culled (using DHIA records as a guide), and whether there will be any major machinery investments needed. "We try to figure out the milk price and see how much short or how much left over there will be," Janice states.

In addition to farm records, Janice says, "I make up a cash flow for personal expenses, and we each draw a check from the partnership once a month." In her expense book she records every penny spent according to categories she has established, such as car, clothing, tithes, recreation and others. At the end of each month she totals the expenditures and compares it with previous months. "It's a good way to keep expenses down," she says. "Every time I come home from shopping I get out my budget book."

While some may find this a drudgery, for Janice it is a joy and she likes working hard at the records. She feels she is doing an important job. "It makes me feel like I'm really helping more."

The Burkholders are active in dairy promotion and in the Holstein Club. Janice adds, "We believe in the spiritual development of the family and are active in the Church Sunday School and youth group." They have two children, ages 5 and 7.

Janice concluded, "I thoroughly enjoy being part of the farm. I'm proud of Stan. He refers to me as his own personal secretary."

Eileen Green is an integral part of her family's dairy and poultry operation in Bradford County. Her husband Gary and his brother have had a partnership for five years, with 42 registered Holsteins and 12,000 laying hens.

Eileen says, "I don't get too involved in the barn unless his brother is away. I don't know how to milk." She does know how to feed and do other chores when needed.

"I work mostly in the poultry house," Eileen says. The Greens get about 11,000 eggs in peak times, and they are gathered by hand on flats of 30 eggs each. Another adult and two children work with Eileen and she estimates, "It takes about an hour daily. "It is not hard."

In addition to the physical labor of gathering eggs, Eileen is responsible for all the bookwork, including the writing of all the checks. She says she enjoys this work, and it should be a natural since she also works three days a week in a bank, from 8:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. She says, "The hours are convenient."

Eileen and Gary had lived off the farm for seven years before going into the partnership with his brother. She readily admits, "It takes a lot of adjusting." She said it was a real shock to get $2,000 feed bills, and despite substantial backing from her father-in-law, there was a "terrible debt load."

Nevertheless, having lived both on and off the farm with a young family, Eileen says, "Farm life is a great life for kids. They have a lot more respect for people." The Greens have two daughters, 14 and 7.

Both partners in the Green operation have their own outside activities, with one brother being active in Dairy Herd Improvement and the other in cooperatives. Eileen says, "They both have an equal amount of time. Being in a partnership is a big help because we can cover for each other."

Eileen said she feels a positive attitude is important in a successful operation, keeping the attitude that it will work for you. She is especially appreciative of opportunities which get young farm couples together, saying, "It is helpful because you think you are the only one with all the problems. It is good to share experiences and learn about other set-ups.

She adds, "I feel the wife should be involved even if she works off the farm and whether or not she does chores. She should know what's going on."

Jane Benner is a full time working partner with her husband Ken in their 60 cow dairy herd in Perry County. Jane, who is a soft-spoken southerner from Virginia, was raised on a dairy farm there and studied dairy science at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University.

Jane milks the cows with Ken, feeds the calves on her own and can be found just as much in the field as in their home. She wants it that way, and says of Ken, "I appreciate my husband's healthy attitude toward my participation." She also does the bookkeeping for the operation.

Jane is optimistic about young people going into farming, something she and Ken did on their own 10 years ago. She acknowledges the difficult times, but advises, "The sooner you get on your own the better off you will be. Then you can work together as a family. It worked for us. You must have the guts to do it."

She is a firm believer in getting experience by working for someone away from home before going into farming, however. She says it gives young people the opportunity to prove their integrity and to show that they can meet their financial obligations. It also gives them time to come up with a realistic management plan.

In any family arrangement, Jane says, "You must be 100 percent sure it's going to work, and you must make sure a family deal will be fair. A farmer will lose his most valuable resource - his wife - if the family deal doesn't work out."

She added, "If you start out with your wife with you, you will have a better chance." She feels strongly that farm wives should be allowed to help make decisions, from the biggest to the smallest, and then they, too, will share worries about the weather, milk surplus and the bugs on the alfalfa. They will share the joys of accomplishments and face the crisis together.

"Husbands who consider their wives as smart as they are have an excellent chance of having a wife there helping them. She'll be a wife who has faith in her husband."

To the wives, she points out, "You're just as responsible for the debt. When you see a man and wife working together it's a sure sign of management."

Jane credits much of their success to a hired man who has been with them for eight years. "We give him a lot of credit for the success we've had. We try to consider him one of us."

Calf feeding for Jane is a joy, not a chore. She says, "They depend on me, and feeding them takes all the worries out of my day. I know the calves and their personalities and I can sense when one is not well. They are my pride and joy." Her attitude is reflected in the fact that they have lost just two calves since 1973.

Last year, Jane was selected to be a young couple representative on the Board of Directors of the Maryland-Virginia Milk Cooperative. "I attended all the board meetings," she says, "I will miss it now."

The Benners have a 12-year-old daughter who "grew up in the feed cart and on the tricycle in the gutter," who knows all the cows by heart. "We've never tried to keep anything from her - she knew when we were going through hard times. She's learned how to be happy by herself, and we're real proud of her."

With their daughter in 4-H and other involvements in the community, Jane says they have a full life away from the farm. She adds, "We don't feel we are being left out. We're happy doing what we're doing."

Wheeling Channeldrain

hot-dip aluminum-zinc alloy coating delivers twice the life of galvanized... at no extra cost...with a 20-year warranty.

Farm building professionals agree: Wheeling Channeldrain roofing and siding panels give you a dollar-tight, weather-tight building.

- Extra-wide 38" panels mean fewer panels and fasteners, save material costs.
- Patented drain channels run water off.
- Wide panel overlaps assure leak-proof joints.

Good resistance to standing water

Unpainted or prepainted, Galvalume looks great.

Best benefits of aluminum and zinc.

Galvalume fights coorosion with a vengeance.

Excellent reflectivity to heat

In comparison tests, Galvalume sheet steel was found to have heat reflectivity equivalent to aluminum-coated, type 2. And both proved superior to galvanized.

Warranted for 20 years

More good news: when specified as roofing or siding, Galvalume is warranted, under exposure to normal atmospheric conditions, for a period of twenty years against rupture, perforation, or structural failure.

The price is right

All told, Galvalume delivers unbeatable quality and performance...at an unbeatable price.

HOW TO TAKE CARE OF MEAT AND POULTRY PRODUCTS

There are hundreds of meat and poultry products available today in a variety of convenient forms — canned, frozen, fresh, processed and now even freeze-dried. In order to enjoy these products, you must take care of them.

The following tips will help assure that the meat and poultry products you buy will remain safe to eat.

FRESH PRODUCTS. Buy fresh meats and poultry in packages that are not broken, feel cold when taken out of the display shelf, and do not have an unusual color or odor.

As a rule, roasts, steaks and chops (beef, lamb, veal, and pork) may be kept refrigerated at home for up to 5 days after purchase from the store. Fresh ground meats, stew meat, variety meats and fresh pork sausage should be kept no longer than 2 days.

Fresh poultry may be kept in the refrigerator up to 2 days after purchase from the grocery store.

Maker sure the refrigerator is set at 40°F. or lower.

FROZEN PRODUCTS. Buy packages that are hard frozen and not broken.

For quality, beef and lamb roasts and beef steaks may be kept in the freezer at 0° F or lower for 6 to 12 months. Pork and veal roasts should only be kept from 4 to 8 months. Lamp chops can be frozen for up to 9 months, while pork chops and variety meats can be kept for up to 4 months. All of these products can be kept longer, but quality may be lost.

Whole chickens and turkey may be kept up to one year without loss of quality. Chicken and turkey pieces should be frozen 6 months or less.

Remember, if the freezer quits or the power fails, do not open the freezer door. Once power is restored or the freezer is repaired, you can safely refreeze products if there are still ice crystals present.

PROCESSED PRODUCTS. Do not buy products that look or smell suspicious.

Processed cured meats (bacon and ham) may be stored in the refrigerator for up to a week and in the freezer for up to 2 months. Frankfurters can also be stored in the refrigerator for up to 7 days, but should only be kept frozen for up to two weeks. Luncheon meats can be safely stored in the refrigerator up to 5 days, after the package is opened. These meats generally are not frozen due to possible loss in quality. Smoked sausage can be kept refrigerated for up to 7 days, while dry and semi-dry sausage can be stored for up to 3 weeks. These products are not normally frozen due to possible losses in quality.

CANNED PRODUCTS. Do not buy cans that are bulging, leaking, or severely dented. Avoid jars that are cracked or have loose lids. Store in a cool, dry place. Date the cans or jars. Use the oldest first and place in the front of the shelf.

If a container appears suspicious, do not taste the product under any circumstances. It may contain the deadly botulism toxin.

FREEZE-DRIED PRODUCTS. Products in this form may be kept indefinitely in a cool, dry place.

One last thought. For quality sake, use "open dating" whenever you can. Look for the following terms — "use by," or "sell by."

If the package tells you to use a particular meat or poultry product by a certain date, that means the quality of the product will deteriorate after the "use by" date. The product, however, may still be safe to use.

If the package, however, lists a "sell by" date, the product must be removed by the grocer from the store's retail shelves no later than that date. Fresh meat and poultry may still be kept in the refrigerator after the sell by date, but will lose its quality after a few days. Processed products, once opened, will keep about a week. Canned meat or poultry products, of course, can be kept longer, when stored in a cool, dry place.

Remember, if you follow these few simple rules you will be able to fully enjoy the wide range of meat and poultry products available to you.

Farm Women Societies

Berks Co. Society 1

Berks Farm Women 1, held its monthly meeting on August 12 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hetrick, Oley R2.

Preceding the business meeting, Roger Lehmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald P. Lehmann of Douglassville, R2, gave a detailed demonstration of "Mini-Maintenance" of a car, in language that all 14 members present could grasp, illustrating each procedure on Ruth Walters' car.

The annual picnic for members and their families will be held Sunday, August 16 at the Levengood Grove, Amityville, rain or shine, at noon.

The Fall Foliage Tour is scheduled for October 8.

On August 20, Group One will serve chicken Bar-B-Q at the 4-H Fair, held annually at the Berks County Agricultural Center.

The next meeting of Group One will be an "Everybody's Birthday" party, each member bringing a wrapped gift, preferably one she has made. Members will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hartman, R1 Oley, at 8 p.m.

Travel to Ag Progress Days in an air-conditioned bus, Tuesday, Aug. 25. Call Nelson Habecker 717-285-5738 or Penn-Jersey office 717-354-4051 for details.

Try tempting tomatoes

It may surprise you to learn that tomatoes are actually a fruit and not a vegetable; and that they once were known as "love apples."

Plump, fully ripened tomatoes add few calories and much goodness to salads and casseroles. But the tomatoes' uses are endless. Try some recipes below:

The makings of a good salad include plump, juicy tomatoes. But if salad-making isn't your forte, throw a little salt and pepper on the fruit and eat away.

TOMATO SOUP CAKE

1 can tomato soup
1/2 c. melted margarine
1 c. sugar
1 t. baking soda
1 t. nutmeg
1 t. cinnamon
1/2 t. ground cloves
2 t. baking powder
2 c. flour
1 t. vanilla
2 eggs

Add margarine to the soup and then add the eggs. Set aside. Sift the dry ingredients 5 times and add to the soup. Add vanilla. Mix thoroughly. Bake one hour in greased loaf pan at 325 degrees.

Mrs. Charles Biehl, Mertztown

GREEN TOMATO RELISH

4 quarts sliced green tomatoes 1/8 inch thick
6 medium onions, sliced
4 green peppers, sliced
1/2 c. salt
1 1/2 quart vinegar
5 pounds sugar

Place sliced tomatoes, onions, peppers into container and use the salt on each layer. Do not use more salt than specified. Let stand overnight. Next morning put into colander and let drain. Do not wash under water. Drain well. Bring vinegar and sugar to a boil in a vessel large enough to hold the vegetables and vinegar and sugar. Then add the vegetables and cook for 1/2 hour. Makes about 8 pints.

Mrs. Charles Biehl, Mertztown

TOMATO SALAD

4 large tomatoes
2 onions pepper and salt to taste
lettuce

Slice sun ripened tomatoes in thick pieces and garnish with thickly sliced onions. Serve on chilled lettuce, using salt, lots of freshly ground pepper and no dressing.

Mrs. Charles Biehl, Mertztown

TOMATO CHEESE BAKE

4 medium tomatoes, peeled
1 t. sugar
dash of pepper
2 cups shredded cheddar cheese
1/2 c. finely chopped celery
1/4 c. finely chopped onion
27 saltine crackers, finely crumbled
2 T. margarine, melted

Slice tomatoes into fourths. Sprinkle with sugar and pepper. In a mixing bowl, toss together these, celery and onion. In a 1 1/2 quart casserole, arrange half of tomato slices, sprinkle with half of cheese mixture. Repeat layers. Toss cracker crumbs with margarin. Sprinkle over casserole mixture. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes.

Alice Kramer, Reinholds

GREEN TOMATO JAM

8 c. green tomatoes
4 c. sugar
2 lemons
1/4 c. vinegar
1 T. powdered cinnamon or 1 t. ginger

Wash the tomatoes and remove any spots. Cover with boiling water and let stand 5 minutes. Drain and slice into thin pieces. Add layers of sliced lemon and sugar. Add vinegar and sprinkle with spice. Let mixture stand overnight. In the morning, cook rapidly until the tomatoes are clear and the liquid is like syrup. Pour into hot jars and seal.

Wilma Burkholder, Mifflinburg

FRIED TOMATOES

5 tomatoes, not too ripe
1 beaten egg bread crumbs milk
1/2 t. sugar
salt and pepper to taste fat for frying

Slice the tomatoes crosswise into thick slices. Mix egg and bread crumbs to form batter, thinning with a little milk. Sprinkle tomato slices with sugar, salt, and pepper. Drop in batter and fry in deep, hot fat. Turn carefully and brown on both sides.

Make a sauce from any broken tomatoes and crumbs left in the pan by stirring in a little milk and a sprinkle of flour. If needed, pour the sauce over the tomatoes.

Mrs. Charles Biehl, Mertztown

BAKED OR BROILED TOMATOES

3 medium tomatoes, cut in halves
1 t. salt
1/8 t. pepper
1/2 c. buttered breadcrumbs
1/2 c. grated American cheese

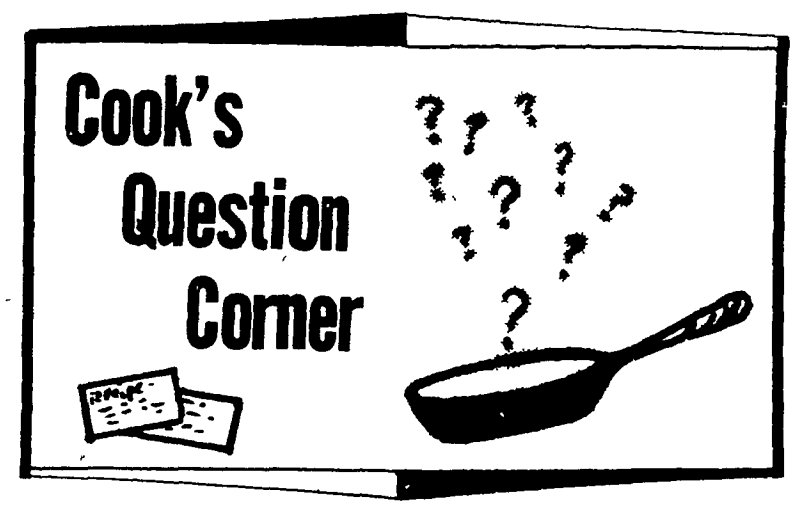
Season each tomato half with salt and pepper. Bland crumbs and cheese, and sprinkle on each tomato half.

Arrange in baking pan and bake in moderate oven, 375 degrees, for 15 minutes or broil 8 to 10 minutes, under low heat.

STEWED TOMATOES

4 slices toasted white bread
6 T. butter
1/4 c. chopped onion
1 can tomatoes
1 T. sugar
1/2 t. salt
1/8 t. pepper
2 T. grated Parmesan cheese

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Cut three slices bread into 1/2 inch cubes (about 2 cups); cut remaining slices into strips for top. Place bread cubes in 1 1/2 quart casserole. Melt butter in a medium skillet; saute onion until tender. Add tomatoes, sugar, salt and pepper; turn into casserole. Arrange bread strips on top; sprinkle Parmesan cheese over all. Bake 45 minutes.



QUESTION — My children recently returned from a week at the shore and raved about the delicious funnel cake they ate there. They said it is a Pennsylvania Dutch funnel cake which is fried in grease. Could anyone help me with the recipe? I would like to make it for them.

Peachilicious weekend to be held

GATCHELVILLE — A nearly perfect peach season so far promises a very special Peachilicious Labor Day Weekend celebration at Maple Lawn Farms, Sept. 5, 6 and 7.

This 8th Annual Harvest Festival which draws crowds of 6-8,000 yearly offers the best in "U-Picking" late season varieties of the Queen of Fruits along with musical entertainment by County Line, winners of the Sunset Park Talent Show; a craft barn full of top notch local craftsmen, farm zoo; and some of the best culinary selections of homemade peach desserts in the state, according to festival coordinator Gail McPherson.

"Since its inception in 1974, the Peachilicious Labor Day Weekend has grown into an anticipated event for the public north and south of the Mason-Dixon Line," says this farm wife. "Craftsmen like it, because they can set up for three days without a lot of packing and unpacking. Even if it takes time from this last holiday of the summer for people running food and craft concessions, they always do well, meet many wonderful people and are able to maintain a holiday atmosphere throughout the Saturday to Monday event, three miles north of Fawn Grove.

York County Pork Producers will be on hand to make up their famous pork sandwiches with peach sauce; Stewartstown 4-H'ers and their moms cook up a storm with 'peachy dogs' grilled to perfection and steeped in spicy peach sauce. Non-profit groups sell homemade ice cream, peach pies and desserts that make your mouth water. We supply as many peaches as necessary to be sliced and sugared for free toppings on ice cream and desserts.

Correct tomato troubles

MEDIA — One problems with tomatoes is not a disease but may disturb the gardener, is tomato leaf roll.

According to James J. McKeehen, Delaware County Extension agricultural agent, this is usually a symptom that the plant is under some sort of stress.

It occurs when tomato plants are pruned severely, cultivated too deeply so that it has disturbed the roots, or after heavy rains when there is an excessive amount of moisture in the soil. Some varieties will leaf roll rather consistently.

Another problem is when you have picked what you thought was a nice ripe tomato only to find it rotten on the bottom end. This is blossom end rot. It's not a disease but a result of usually either inconsistent watering or inadequate calcium or nutrients in the soil. Most of the time if the watering situation is corrected, the blossom end rot is too!

MARTIN AUTOMATIC MILLING SYSTEM

(PATENT PENDING)

COMPLETELY AUTOMATIC

The automatic control panel starts the milling system. Grinds, weighs, and thoroughly mixes and augers the feed to the proper tank as needed without any human assistance or attention for only 20¢ per ton operating cost

ACCURACY GUARANTEED

The safety backing will automatically stop the whole system and sound an alarm if:

a. ingredient weight is not exact
b. any ingredient is depleted
c. any part fails to function properly

★ Can be programmed to make 5 different rations with up to 12 ingredients.
★ Manual operation is also possible to make special rations not programmed.
★ The Martin Automatic Milling System has a 4 year proven track record of automatically grinding and mixing thousands of tons of various feed rations, and programmed to auger it into the right feed tank as it's needed without any human assistance or attention.

If you buy a complete feed, or if you have it custom made, or make feed yourself with a PTO grinder-mixer, why put up any longer with high feed costs, variations in feed consistency, substitution of ingredients, hauling expenses, or struggling in wind, rain, sleet, snow and mud to make some feed when you really don't have time??

Switch to a Martin Automatic Milling System to get these benefits:

★ Produces higher quality feed
★ Improves your feeding efficiency
★ Makes better use of your present facilities
★ Better return on your investment
★ Low cost operation
★ Lowers your feed costs. Use your own grains and get additional ingredients at wholesale prices
★ Saves time and labor costs
★ More convenience, comfort and safety
★ Low cost installation

Various size systems up to 100 ton a day can be leased for only 40¢ A TON depending on size and storage needed.

SPECIAL DISCOUNT

On First System Ordered In Each County For Display Purposes

The Data Feed™ System has an excellent foolproof track record and is the lowest priced system of its kind on the market. It can feed up to 479 cows from up to 16 feeding stations. As cows enter the feed stall a scanner identifies each cow and begins to feed her a predetermined amount of feed based on her production level. As soon as she eats her limited amount, or if she backs away, the feeder stops and her intake is recorded.

Every 6 hours the computer prints out a tape showing the eating performance and feed consumption of each cow, this can help reveal when a cow is getting sick or coming in heat. A 24 hour final print-out documents individual and herd performance for your records.

The computer has a keyboard like an electric typewriter which makes it very easy to program, change the amount of each cow's ration, check each cows feed consumption and check if each feeder is operating properly.

The computer can be located anywhere in the barn or house up to ¼ mile away controlling up to 16 feeders installed in a group or in different buildings among various herds.

The Rockwell company which manufacturers the computer for the Data Feed System has over 40,000 in similar operations, and was also the prime contractor for the space shuttle Columbia, therefore you can be assured years of satisfactory performance and service. Furthermore, each dealer will have a spare computer in stock as a backup ready to replace one in minutes if ever necessary.

DATA FEED Features That Make A difference

1. Simple to use and operate, computer tells you how to program step by step.
2. Automatically feeds individual cow exact programmed ration.
3. Dairyman can change individual cow's ration with just a push of a button at any time.
4. 12" Feeders meter out complete feed, concentrate, or high moisture corn.
5. Optional 6 or 24 hour print-outs
   A. All print-outs are dated and timed
   B. Non-Eaters are identified with asterisk*
6. Automatically divides 24 hour programmed amount into four cycles: EXAMPLE: A cow programmed for 20 pounds of feed will get 5 pounds every 6 hours. It automatically carries any left over ration into the next cycles.
7. Has a battery system with re-charging unit for back-up power to keep memory stored in event of a power failure.
8. Built-in trouble-shooting program in the computer lets you check for problems at feed bin or in computer components.
9. Built-In Service Mode lets you check on each bin's activity and working functions. Actually lets you check identification system to insure accuracy.
10. priced lower than any other comparable computerized feeding system on the market.
11. Optional Supplement Ration feeding capabilities available.
12. Typewriter keyboard provides for ease of operation and allows programs for future — such as, data storage, milk monitoring and etc.

Discover Americana at coverlet conference

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — The coverlet that your favorite Aunt Bessie left you may be worth a lot more than just memories.

Coverlets — loom woven fabrics often used as bed coverings — became an American household staple during the 1800's. Today the colorfully patterned bedspreads and quilts are one of the hottest items on the antique circuit.

Historians, antique dealers, collectors, family heirloom buffs and everyone else interested in Americana can learn firsthand how to collect, conserve, and get the scoop on coverlets during a two-day symposium and exhibit on "Maryland Coverlets and Their Weavers" Sept. 11-12 at the University of Maryland College Park Campus.

The first conference of its kind to be held in the U.S., the symposium will feature textile experts, museum curators, and historians from across the country. The event is sponsored by the Department of Textiles and Consumer Economics with a grant from the Maryland Committee for the Humanities through the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Beginning September 11 at 7 p.m., individuals can view the Maryland coverlet exhibit, "No Man Can Better It" in the Art Gallery.

At 8 p.m., Clarita Anderson, part-time UMCP instructor of historical textiles, will deliver the exhibition lecture. On Saturday in Room 1400 of Marie Mount Hall, Dr. Laurence F. Gross, curator of the Merrimack Valley Textile Museum in North Andover, Mass., will speak on "The Textile Industry in Transition" from 9 to 10 a.m.

The symposium is the culmination of a yearlong effort of local outreach programs in Washington, Frederick, Carroll and Baltimore counties, where Maryland coverlet weavers were known to be active.

The coverlet convention is free and open to the public. A free catalog of the Maryland coverlet exhibition will be available. Admission by ticket only.

For information, contact Clarita Anderson, weekdays, at (301) 454-2137 or (301) 454-2141.

Morgan appointed Extension agent

UNIVERSITY PARK — Craig R. Morgan has been appointed to The Pennsylvania State University's Cooperative Extension Service staff as an assistant Extension agent and assigned to Schuylkill County

Thomas B. King, Penn State associate dean for Extension, points out that Morgan is responsible for coordination of the Schuylkill County 4-H youth program.

He has been serving on the Schuylkill County Extension staff since 1978 with funds provided by the Board of Commissioners.

A native of Pine Grove, Morgan received a bachelor of science degree from Penn State in 1977, majoring in environmental resource management. He is a member of the Pennsylvania Association of 4-H Youth Agents He is married to the former Ruthann Wetzel.

In Schuylkill County, he is associated with County Extension director J. Allan Shoener with offices in Schuylkill Haven.

UFT Grinder-Blowers crack the grain, reduce the forage, and blow the material – all in one operation.

All UFT Grinder-Blowers will crack 95% of grain kernels and reduce high moisture corn, cornlage, haylage, and any other crop to a finer, more digestible, more nutritious, ready-to-feed silage that packs tighter when stored.

United Farm Tool's most efficient Grinder-Blower is the Model 388. This baled hay mill Grinder-Blower has a self-contained hydraulic system for the 21" self-feeder drive and a twin-head bale shredder as standard equipment.

The hydraulic system allows an infinite speed range of the self-feeder, and the shredder rips the bale prior to sending the hay through the mill.

Like the Model 385, Model 388 with adequate power will grind and blow at the same time—filling structures 90' and higher. Both units are convertible to hammermills.

Ida's Notebook

Ida Risser

My 15-day tour of Europe was not for the weak nor the weak-hearted as it was a real adventure.

Our last morning in London, we had our bags packed and outside our hotel room by 7 o'clock. After another hard roll breakfast, we traveled by air-conditioned bus through Canterbury on our way to Ramsgate where we got a hovercraft to Calais, France. On our way we saw many fields of cabbage, hops, onions and flax.

The hovercraft was large and carried hundreds of people and also cars. It is a cross between a ship and an airplane as it rides across the English Channel and also on land on a cushion of air at 70 miles per hour, propelled by four airplane-type propellers on top of the craft. Upon arriving in France on a Sunday, we were surprised to see men combining. We saw fields and fields of sugar beets and mustard. The countryside on our way to Paris was dotted with many cemeteries of World War I.

We saw only small cars, even a 3-wheeled car, as gasoline is three times as expensive as it is here in the states. Another unusual thing was seeing cars parked on the sidewalks and in the middle of the streets.

Each time that we entered a new country, we stopped at a bank or railroad station and exchanged our money for some from that particular place. So I had to learn to translate dollars into shillings, francs, gilders and marks. It was a real challenge and sometimes only after drinking a glass of orange juice did I realize that I'd paid $2 for it; or a salad might be 15.98 francs or $3.

The average French farm has 45 acres and all the buildings on them are brick and are centuries old. The houses in the villages have red tile roofs. In Paris, our group had their picture taken in front of the 1060-foot high Eiffel Tower early one morning. Each day 450 men work on the tower and it took 35 ton of paint to paint it.

We toured Paris and saw more things than anyone could possibly remember. Among them were L'Arch DeTriumphe, Notre-Dame Cathedral, statue of Napoleon that was cast from 1200 bronze cannons. In the afternoon we walked through part of the Palais DuLouvre and saw the Mona Lisa behind bullet proof glass, The Thinker statue, Venus DeMilo and much more.

Before our evening meal, we took a one hour ride on the Seine River and heard explanations in French, German and English.

Next time I'll tell you about my last night in Paris.

4-H agent proves outstanding

UNIVERSITY PARK — Mary Jo Cook, 4-H youth agent on The Pennsylvania State University's Cooperative Extension Service staff, has been named winner of the 1981 State Achievement Award presented by the National Association of County Agricultural Agents.

Cook works with Extension agents in Clearfield, Jefferson, Cameron, Elk, McKean, and Potter counties to expand 4-H opportunities. She is headquartered at the Penn State DeBois Campus.

The award is presented annually to a member of the Extension staff with less than 10 years of service who has demonstrated outstanding ability to conduct innovative educational programs.

Cook will receive a certificate at the annual meeting of the national county agents association at Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y.

The award winner, who had 4-H program responsibilities in Jefferson County for six years until her appointment as area 4-H youth agent in February 1981, has effectively worked with teen leaders and adult volunteers to conduct youth programs.

During her tenure in Jefferson County, 4-H program enrollment increased by 600 percent. Her programs served both rural and non-farm youth in gaining project skills and in leadership development.

Cook planned leader training meetings to assist leaders in conducting club programs. She developed a monthly newsletter to keep 4-H members abreast of the latest developments in project work. She also produced six 15-minute radio programs each month to promote 4-H club work.

The award winner is chairman of the Regional Washington Focus and Regional 4-H Softball Tournament and past chairman of the Regional 4-H Teen Leaders Retreat and Senior 4-H Camp.

Statewide committee assignments include the State 4-H Horse Show and Keystone International Livestock Exposition.

A native of Punxsutawney, Cook received a bachelor of science degree from Indiana University of Pennsylvania and master of education degree from Slippery Rock State College.

In 1980 she was northeastern United States winner of the Search for Professional Excellence Contest sponsored by the National Association of County Agricultural Agents for her youth programming.

Lightning can be dangerous

Each year you hear about hurricanes. They are violent storms that kill hundreds of people. They destroy houses, buildings, even whole towns. So do tornadoes. But thunder storms with lightning are worse. It kills more people than tornadoes and hurricanes together, the U. S. government reports in their Owlie Skywarn's Lightning Book.

Lightning, thunder and towering clouds almost always occur together. And they usually happen during warm weather, as we have now.

Each day lightning strikes somewhere. Right now about two thousand thunderstorms are occurring around the world. And many of them have severe lightning. Every day someone, somewhere, is struck by lightning!

Most of the people survive, but many do not. In our own country over two hundred people die each year from lightning, or from fires that are caused by lightning.

We cannot stop the lightning, just as your father cannot control the weather to his choosing for his crops.

But, we can protect ourselves from it.

Lightning is a sudden release of electric charges that have been stored in the clouds.

You can experiment with electric charges the next time your mother uses a clothes dryer. Ask her to put in only the clothes — nothing else. When you take out the dry clothes they will crackle. And they'll stick together — held by charges of static electricity.

When the air is dry, scuff across a carpet and your body becomes overloaded with electric charges. Touch a doorknob and there's an electric spark as the electricity flows from your body to the doorknob.

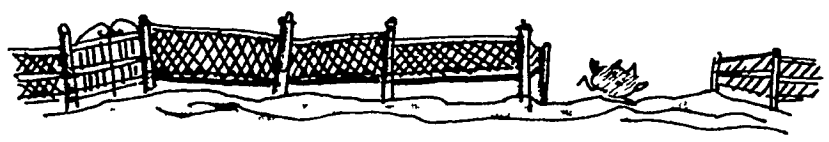
During a thunderstorm the clouds become overloaded with electric charges. When there are too many, the electricity flows to the earth, or to another cloud, making a flash of lightning.

The lightning sends out a wave that your radio picks up. When there's lightning, the radio crackles.

Lightning flashes go from cloud to cloud, from cloud to ground, or from ground to cloud. The charge may reach one hundred million volts!

Just remember, lightning is dangerous. Read the instructions for safety on this page so you know what to do if you're ever caught in a thunderstorm while away from home, in the field or in the woods.

IF YOU MUST STAY OUTSIDE –



GET AWAY FROM METAL PIPES,
WIRE CLOTHESLINES AND FENCES

GET OUT OF AND AWAY FROM A LAKE OR THE OCEAN, OR ANY WATER YOU MIGHT BE NEAR

GET AWAY FROM TRACTORS, AND ALL FARM EQUIPMENT

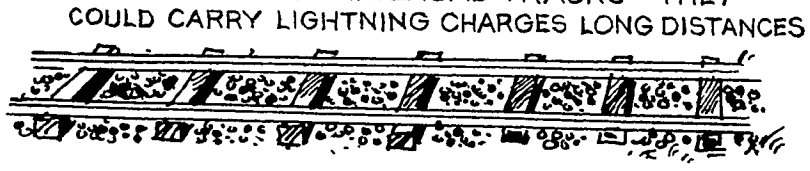
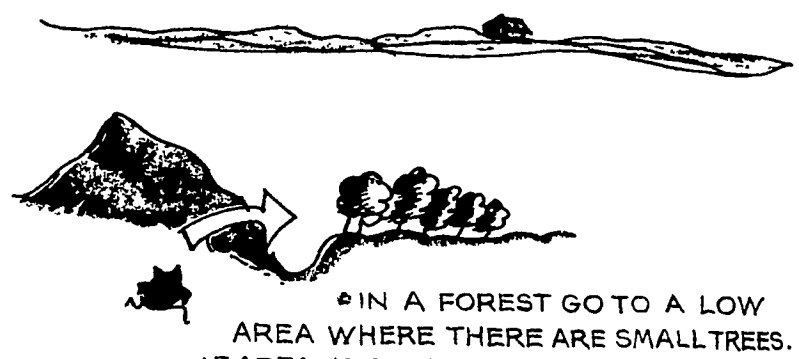
GET AWAY FROM RAILROAD TRACKS - THEY COULD CARRY LIGHTNING CHARGES LONG DISTANCES



STAY AWAY FROM SHEDS IN OPEN AREAS



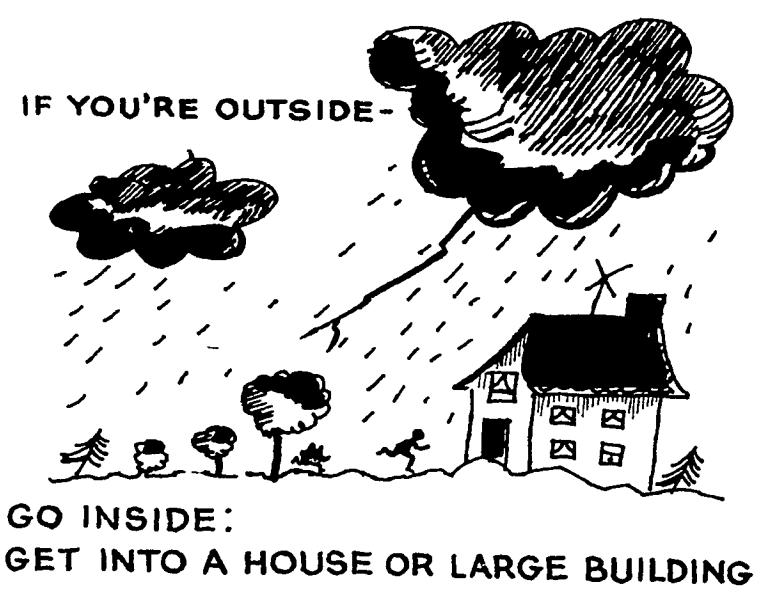
IN A FOREST GO TO A LOW AREA WHERE THERE ARE SMALL TREES. IF AREA IS OPEN GO TO A RAVINE OR VALLEY; BUT WATCH FOR FLASH FLOODS.

Farmers watch weather closely

Kid's, if your father is a farmer, you probably are aware of how important weather conditions are to him. No doubt he listens to every weather report he can, with particular interest in the summer.

The weather, especially drastic changes in weather, can be good or bad for the farmer. A summer of drought can destroy crops as well as floods can.

Look for some weather wisdom on this page and pay particular attention to the hints on what to do in case a storm arises and you're caught in it.



IF YOU'RE OUTSIDE-

GO INSIDE:
GET INTO A HOUSE OR LARGE BUILDING

Alone in an open field

Sometime you may be out on a level field or prairie and you can't get to a car or to a house. You would be the tallest object around, the one closest to the clouds. You must make yourself as short as possible, but at the same time cover as little of the ground as possible. Here's what to do.

Just before lightning strikes, your hair may stand on end. Should you feel that happen, drop to your knees. Bend forward, putting your hands on your knees. You'll be a lot lower, and only a small part of you will be touching the earth. Don't lie down — the wet earth can carry lightning.

WEST CHESTER — Approximately 25 4-H members from the Golden Fleece 4-H Club in Atglen and the Tri Community 4-H Club in Pottstown exhibited 65 head of purebred breeding sheep at the annual Chester County 4-H Sheep Round-up. Ken Brubaker, judge, from Brubaker's Livestock Marketing in West Chester, placed the 14 classes of sheep.

Fitting and Showmanship classes began the day with 18-year-old Jeff Baroni, Downingtown, taking home the Grand Champion Showman honors. A month earlier, Jeff had also walked away with Grand Champion Blocker honors and will represent Chester County at the 1982 Pennsylvania Farm Show in Harrisburg.

Jeff also exhibited the Champion Hampshire ewe and his sister Kathleen exhibited the Champion Dorset ewe.

Donna MacCauley of Atglen also walked away with many top honors. The Junior Showman was named Reserve Grand Champion Showman and Grand Champion Fitter outdoing 4-H members much older than she.

Donna exhibited the Champion Market Lamb and Champion Cheviot ewe. Her brother Bill was named Reserve Champion Fitter and exhibited the Champion Suffolk ewe while her sister Nancy exhibited the Reserve Champion Suffolk ewe.

In the Shropshire show, Martha Bates walked away with both Champion and Reserve Champion ewe honors. Katie Hicks from Coatesville, exhibited the Reserve Champion Hampshire ewe and Sarah Holmes from Oxford exhibited the Reserve Champion

Monoliths offer practical study of soil

BY DEBBIE KOONTZ

LANCASTER — The soil, long time worshipped by Indians, adored by poets and revered and cultivated by farmers, lends itself to its own scientific study — disguised under the name of agronomy.

And this scientific agriculture merits recognition at events such as next week's Ag Progress Days, but it also offers the upcoming farmer, the future agronomist and the knowledge-hungry student an easier way to study soil than that supplied by intense research and peeps in microscopes.

Such a study was put into motion recently on the farm of John Miller in Elizabethtown Township. Local soil conservationists, farmers, and ag teachers gathered to prepare "soil monoliths."

The soil monolith is a preserved vertical slice of natural soil mounted on a board to be used as a visual aid in schools and educational events.

The slice of soil includes the surface of the soil, any small plants growing in the soil, surface debris, and the layers of different soil beneath the surface.

A monolith brings to view the soil's features that would otherwise be hidden from the gardener, the farmer, the passerby. With a monolith, what is unseen can be seen and touched.

The first step is to dig a pit large enough to allow a four-foot monolith to be taken. Next the participants smooth a wall surface to get the side as vertical as possible. Picture number one shows you this pit.

Picture two shows the recessed areas needed in order to place the box down on the soil. The column width has been sculpted enough to fit into the box.

Dale Gerber, Warwick vo-ag teacher, has the box in place and has carefully slipped burlap down the back to hold the soil in place in picture three.

When the box is removed from the earth, it looks much like the monolith in picture four. Now the soil can be removed from the field and taken back to a shop for further finishing. The layers of soil and all growth are evident at this time, but special treatment is necessary to protect and preserve the monolith.

Monoliths offer soil study

Picture five shows the monolith as it is ready for treatment. A vacuum cleaner is used to lift out soil pieces that break free from natural weakness without leaving finger marks on the soil surface.

To preserve the column, the soil is drenched with a specially prepared plastic solution and glue - picture six.

The entire process takes a few weeks, but when completed offers a practical do-it-yourself visual aid for students and teachers of the soil.

Tom Johnston, county administrator for the Lancaster County Conservation District, who initiated the project, reports the Conservation District is now doing a soil survey of the county and that this particular collection of soil monoliths is part of the study. The monoliths are currently at the Warwick vo-ag department for perusal.

N.Y. Jr. Hereford members hold field day

CLARENCE, N.Y. — The New York Junior Hereford Association field day was held recently at Scotchwater Farm near Clarence. Opening the two-day program, hosted by owners JoAnne and Peter Jackson and Jack and Angie Gordon, was a steer and heifer show.

Exhibiting the grand champion steer was John Kriese, Cato, N.Y. with an entry sired by RH Prospector 7002. The steer was bred by Tim Dennis, Penn Yan, N.Y., and is a grandson of Prospector 7558.

In the junior livestock judging contest, a trio of young ladies walked away with top honors in the team competition. The winning combination consisted of Tara and Holly Mitchell of Skaneateles, N.Y. and Candy Benwitz of Newark, N.Y., who also received first, second and third, respectively, in the individual competition.

Goshen Fair reports steer results

WEST CHESTER — Two home-bred steers from a farm in southern Chester County were named Champion and Reserve Champion Steers at the annual Goshen Fair Steer Show in West Goshen. The Champion, shown by Bill MacCauley of Atglen and the Reserve Champion Steer, shown by Bill Wylie were both home-bred Angus calves, bred and raised by Sam Wylie, Octorara Farm, Nottingham.

Both steers were chosen by judge Gary Dean of Strasburg from the medium weight class, and both weighed in around 900 lbs.

In the Angus heifer show, Ken Walker of West Chester captured Champion Heifer honors with his March entry. Lee Berry of Elverson exhibited the Reserve Champion Heifer also a March calf.

Tough fitting and showmanship competition found Bill Wylie walking away with the Champion Senior Showman title. Robbie Rohrer of Nottingham was the Champion Junior Showman, and Caryn Cook of Elverson was the Champion First Year Showman.

6 win scholarships from Angus Assn.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. — An Illinois girl and a Wisconsin boy each won $1,100 scholarships from the American Angus Auxiliary.

Barbara Suzanne Baylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Baylor, Hanna City, Ill., won the girl's division.

Mark Kruel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Kruel, Fennimore, Wisc., won the boy's division. The scholarship results were announced August 3 in Louisville, Kentucky, during the 1981 American Angus Breeders Futurity.

Twenty-three states were represented in the annual competition, and 18 girls and 14 boys competed in the scholarship contest worth $4,600, reports Anne Patton Gorham, Auxiliary second vice president and scholarship chairman.

Jill Frisbee, daughter of Judy Frisbee, Madison, Mo., was second. Amy Jo Rankin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Rankin, Liberty, S.C., was third.

In the boy's category, Mike Frey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Frey, Mulhall, Okla., was second. George W. (Bill) Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wallace, Burgoon, Ohio, was third.

Each second place winner received a $700 scholarship and each third place winner received a $500 scholarship.

In addition to the top three girl's division scholarship winners, the fourth and fifth place contestants will be invited to participate in the Miss American Angus contest. Diane Krause, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Krause, Slatington, Pa., and Mary Frances Hoskins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Hoskins, Liberty, Ky., will receive invitations to the contest held during the North American Livestock Show held in November in Louisville.

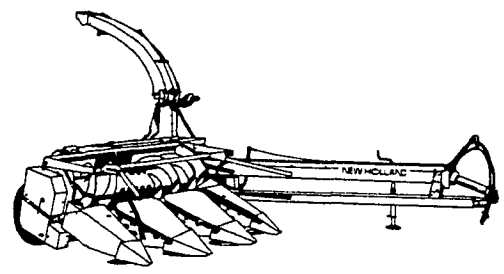
There's nothing like a Twin Rotor™ combine from Sperry New Holland. For good reason. The dual-rotor threshing is patented so others can't duplicate it. Come in soon and let us tell you about this exciting advance in combining. There are three models to choose from. And be sure to ask us about the completely new line of Sperry New Holland corn heads, flexible cutterbar soybean headers and rigid cutterbar grain heads.

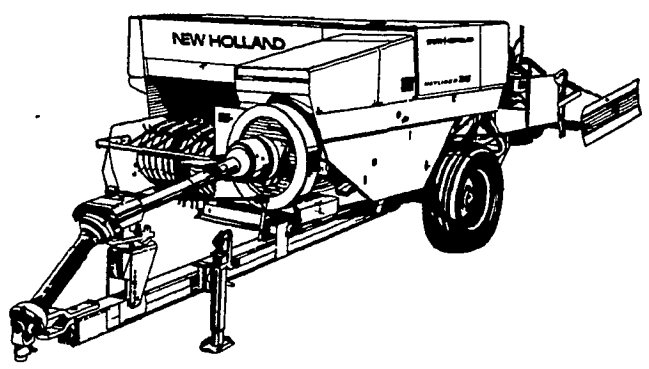
The Model 892 is the biggest capacity pull type forage harvester offered by Sperry New Holland Built for big tractor horsepower, the "892" will power through the driveline, and be used with tractors up to 175 horsepower

The optional electronic metal detector — a Sperry New Holland exclusive — reduces harvester damage and can cut down on hardware disease The '892" is available with 12-knife or 8-knife cutterhead Exclusive underbeveled knives never need rebeveling and make knife sharpening fast and easy Flip-up feedroll makes shearbar adjustment easy



There s a big choice of crop heads including the exclusive interchangeable 3-row crop head/windrow pickup, 2-row low-profile crop head, conventional windrow pickup, sicklebar and ear-corn snapping heads Under-knife baffles increase capacity

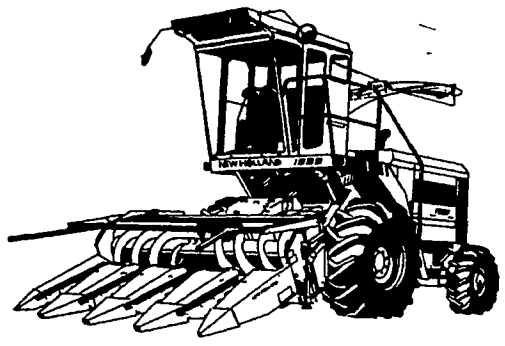
Like all Sperry New Holland machines, the "892" is backed by a service and parts system that's second to none



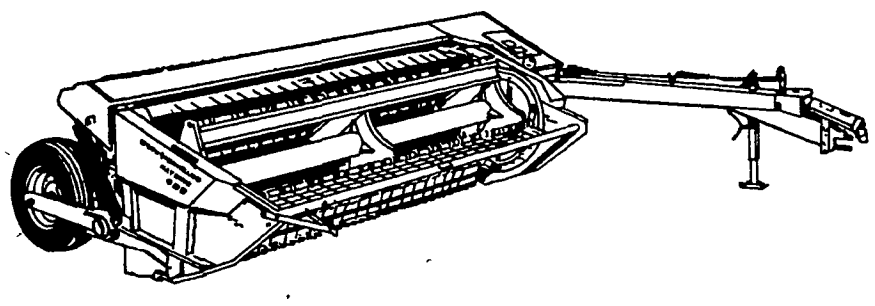
Stop in and get a great deal on the Sperry New Holland Model 315 baler. This 14"x 18" baler is built extra rugged to handle tough crops. It's designed to work hard and give years of dependable service.

Now's the time to buy because we're moving our complete stock of hay tools.

Already have a new baler? Then stop in and see our Sperry New Holland automatic bale wagons and mower-conditioners. They're priced to sell, too!



The 250-hp Model 1900 chopper features an exclusive electronic metal detector that reduces harvester damage, and helps cut down on hardware disease. Exclusive underbeveled knives never need rebeveling. Exclusive flip-up feedrolls make shearbar adjustment easy. Exclusive interchangeable cropheads — ideal for the farmer/rancher who chops both windrowed crops and row crops. Plus a big choice of other crop heads. Under-knife baffles increase capacity.



Full-width conditioning rolls in the Model 489 Haybine® mower-conditioner are located in the main frame, not the header. The lighter header responds quicker to ground contours and greatly reduces knife and guard damage. The "489" is designed for operators who demand the very best.

Vegetable recipe contest scheduled

LANCASTER — The second annual Pennsylvania Vegetable Recipe Contest will be held during Penn State's Ag Progress Days at Rock Springs, nine miles west of State College, next week.

Twelve finalists have been chosen to bring their prepared recipes on August 26. A prize of $100 will be awarded to the first place winner. The runner-up will receive $50, while the third and fourth place contestants will each receive $25.

The vegetable dishes will be judged on the following basis. taste, 40 points; ease of preparation and practicality, 20 points; originality, 20 points; and appearance, 20 points.

The recipes must be specific as to ingredients and instructions, but brand names may not be used. The number of servings and preparation time should be clearly stated.

The winning vegetable recipes will be featured and used to promote the vegetable industry of Pennsylvania. The contest is sponsored by The Pennsylvania State University Cooperative Extension Service, the Pennsylvania Vegetable Growers and the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

Top cooks in the first Pennsylvania Vegetable Recipe Contest were honored Wednesday afternoon. First prize of $100 went to Judy Burchfield, Altoona, left; second to Ruth Roberts, Bensalem; third to Mrs. Geary Huntsberger, Etters; and fourth to Mrs. Myles L. Strohl, Trappe. The second annual contest will be held in conjunction with Ag Progress Days again this year.

Creative living, theme at Ag Progress Days

UNIVERSITY PARK — If you ever wondered what to do with spaghetti squash, how to get your wood burning stove ready for winter, or how to cook meat in your microwave oven so the family really likes it, come to Penn State's Ag Progress Days August 25, 26, and 27.

Besides the University agricultural research plots, the latest in farm products, and the mammoth farm machinery, the annual field days feature a theatre with daily demonstrations and performances from 10 a.m. until closing.

Betty Heinbach, Lehigh County home economist, and Peter Ferretti, Penn State Extension horticulturist will be demonstrating their own creative ways with unusual vegetables. Walt Johnson, Penn State forest resources specialist, will show you how to gear up a wood stove for a winter of safe burning. Energy saving and stylish window treatments will be another daily demonstration on stage. So will microwave cookery.

When not demonstrating to theatre audiences, many of the performers will be found in the College of Agriculture tent staffing the family living exhibit. The theme of the exhibit is Creative Living. Family-oriented crafts, more on microwaves, food dryers, fabrics for energy conservation, and home repair for everyone will be among the offerings.

At noon each day and at 6:00 p.m. on Wednesday, you can sit down and enjoy musical entertainment in the theatre. Tuesday will feature the bluegrass sounds of the Allegheny String Band. Wednesday noon you'll hear the oldtimey music of the Rustical Quality String Band. The versatile Buffalo Chipkickers, who were a hit with last year's Ag Progress Days visitors will return for the Wednesday evening performance. Whetstone Run, a band featuring country and bluegrass music will take the stage on Thursday.

Ag Progress Days are located at the Penn State's Rock Springs research facility, 9 miles west of State College on route 45. Parking and admission are free.

Tops in vegetables to be featured at Ag Progress Days

UNIVERSITY PARK — Guess again if names like "Gyspy," "Grand Duke," and "Gold Rush" sound like racehorses. They're not.

These are new vegetable varieties highly rated in All-America Selection trials and scheduled to be shown during Ag Progress Days August 25 to 27 at Penn State's Agricultural Research Center near State College.

Winners of All-America Selection honors this year and the past two years will be featured. The 1981 bronze medal winner is "Gypsy," a very early maturing sweet pepper with yellow flesh and thick walls.

"Gypsy" produces an abundant crop even under poor growing conditions, according to Peter A. Ferretti, Extension specialist in horticulture at Penn State.

"Gypsy" provides thick-walled flesh for salads. Although it is 3-lobed instead of bell-shaped or square, it can also be stuffed.

Ferretti is one of 28 vegetable judges in the All-American Selection organization serving North America. Ag Progress Days is held annually by the College of Agriculture at the Research Center located 9 miles southwest of the Penn State Campus.

The variety trials will display over 200 plot-rows of various vegetables, making one-half acre of plantings, Ferretti said. Every vegetable variety will be duplicated twice, he added.

The 1980 bronze medal by All-America Selection went to "Gold Rush," a zucchini squash with a bright golden skin and a mint-green stem.

Six new varieties won awards in 1979. This included a gold medal to a snap pea named "Sugar Snap," and a silver medal to "Grand Duke" hybrid kohlrabi. Bronze medals went to "Sweet Mama" and "Early Butternut" hybrid winter squashes, "Saladin" hybrid cucumber, and "Dutch Treat" sweet pepper.

Garden tour for Ag Progress Days ready and waiting

UNIVERSITY PARK — If you're looking for new ideas for your garden, or need information, stop by the Synoptic Garden during Ag Progress Days next Tuesday and Wednesday at Penn State's Agricultural Research Center. The Center is located on Route 45, nine miles southwest of State College.

The Synoptic Garden presents a synopsis, or summary, of the most popular flowers, vegetables, shrubs, and trees, says Doyle Grenoble, superintendent of the Horticultural Research Farm. And this year's garden features various mulching materials.

The one-acre educational display, first shown last year, is aimed at the home and community gardener. All plants in the garden will be labeled — including trees and shrubs used in landscaping. A professional in the field of horticulture will be on hand during Ag Progress Days to answer questions.

The staff has prepared a concise guide to various plants in the Synoptic Garden, including descriptions of more than 10 juniper varieties.

"Homeowners may know that they want to plant a juniper. What they may not realize is that the varieties range from short, compact bushes, to flat-growing plants with trailing branches, to relatively large plants," Grenoble stated.

Each year the researchers try to emphasize one or two cultural practices that visitors can apply to their own gardens. This year Grenoble, working with other staff members, plans to set up a demonstration of various plastic and organic mulches that will show the most efficient ways to use them.

They also plan a special display of hydroponic gardening, or growing plants in water supplemented with essential nutrients. Grenoble says this may be a good idea for people who don't have the space for a traditional garden.

Besides vegetables, the garden contains herbs, ornamental trees and shrubs, and fruits such as grapes and apples on a trellis.

The idea for the Synoptic Garden originated about five years ago, when the horticultural staff arranged potted plants in a small, "instant" garden at Ag Progress Days.

"The display made a big hit with the visitors. But when Ag Progress Days were over, we had to disassemble the garden," Grenoble says. "That's when we first considered a permanent garden at the farm." Under the guidance of Robert Nuss, professor of ornamental horticulture, the garden was begun in 1980.

Because the permanent garden is only one year old, some of the perennials are not yet well-established. Grenoble says he hopes that when they are, the garden will be helpful to visitors throughout the summer.

Once again plenty of food samples will be given to visitors at Ag Progress Days. Helping to pass out cheese samples at the NEDCO booth was last year's state Dairy Princess, Eileen Shull. Visitors like Linda McHenry, New Bethlehem, will receive the same 'royal' treatment against this year.

MOVE IT FAST. BUILT TO LAST.

Here's one of the best in the industry—the Avco New Idea auger elevator. It's a heavy-duty auger with ridged-joint construction and plenty of sophisticated features that can help you move up to 3,000 bushels of shelled corn or grain an hour.

Available in 6", 8", and 9" boxes, and lengths of 27, 37, 41, 46, 53, and 60 feet.

Stop in and let us give you all the facts today.

PICKS SIX!

When you add the UniHusker to your Uni-System, you've got the only self-propelled cornharvesting machine that picks and husks as many as six rows at a time.

Its rubber fingers and long husking rolls handle corn gently—which is why the Uni is the number-one choice of farmers and corn companies all over the country for a fast, efficient, gentle way to harvest ear corn, seed corn, and even "gourmet" popcorn.

The Uni Husker could be the best thing that ever happened to your corn. And we've got all the facts about it. Stop in and see us today.

Let's watch our diets, America

BY DEBBIE KOONTZ

LANCASTER — America is a diet-conscious society — though some may not diet, most are conscious of it!

But discussions of food generally lead to complaints and moans of calories.

USDA research chemist Hal T Slover says, "We need better data about the fats people eat. Reliable data aren't as easy to get as you might think. Even if you have data on the nutrient content of foods people buy, it is difficult to relate to what they actually eat because there is so much variation in food preparation methods, eating habits and portions of meals thrown away.

"The so-called 'fast foods' offer a unique opportunity for collection of data on foods as eaten. The large chains standardize their products, which controls amounts and ingredients. In the hamnburger-type outlets the entire serving is edible, which minimizes statistical problems caused by variation in eating habits," Slover said.

And because three fast-food chains — Burger Chef, Burger King and McDonald's provide about one percent of all the food eaten in the United States, we thought you as farmers might enjoy reading the results of a study done by the U.S. Department of Agriculture on the foods served at these chains.

One regular hamburger at Burger Chef contains 235 calories, 39 percent of this from fat. A hamburger at Burger King contains 270 calories, 40 percent from fat; and McDonald's hamburgers contain 250 calories, 34 percent from fat.

The cheeseburger with nothing added contains 285 calories at Burger Chef, 327 at Burger King and 321 at McDonald's.

McDonald's famous Big Mac offers plenty of eating, but plenty of calories too. Try 425 with 41 percent of this from fat.

And if you enjoy stopping at McDonald's in the wee hours of the morning for breakfast and you order the Egg McMuffin, you will also be ordering 332 quick and easy calories.

Nobody seems to leave a fast food chain without ordering French Fries. The Fries at Burger Chef contain 260 calories; at McDonald's, 238 calories; and Burger King, 254.

But fortunately not all foods contain the number of calories that the foods mentioned here do. Turn to the Home on the Range section and you will find lots of tomato recipes, but you will have a hard time finding calories on that page.

Kentucky team takes top Simmental honors

BOZEMAN, Mt. — Kentucky won the team championship and Dave Zeller of Holton, Kansas was the high scoring individual in the overall competition at the American Simmental Association's Summer Classic, held recently in Columbus, Ohio.

"The enthusiasm and spirit of competition was exceptional", said ASA Executive Vice President Earl B. Peterson. "We're very pleased with the overall effect of the Classic, which is in line with our commitment to the development of a well-rounded and comprehensive Youth and Education Program."

The five member Kentucky team composed of Chris Ragland, Magnolia, who was the second high individual behind Zeller; Roy Mertz of Versatilles; Terry Burks and James Coomer, both of Glasgow; and Chan Phillips of Maysville, outdistanced all other teams in the cumulative totals. Kansas, led by Zeller, gained the runner-up spot, while Michigan was third and two teams from Texas garnered fourth and fifth places respectively. In the individual competition, Zeller and Ragland were followed by Pam Dicken, Newton, Kansas; Wayne Crawford, Danville, Arkansas; and Crystal Akers, Stephenville, Texas to round out the top five.

Delegates from 18 states competed in a variety of categories, including a Sire Summary Quiz; a Herdsman Quiz; Public Speaking; Judging and Oral Reasons; a Heifer Show; and Showmanship. Extra-curricular activities included a volleyball tournament, two dances, a barbecue and an awards banquet.

Zeller built a solid base for his eventual overall standing by taking first place in the Sire Summary Quiz, while Dicken was runner-up in that event. Burks won the Public Speaking Contest, with Helen Meek of Draper, Virginia second. Akers was first in the Judging Competition followed by Ragland.

The Heifer Show winner was Tammy Clark of Wayland, Iowa, while Phillips was second. Hal Sankey, who is from Sterling, Kansas, was the individual Showmanship winner, with Tom White of Eaton, Ohio second. Debra Luhman of Goodhue, Minnesota was the top individual in the Herdsman Quiz...a rugged 100 question test, and Kirk Dickinson of Gorham, Kansas was the runner-up.

Nightshade berry data being collected USDA

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Federal Grain Inspection Service is collecting data to determine the incidence of nightshade berries in officially inspected samples of grain.

The data will be shared with the Food and Drug Administration under a Memorandum of Understanding so FDA can determine if a Defect Action Level should be established.

Nightshade, also known as poisonberry, stubbleberry and houndsberry, can be toxic and has recently been found in soybeans.

the nightshade plant produces round green fruits that mature into dark purple berries about the size and density of soybeans. When broken, the berries can stain and glue beans, berries, dust and weed seeds into a sticky mass.

Official inspection agencies will report each lot or sublot of grain containing nightshade berries to FDA and the nearest FGIS field office.

FGIS field offices will report any lots or sublots containing nightshade berries to FDA, and will forward all reported infestations to the Standardization Division.

Beef, swine, lambs win honors for Lebanon stockmen

LEBANON — Lebanon 4-H and FFA livestock club members put their animals through their paces last Wednesday during the Lebanon Fair. The young showmen filled an entire day with grooming and showing their entries to Judge Eugene Sweigard, an Angus and Duroc breeder from Halifax.

Amidst squeals, baa's, and bawls, Sweigard studied each animal and wrestled with a sometimes difficult decision on just who should win the coveted purple rosette and champion trophy.

For grand champion and reserve grand champion 4-H steers, Sweigard went with two Angus x Chianina crossbred steers for his top animals.

Showing the grand champion, 'Midnight' was Jeff Bomgardner, Annville. This big, black steer was 9-year-old Jeff's first 4-H project. Jeff, who also received the champion fitter's trophy, raised the champion steer on his parents' dairy and hog farm. Charlie and Marlene Bomgardner milk about 100 head of Holstein cows and raise Hampshire hogs.

Nine-year-old Jeff Bomgardner exhibited the 4-H grand champion steer, 'Midnight', a 1039-pound Angus x Chianina. The steer was purchased by Horn & Horn Family Restaurant, Lebanon for $1.50 a pound.

John K. Moyer Jr. exhibited his heavyweight Hampshire market lamb to the reserve championship. The 122-pound entry was purchased by Carl Hostetter, Annville, for $2.50 a pound.

Daryl Grumbine's reserve grand champion market hog brought $5.05 a pound from Peoples National Bank, Lebanon. The Myerstown youth's entry was a Duroc gilt weighing 222 pounds.

The reserve champion 4-H steer, 'General', was shown by Bryan Eberly, 14, of Newmanstown. Bryan was also selected as the reserve champion fitter.

Champion showmen honors went to Bryan's older brother, Brett Eberly, 19. Brett's entry was also an Angus x Chianina steer, called 'Champ'. Both of the brothers' steers were purchased in Kentucky.

In the FFA competition, top honors were taken by two brothers, Dale and Jeff Zuck, members of the Cedar Crest Chapter.

Dale, 17, exhibited the grand champion FFA steer, a Polled Hereford called 'Droopy.' He also received the champion's trophy for showmanship and the reserve champion' trophy for fitting.

Jeff, 15, finished his first year in the show ring at Lebanon with the reserve champion steer trophy, and reserve champion showman trophies He also exhibited a Polled Hereford steer called 'Ringo.'

Brother Ed Zuck received the reserve champion fitters award.

The Zuck brothers are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. Norman Zuck, R7 Lebanon, who have a small commercial herd of beef cattle.

When it came time for the 'woolies' to be shown, Sweigard saw the largest number of lambs and sheep in the history of the fair — the small show ring was filled to overflowing.

The final outcome of 'counting' all those sheep found Sweigard giving the grand champion ram trophy to the Corriedale ram lamb shown by Julie Bow, Annville. The grand champion ewe was a six-month-old Suffolk lamb shown by Ann Long, Annville.

In the market lamb competition, young Daryl Grumbine, Myerstown, led his Dorset lamb to the grand champion's spot. This was Grumbine's second year in sheep competition.

The champion 4-H showmanship and fitting honors went to Melanie Bow, Annville. Champion FFA showman was Irene Brown and champion FFA fitter was Melodie Keller.

The 4-H swine championships were shared by two exhibitors this year — Tom Arnold, Lebanon and Daryl Grumbine. Arnold won the grand champion market hog championship with his Yorkshire x Duroc gilt. He also was awarded the 4-H champion showman trophy and the reserve champion fitter trophy.

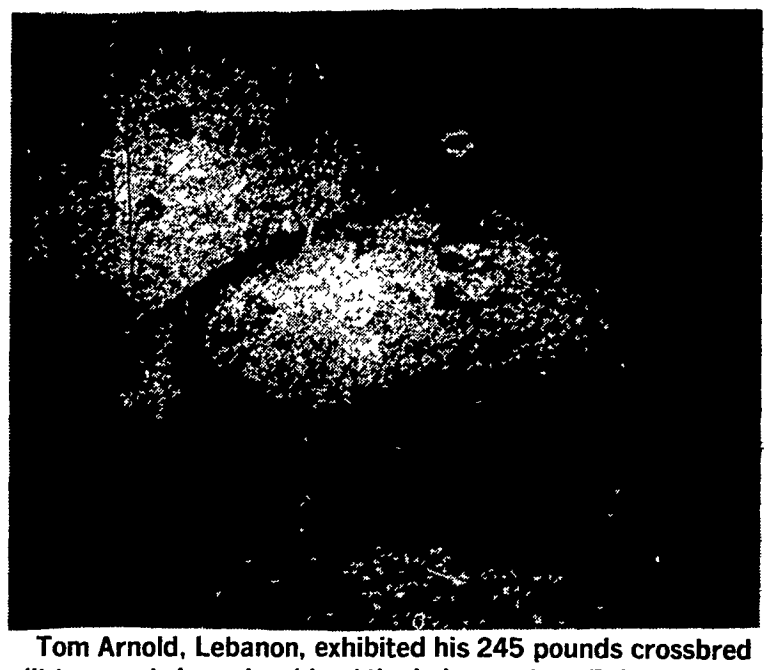
Grumbine, who exhibited last year's record-priced grand champion market hog, stood second this year with his Duroc gilt. Along with showing the reserve grand champion hog, Grumbine was recognized as champion 4-H fitter.

The reserve champion 4-H showman trophy went to Jodi Kreider.

FFA showmanship and fitting awards went to Tim Meily, champion fitter and reserve champion showman, in-school; and Bruce Brightbill, champion showman and reserve champion fitter, out-of-school.

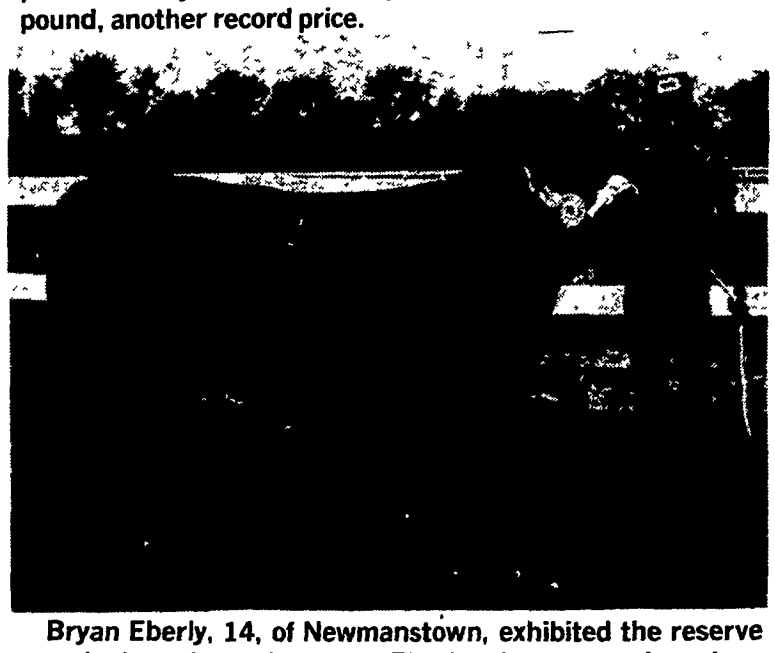
The club members marketed their projects on Saturday for "prices that shattered all the records", announced auctioneer Harry Bachman.

The first record was broken when Lebanon Valley National Bank purchased the grand champion market lamb for $3.25 a pound. Altogether, there were 24 lambs sold for an average price of $1.45 a pound — a grand total of $3,582.40.



Tom Arnold, Lebanon, exhibited his 245 pounds crossbred gilt to grand championship of the Lebanon Area Fair livestock show. The hog was purchased by David Newswanger, of Newswanger's Lunch, Newmanstown, for the record-price of $7 a pound.

The grand champion market lamb was the Dorset entry of Daryl Grumbine, Myerstown. Judging the 4-H livestock show was Eugene Sweigard, Halifax. The 102-pound lamb was purchased by Lebanon Valley National Bank for $3.25 a pound, another record price.



Bryan Eberly, 14, of Newmanstown, exhibited the reserve grand champion 4-H steer. Eberly also was selected as reserve champion fitter. The 1140-pound steer was purchased by Kilmer's Meats, Myerstown, for $1 a pound.

Ten lambs, including the reserve grand champion, were purchased by Carl Hostetter, a dairy cattle dealer and farmer from Annville. Hostetter's purchases drew applause from the capacity crowd as he announced his plans to donate the animal either back to the 4-H'er or to the Lebanon Fair. The generous supporter of the county 4-H program contributed more than $1500 to the cause through his purchases of lambs and two hogs. He also purchased four of the market steers (but kept them for himself).

The grand champion steer was purchased by Horn & Horn Family Restaurant for the record price of $1.50 a pound, while Kilmer's Meats settled for the reserve grand champion, paying $1 a pound. The nine head of beef steers average 90 cents a pound for a total of $8,501.60.

Newswanger's Lunch proprietor David Newswanger purchased the grand champion hog for a whopping $7 a pound. Peoples National Bank bought the reserve champ for an equally impressive $5.05 a pound. There were 73 head of hogs sold for a grand total of $17,766.33, averaging $1.07 a pound.

Strong local support found 49 of the 62 registered buyers becoming the new owners of a proud 4-H or FFA member's project.

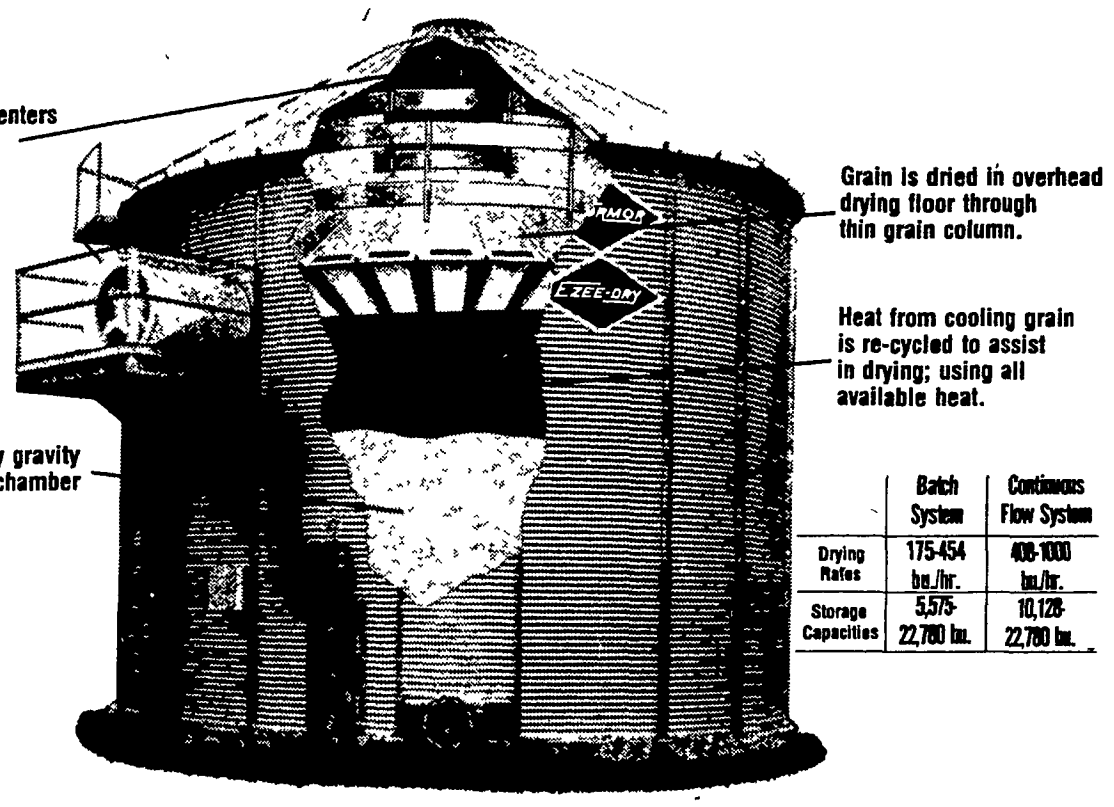
"TOP OF THE LINE DRYER"

HIGH EFFICIENCY
LOW HORSEPOWER REQUIREMENT
HIGH SPEED DRYING
LOW TEMPERATURE DRYING (120-180°F)
HIGH GRAIN QUALITY
LOW MAINTENANCE

BOTTOM LINE: EZEE-DRY



Wet grain enters top of bin.
Grain is dried in overhead drying floor through thin grain column.
Heat from cooling grain is re-cycled to assist in drying; using all available heat.
Grain falls by gravity into cooling chamber below.

New Trojan T1100. Field tested for high yield potential.

Like new Trojan T1100.
Just try and find a 110-day hybrid that has more potential to become the yield leader for the decade ahead.
This exciting Trojan yield producer has proven its productivity in "on-the-farm" test plots across the corn belt.
Excellent root and stalk system, too, plus the drought tolerance and test weight you're after

Trojan pfizer

T1058
- ☐ 105-day maturity
- ☐ High yielder in its maturity class
- ☐ Excellent ear retention
- ☐ Fast dry down
- ☐ Exceptional root strength
- ☐ Excellent drought tolerance
- ☐ Plant high populations
- ☐ Excellent resistance to Goss Wilt in areas where it's a problem

T1230
- ☐ 123-day maturity
- ☐ Excellent seedling vigor
- ☐ High yielder in its maturity class
- ☐ Very good root system and strong stalks
- ☐ Tall for excellent silage

Trojan
Pfizer research. It's paying off.

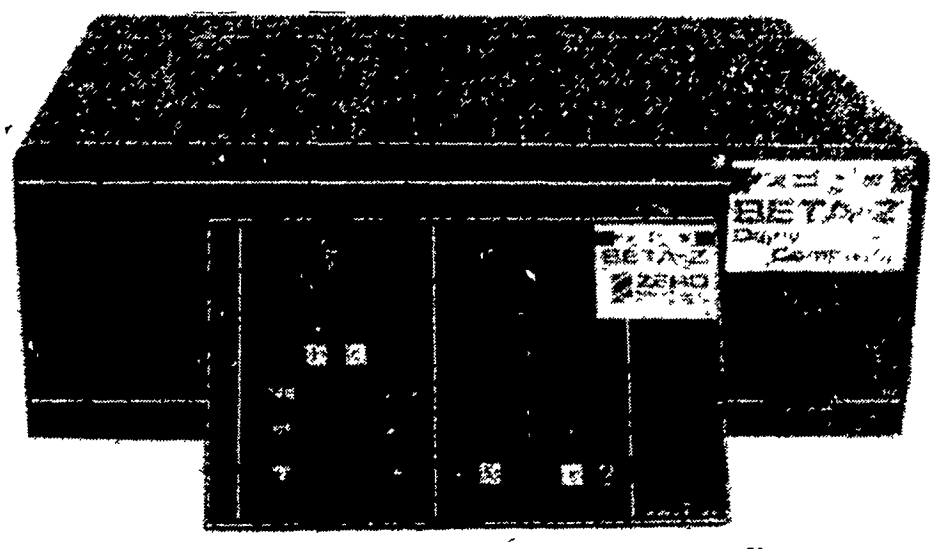
Zero Beta-Z computerized dairy feed management system.

Now you can control what you give your cows in terms of what you get.



Regulates ration and measures consumption of each cow. Adaptable to record milk given by each, and to analyze feed-to-production cost effectiveness on every animal.

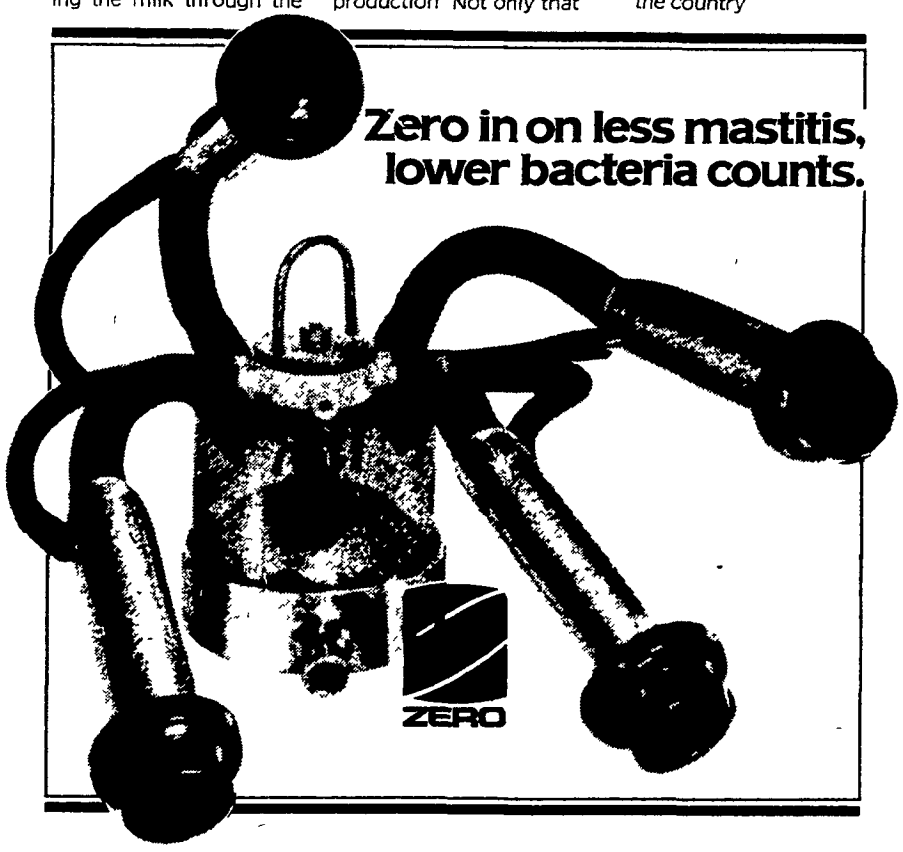
- Permits feeding two rations to each cow
- Eliminates feed wastage
- Allows adjustment of rations for maximum profitable milk production
- Can increase total on-farm milk production 600 lbs per cow
- Can increase butterfat yields
- Eliminates cost of man mixing and feeding these cows by hand

Introducing a revolution in the milking barn the Concord twin vacuum milking system from Zero It eliminates ballooning and crawling inflations that can choke teats and injure udders The kind of problems that conventional single-line systems cause—with the uncontrollable vacuum fluctuations they produce by milking the cow and moving the milk through the same vacuum line

Zero solves the problem by giving you a separate higher-vacuum line used exclusively for moving the milk—and another for a safe low completely stable milking vacuum

With the Zero Concord you can significantly reduce a major cause of mastitis And there s a distinct opportunity in many cases for real gains in milk production Not only that you eliminate air injection at the milker units foaming in the line butterfat break-up bad flavor and rancidity The bacteria count is definitely lower And Zero milk proves it consistently in tests across the country

Zero in on less mastitis, lower bacteria counts.



ZERO works with you, the dairyman, to obtain maximum profits through:

- Management
- Increased Production
- Better Milk Quality

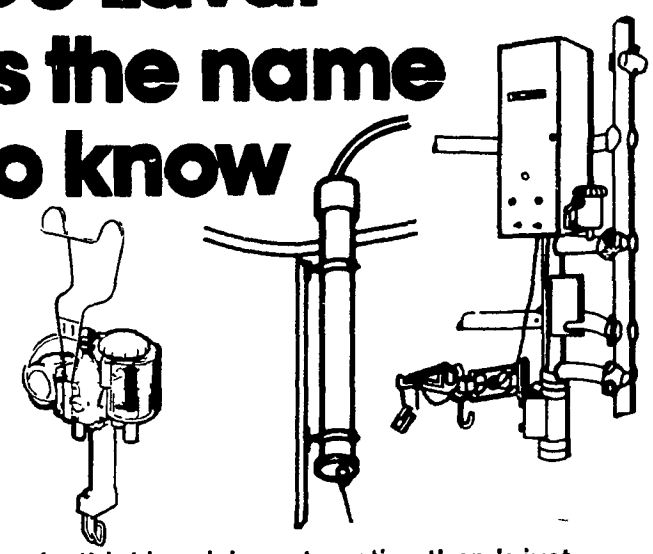
De Laval is the name to know



If you're thinking dairy automation there's just one name you need to know: De Laval. For over 100 years dairymen world-wide have depended on De Laval products to keep their dairies running smoothly and profitably. You can too. Check these De Laval® automation products, all designed to make your milking easier. Then check with us. We've got full details on these fine products and the whole line of De Laval dairying equipment & accessories.

- DV-300™ milker — rugged milker features automatic shifts of vacuum levels and pulsation rates.
- A.R.M.™ devices — Automatic Removal Mechanism features parallel linkage support arm. "Armless" model also available.
- Autocord™ removal device — the affordable way to automate milker removal.

DE LAVAL®

Challenger™ Feeding System

This is the breakthrough technology that made it possible to feed grain to dairy cows according to individual needs—automatically. The De Laval® Challenger™ Feeding System is the obvious choice for dairy farmers who want electronic grain dispensing at a moderate installation cost.

The Challenger system is controlled by neck-worn transponders which store feeding instructions for each cow; these provide a radio link with feeding stalls where cows are fed upon command. The Challenger system has capabilities demanded by the most modern operation, yet it's feasible for herds as small as 25 cows. May we show the surprising figures?

DE LAVAL®

De Laval® Heavy Duty Herringbone Stalls

The herringbone milking parlor is the standard by which today's dairy is judged. That's why over 10,000 American dairymen have chosen the brand of herringbone stall they feel is synonymous with quality: DeLaval. In fact, more DeLaval herringbone set-ups are installed than any other make Here are just a few reasons why:

- Simplified Installation — in new or existing structures
- Improved Automation — for labor-saving reliability.
- Improved Gate Operation — for easy traffic control.
- Increased Strength — to withstand severe applications

Get the facts before you buy any herringbone set-up. Check with us for DeLaval stalls, the system dairymen have trusted over 10,000 times.

fiberdome® SILO CHUTE made with fiberglass, the material of the future — and proven in the past —

The Fiberdome chute is designed and engineered to be installed on most types of silos. Its structure allows it to withstand the toughest beating the weather elements or silo unloading systems can possibly dish out.

The chute is constructed in full 7½' sections to minimize the number of joints. Connecting joints have a 2½" tongue and groove design to keep feed in and water out. The large ribbed construction adds stability and strength.

Fiberglass is durable, corrosion-proof, attractive and translucent, allowing sunlight to pass through. Sunlight quickly dries interior moisture in the chute. The hard gleaming gelcote surface will remain for many years.

BAZOOKA®

GRAIN MOVING SYSTEMS

Components that move grain can be as important as the storage bins or drying bins you choose. Augers are the heart of your system because they do the work . . . keep you going during the busy harvest time.

Bazooka augers are long lasting and smooth running. You have a wide choice of capacities, accessories and drives. You can also expand any Bazooka system with a minimum of expense.

BAZOOKA transport augers have chrome-plated intake flighting that doubles its life, a galvanized drive shaft that reduces maintenance time, and permanently lubricated, precision machined chain reducer drive with cast iron housing Plus many other timesaving, convenience and safety features

BAZOOKA transfer augers have important differences at the drive end, like heavy duty thrust bearings, machined, cast iron sheaves, and easily adjusted motor mounts supported equally on all four corners

BAZOOKA sweeps and unloading augers can make quick work of emptying out a bin. Portable types can be moved from one bin to another while permanent types are driven by powerheads located outside the bin.

BAZOOKA Grainclean'r is a rotary type scalper/cleaner with a built-in fines collector.

Introducing the new

Chromalloy Manure Bank®

The new Manure Bank saves your money...

With spiraling fertilizer costs, proper manure management can save you thousands of dollars each year. Manure is rich in plant nutrients and vital organic materials. Its greatest value is best conserved as a liquid. And the Chromalloy Manure Bank glass-fused-to-steel manure storage structure is the best way to conserve manure's natural fertilizing ability.

...saves your time...

The Chromalloy Manure Bank is the hub of a well-managed, fully-automated manure handling system. Liquid manure can be stored for months in the Manure Bank, to be used when you and your fields are ready. Liquids are pumped, agitated and unloaded electrically or with PTO. Independent studies indicate, with a 50 cow herd, half the labor is saved compared to stacking solids. And 1/3 the work compared to hauling and spreading every day.

...saves your environment.

Above-ground manure storage with the Chromalloy Manure Bank helps to prevent contamination of streams, ponds and underground water. Unlike lagoons and stacking methods, the Manure Bank requires little precious land, controls odors, flies and pests, provides greater safety for children and animals. With its grey color, the Manure Bank blends in with your farm buildings and the surrounding countryside, making it an attractive, practical improvement.

Manure Bank feature shows in every Madison value

The Chromalloy Manure Bank structure is glass fused to high strength steel, a proven way to store liquid manure. For added integrity and strength, anchor bolts around the base are close and deep-set. Seams are securely bolted. And a special sealant applied to seams inside and out discourages leaks, protects sheet edges from corrosion. A tight bottom seal on both sides of the base cap serves as a positive liquid stop seal. And your new Manure Bank is expertly erected by professional Madison construction crews.

Sizes to fit your needs. Capacities for the family hog farm through the largest commercial dairy or beef operation.

CHROMALLOY
DIVISION

Total System of Choice. Your new Chromalloy Manure Bank completes a System of Choice: for silage, a Madison® silo; for haylage, the Nutri-Matic®; and for high moisture grain, the Grain-O-Matic®.

Backed by Madison® Silos. A leader in farm storage structures since 1914. Eight branch offices plus dealers in 23 states to serve you.

TURBOCHARGED HERCULES 160 By SAME — 145 PTO H.P.

What Makes SAME Tractors Better? The SAME Air-Cooled Diesel Engine!

2, 3, 4, 5, or 6 cylinder inline diesels provide 35 to 145 h p for the 21 models of SAME 4 WD and 2 WD tractors

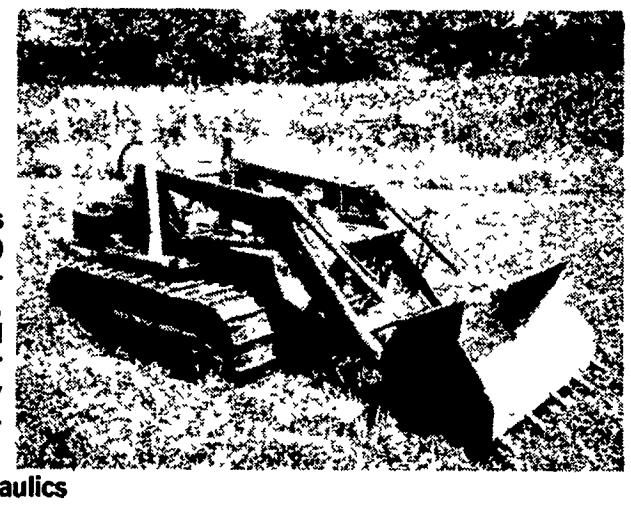
These fuel-efficient engines have double (air and oil) cooling systems and have direct fuel injection from camshaft operated pumps for easier starts, reliable performance and lower fuel consumption (up to 40%)

Being air-cooled, there is no radiator, hoses, thermostats, water filters no water pump, no anti-freezer no boiling, no freezing so about 40% of the down time problems connected with liquid cooled engines are eliminated You benefit by lower original cost, lower operating and maintenance costs, faster warm-up to most efficient operating temperature, and longer engine life to name a few

Cylinders and heads are individually replaceable and all vertical parts are interchangeable This means faster, easier servicing and maintenance as well as fewer parts to stock

Of course, the engine is only part of the story see your SAME dealer to check out, test drive and learn about all the special features that SAME offers including a limited 2 yr warranty and a surprisingly low price tag

LAMBORGHINI . . .
the trouble-free Ag Type CRAWLER with lower initial, operating and maintenance costs



★ 3 models - 55, 65 and 75 engine h.p. — both with dependable air-cooled diesel engines.

★ Lamborghini crawlers have independent (540) p.t.o., 8 speeds forward, 4 speeds reverse, 14" pads, 66" overall width, cold weather starting and heavy duty starter, as standard.

★ 3 pt. hitch, remote hydraulics

★ Lamborghini crawlers are manufactured by one of the oldest crawler mfrs. in Europe. Complete crawler and parts will be available at Jonestown, Pa.

Committee reports on oil, gas proposals

HARRISBURG — The Oil and Gas Environmental Advisory Committee, meeting in Bellefonte recently reported considerable progress in drafting proposed revisions to Act 225, the "Gas Operations, Well Drilling, Petroleum and Coal Mining Act," but recommended that the General Assembly delay introducing legislation until the committee has completed its work.

The advisory committee, formed following a Citizens Advisory Council tour of the oil and gas fields last fall, is charged with advising the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Resources on the "overall conduct of the oil and gas program as it pertains to environmental matters."

There has been a marked increase in the number of oil and gas wells drilled in the commonwealth. Two years ago DER issued 2,500 permits for oil and/or gas wells. The department now is issuing 10,000 to 12,000 permits annually.

This increased activity has brought about increased problems of soil erosion and sedimentation, improper disposal of brine and process waters, and oil spills.

To combat these problems, the advisory committee, which represents industry, environmental organizations and other public interest groups, is working on three major items:

— Drafting needed revisions to Act 225.

— Minimizing existing and potential erosion and sedimentation problems.

— Developing acceptable recommendations for disposing of brine and process waters.

The committee is using the CAC report prepared following the CAC tour of the oil and gas fields and other information in formulating its legislative recommendations.

The committee is completing the required revisions to Act 225 and expects to present a detailed report containing its recommendations to DER Secretary Clifford L. Jones by Sept. 15.

The committee reported that the "DER Soil Erosion and Sedimentation Control Manual" to be used for training within the industry now is being printed. Committee members provided extensive input in compiling the manual designed to aid the industry in preventing soil erosion problems during drilling operations.

Although work on the manual is completed, the advisory committee members recommended that the Soil Erosion and Sedimentation Control subcommittee be retained to monitor the progress of soil and sedimentation matters, arrange methods of distributing the manual, plan and initiate training programs for the oil and gas industry, and develop ways of improving communications with the state's 66 Soil Conservation Districts.

Hunter takes oath

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Harold V. Hunter, farmer and rancher from Waukomis, Okla., is the new administrator of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Rural Electrification Administration.

Deputy Secretary of Agriculture Richard E. Lyng administered the oath of office to Hunter as the tenth head of the agency.

Hunter will oversee USDA financing for rural electric and rural telephone utility systems through REA.

In 1980, the agency made loans of $906.7 million to rural electric distribution systems and guaranteed loans of $5.5 billion to finance construction of wholesale power facilities. It also loaned $403.7 million to rural telephone system.

"I am fully aware that I now enter a continuing line embodying a rich heritage and history of rural electrification. REA has been uniquely instrumental in moving rural America forward, bringing new growth, new industries and jobs. I am confident this proud record will continue," Hunter said after taking the oath.

Hunter served eight years in the Oklahoma House of Representatives, where he was assistant minority floor leader, and as state executive director of the Agricultural Stablization and Conservation Service from 1969 to 1977. In 1979, he was elected chairman of the Oklahoma Republican State Central Committee and served until February of this year.

With his son and son-in-law, Hunter operates NVH Farms, a family wheat and alfalfa growing enterprise in Waukomis. The farm also produces Polled Hereford beef cattle.

Hunter is married to Ruth Irene Hyde, and the couple has two children and five grandchildren.

Takes the guess work out of low temperature drying.

Features:

1. Tells you when to turn on/off heat and fan.
2. Allows you to run your system to capacity.
3. Prevents bin overloading.
4. Keeps track of each bin's static pressure, grain temperature, outside temperature and humidity and bushels of grain in each bin.
5. The computer can print out a daily sheet containing the above information for the whole drying season. This way you can compare your progress from season to season.
6. This computer can monito the progress from 1-100 bins.
7. If your bins or fans change, your program can easily be changed.

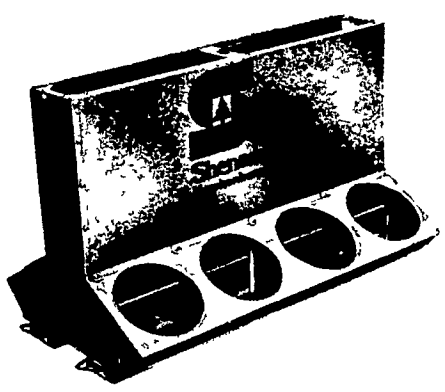
By continually circulating 24,000 cu. ft. of air per minute, Agri-fan equalizes room temperature and humidity. Floors stay drier. Winter fuel costs are reduced up to 30%, and in summer, uncomfortable stagnant air is prevented. Agri-fan is economical to operate — max. 1 amp. draw — and pays for itself in 1 to 2 years.

Agri-fan carries a five-year warranty and features: UL and CSA listing — heavy-duty construction — totally enclosed motor — aerodynamically designed blades — solid state infinite speed controls — no maintenance — easy installation.



Shenandoah FEEDERS

STAINLESS STEEL DINNERWARE-FOR HOGS!

These new Shenandoah Stainless Steel Hog Feeders are designed for use in confinement. Although galvanized hog feeders won't last in confinement, due to corrosion and moisture as well as rough treatment from the hogs, Shenandoah Stainless Steel Feeders will stand up to the test. They are built to last and to resist corrosion. And they are easier to clean and disinfect.

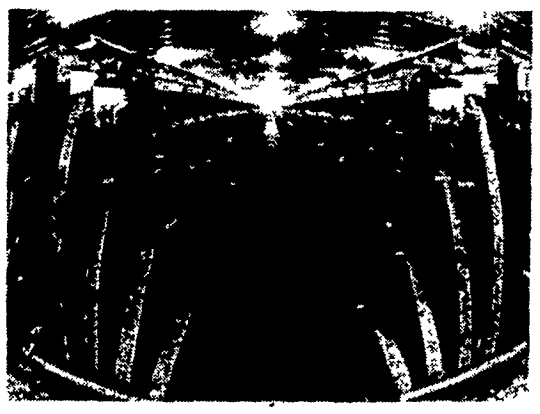
LESS BIRD STRESS

The system has been designed for bird comfort!

Each bird has her place at the feed trough Each has easy access to water. Obstruction to light and the flow of air have been greatly reduced, providing more uniform ventilation and lighting for every bird. Combined with Chore-Time's automatically controlled air inletting system, you get a layer house environment designed for bird comfort and the resulting better production.



Not only the physical shape of the feed trough, but the operation of the feeder has been engineered to reduce feed waste The trough shape cuts down on feed loss from "raking" and "billing," while the feeder has been specifically designed for Chore-Time's programmed and performance feeding concept

Gene splicing protects potatoes

BELTSVILLE, Md. — Using gene splicing, scientists have developed a test which will help stop the spread of a serious disease caused by the Potato Spindle Tuber Viroid. This new procedure is described in the August 7 issue of Science magazine by Robert A. Owens and Theodore O. Diener, plant pathologists with USDA's Agricultural Research Service.

In severely infected crops the PSTD can result in over 50 percent losses, and the potatoes that develop are cracked and spindle-shaped, a feature which gave the disease its name, Owens noted.

Since potatoes provide a more nutritionally balanced food more efficiently than any other major crop, these plants are a great potential food source for countries with large populations and low income. According to Owens, a lowland tropical potato has already been developed by the International Potato Institute in Lima, Peru

In warm climates, however, PSTV disease is so severe that potatoes cannot be grown unless PSTV is excluded from "seed" potatoes (pieces of tubers used to propagate new plants). The new test can be used to find potatoes infected with PSTV. Potatoes that are free of the disease can be used by growers and breeders as "seed."

Diener, working at the Beltsville Agricultural Research Center, was first to discover that the Potato Spindle Tuber Disease is caused by a new type of disease agent. In 1971, he gave the name "viroid" to these new disease agents, which are approximately 1/40th the size of the smallest virus. Viroids are composed of only one small molecule of the genetic chemical, ribonucleic acid, shaped like a hairpin or a collapsed ring.

The automatic equipment that is used to check "seed" potatoes for virus disease cannot be used to detect viroids because they have no protein associated with them. (Automated tests check for virus-associated coat protein, which is absent from viroids.)

Using recombinant-DNA technology, Owens and Diener of the Plant Virology Laboratory developed a test for screening large numbers of potatoes for PSTV. This new procedure could easily be automated. Several parts of the potato tuber can be checked for PSTV: the sprouts, buds or eyes, or the skin

In a test tube, Owens and Dean E. Cress, a geneticist with the Cell Culture and Nitrogen Fixation Laboratory, made a mirror-image complementary-DNA (cDNA) copy of the viroid RNA. This cDNA was then inserted into E. coli bacteria which, as they multiplied, produced millions of copies of DNA complementary to the viroid. Then the cDNA, labeled with a radioactive maker, was used to detect even small amounts of the viroid in diseases potatoes.

PSTV is easily spread by touching the plants with infected hands or tools, or through "seed" potatoes, true seed and pollen. The disease becomes more severe as successive generations of infected potatoes are planted. Once it is established, eradication of the disease is difficult, and no cure is known.

A result of basic research, this new test provides a way to eliminate diseased potatoes from breeding stocks, essential to disease-free, nutritious crops, in temperate climates as well as extremely warm areas.

Tested lamb sale Sept. 5

STATE COLLEGE — The 1981 Ram Lamb and Invitational Ewe Sale will be held September 5 here at the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture's Meat Evaluation Center, State College.

There are currently 69 ram lambs entered in the performance testing program. The top 75 percent will be selected and sold at this year's sale, in addition to approximately 45 ewes.

Rams sold at this year's sale are tested under a controlled program for loin eye area, fat thickness, average daily gain and other genetic factors. Performance records will be available for prospective buyers to select the ram that best fits their flock needs.

The sale begins at 12:30 p.m. at the MAEC located at 651 Fox Hollow Road. The sheep testing program is sponsored by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture in cooperation with Penn State and the Pennsylvania Sheep, and Wool Growers Association.

Union Co. livestock show, sale brings in $10 grand

LAURELTON — The third annual Union County West End Fair Association Junior Livestock Sale, held here last Friday, featured the prize winning animals of twenty members of the Mifflinburg FFA Chapter and the Union County 4-H club.

During the livestock show last Tuesday, judge Nevin Zerby selected a white steer named King as the grand champion of the beef show. King was raised by Gene Willow of R1 Millmont, who will be a senior at Mifflinburg Area High School this coming fall.

The 980-pound market steer was the first animal to be placed on the block by auctioneer Wayne Hess. It was sold to Dean Metzger of Metzger's Custom Butchering of Winfield at $1.26 per pound.

The reserve champion steer was an Angus-cross bred owned by Barb Davis of R1 Millmont. Barb will be a senior at the Mifflinburg Area High School this fall too. The 1195-pound black steer was purchased by Don Keister for Keister's Middleburg Auction.

The grand champion steer at the 1981 Union County West End Fair was sold by owner, Gene Willow, at halter, to Dean Metzger, Winfield, center. Contending bidder was N.S. Troutman.

Five other steers were auctioned off at the sale. The owners and the buyers are as follows:

The Hereford-cross steer of Rodney Walter of Lewisburg was purchased by Harold W. Gessner Meats of Lewisburg.

The second place mediumweight steer owned by Crystal Knechel was purchased by Ezra Yoder of Rock Oak Country Kitchens.

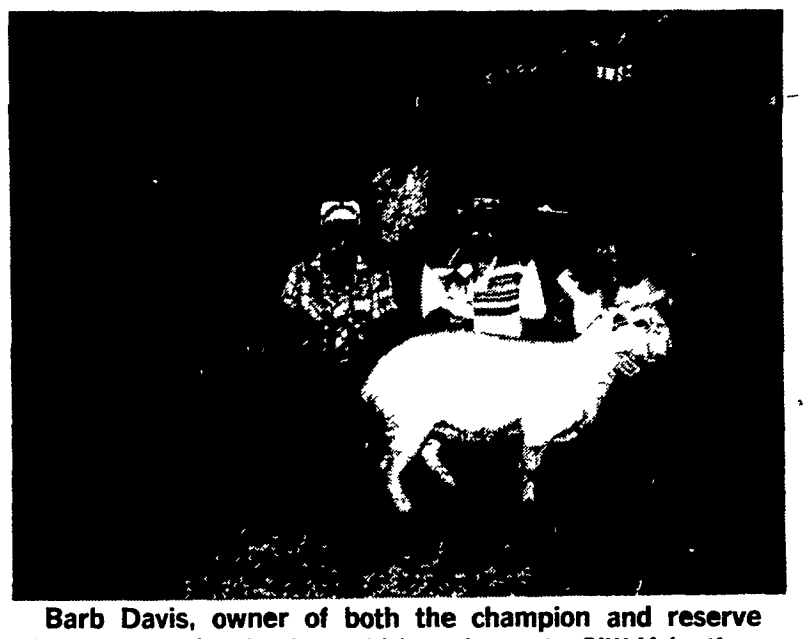
Kevin Rishel's crossbred steer was purchased by N.S. Troutman and Sons of Freeburg.

The purebred Hereford steer owned by the former Mifflinburg FFA president Andy Wagner was purchased by Roger Shuck of Mifflinburg Farmers Exchange.

The final steer to be sold was owned by Crystal Rishel and was sold to M.L. Bowersox Livestock of Penns Creek.

The grand champion market hog was owned by David Cotner of Lewisburg. The Landrace hog was shown by Dave when he received the Grand Champion Showman award. The grand champion hog was purchased by Don Keister for Keister's Livestock Market at a cost of $1.80 per pound.

The reserve champion hog was shown by Andy Wagner of Mifflinburg. The 237-pound crossbred hog was purchased by M.L. Bowersox Livestock of Penns Creek.



Barb Davis, owner of both the champion and reserve champion market lambs, sold her champ to Cliff Valentine, center, of Lewisburg's Farm Credit. Contendor was M.L. Bowersox. Her reserve champ sold to David Diehl.

The remaining market hogs in the Junior Livestock Show and Sale were sold as follows:

Lori Hess of Millmont sold her first place lightweight market hog to William Stahl of Shamokin Packing Company.

Amy Cotner of Lewisburg sold her second place mediumweight market hog to Mifflinburg Farm Bureau. The Landrace market hog was purchased by store manager Galen Reichley.

Paul Kaler of Mifflinburg and a member of the Mifflinburg FFA chapter sold two hogs at the Junior Livestock Sale. The first was a lightweight market hog which was purchased by David Deihl for the Mifflinburg Bank and Trust Company of Mifflinburg, and the second hog was purchased by Don Keister for Keister's Middleburg Auction.

Jeff Baker's 205-pound hog was purchased by Frank Saner, the acting manager for the local International Harvestor, dealer Mifflinburg Farm Supply.

Lisa Hess of Millmont sold her 217-pound market hog to Roger Shuck of the Mifflinburg Farmers Exchange of Mifflinburg.

Crystal Zechman of Mifflinburg sold a 217-pound hog to Farm Credit Service of Lewisburg. The purchase was made by Cliff Valentine, manager of the Lewisburg office in Union County.

David Cotner of Lewisburg sold the first place mediumweight market hog to Don Keister and Son of Mifflinburg.

The last hog of the sale was sold by Andy Wagner of Mifflinburg. It was purchased by Don Keister for Keister's Middleburg Auction.

The champion and reserve champion market lambs were both owned by Barb Davis of Millmont.

The grand champion market hog was shown by 4-H'er David Cotner, center, and purchased by Don Keister, right. M.L. Bowersox was the contending bidder.

This has been the third straight year that Davis owned the champion lamb. The Mifflinburg FFA member also had the top pair of market lambs at the Tuesday sheep show. The grand champion market lamb was purchased by Cliff Valentine of the Farm Credit Service of Lewisburg for $2.03 per pound.

The reserve champion lamb was purchased by the Mifflinburg Bank and Turst Company of Mifflinburg, by Board of Director member David Deihl.

The remaining market lambs were sold as follows:

Todd Foster of Millmont sold two lambs. His third-place lamb was purchased by Lynn Shambach of the Tri-County National Bank in Mifflinburg. The second lamb of the Mifflinburg FFA member was purchased by the Mifflinburg Bank and Trust Company of Mifflinburg.

Mark Bittner of Mifflinburg also sold two market lambs at the Friday sale. The first was sold to Keister's Middleburg Auction and the second was sold to Don Keister and Son of Mifflinburg.

Andy Wagner, the only individual to have animals in the beef, swine, and lamb sale, sold his two lambs to M.L. Bowersox Livestock of Penns Creek, and to radio station of the West End Fair, WWMC FM of Mifflinburg.

Steve Hursh of Mifflinburg sold his two lambs to Keister's Middleburg Auction and to M.L. Bowersox Livestock of Penns Creek.

Patti Snook of Mifflinburg, the only 4-H member in the lamb show, sold her market lamb to Glen Zimmerman of the Zi-We Dairy Farm of Mifflinburg.

Barry Delcamp of the Mifflinburg FFA chapter sold his market lamb to Bill Wolfe of Wolfe's Auctioneering.

Farm Talk

Jerry Webb

Before expanding, consider the alternatives

Can a modern farmer still find happiness on a small farm? This is a question many farmers must be asking themselves these days as they struggle to make ends meet.

The census report tells us that farm size has grown dramatically over the past several years. Farmers have purchased and rented more acres and, on the average, their size of operation has grown tremendously. But many of those large farmers are farming someone else's land and they may be seriously considering the economics of large-scale farming.

Those who have already made huge investments in big machinery may find it difficult to cut back. On the other hand, the finance company may solve that problem for them. Farmers who were on the thin edge anyway may find it particularly difficult to meet large production expenses with current farm prices.

So what happens to the farmer who still owns the 240-acre home place and figures he can't afford to rent those high priced additional acres? If he's crop farming only, he's apt to be in a bad way. Thin margins on small farms don't add up to much. But on the other hand, there are ways to stretch those small farms.

Despite the trend toward bigness there are still thousands of successful small farms. And the economists say some of them have definite advantages over their larger neighbors. Labor and machinery costs tend to be lower on big farms, but the economists believe small operations can compete successfully if they are well managed. Included in that management is a willingness to produce high value crops and labor intensive livestock.

It's very difficult to make much money growing just corn and soybeans on 240 acres. But the 240-acre farmer who grows forage crops and feeds them to his own high-producing dairy cows may not be such a small farmer after all. The small farmer who has the financing can make several additions that increase his farm size rather quickly. Obviously, going into the dairy business is a major reorganization, one which most crop farmers are not willing to do. But what about the hog business? Or maybe a broiler house, a few acres of strawberries, or other high-value crops.

The addition of irrigation equipment, if properly managed, can effectively double or triple the crop producing potential on many Delmarva farms. And there are other ways to expand a small farm.

Consider these:

—A Wisconsin farmer is buying a 150-acre farm and renting another 120 acres. He and his wife do the farming and have no other employment. They depend on 42 high-producing Holstein cows for their income.

—Two brothers in Ohio depend on 4,000 hogs and 10,000 layers on their 450-acre farm. Three families, two brothers and their father, get all of their income from this relatively small operation. The livestock doesn't take much space and the brothers go for top yields on their crop acres, buying additional grain as needed to satisfy their feed requirements.

—An Indiana grower tills 160 acres and makes a living for his family without off-farm employment. He says moderation is the key to his small farm success. "We simply don't invest as heavily as people on a bigger place, but we don't pay as much interest either." He double crops where possible, and uses the best technology available to him. He minimizes off-farm expenses by doing most of his own repair work, hiring no outside labor, and buying equipment very sparingly. He makes do with what he has so he won't have to accept part-time off-farm employment just to pay the bills.

The list of small successful farmers goes on and on. Examples are everywhere. But the trend in agriculture is toward bigness. There is the general feeling that a farmer must get bigger or get out. Depending on the method he chooses for getting bigger, that may not be the answer. In a dry year when low crop prices prevail, the big farmer may be worse off than the small, diversified farmer who's getting his income from a variety of enterprises, including livestock.

A dairy farmer friend of mine in Pennsylvania who has dairy cows, fruit trees and a strawberry patch is considered by many to be a small farmer. But he's not worrying about low corn and soybean prices. He feeds the crops he produces and supplements the milk check with a substantial income from strawberries, apples and peaches. His is a complicated farm to run, requiring some outside labor, year-round work, and long days during certain times of the year. His success has been steady with a minimum number of disaster years.

There is a place for the small farmer—small in acres but big in management know-how and big in the willingness to operate a complicated agricultural enterprise.

New soybean stress test accelerates aging

NEWARK, Del. — Soybean seeds have a certain germination ability under ideal growing conditions. But when planted where they encounter stressful conditions such as cold, wet weather early in the growing season, fewer seeds are likely to sprout than predicted.

Under these circumstances, germination rates are often cut by as much as 50 or 60 percent.

Many soybean growers would like to be able to predict more accurately just what to expect of the particular seed they use, should the weather be unfavorable at planting.

"Right now, the only good stress test for soybeans is one that's called a cold test," says University of Delaware Extension crops specialist Frank Webb. "This test is done by placing seeds in sand and putting them in a germinator set for relatively low temperatures for several days, then taking them out and putting them in a regular germinator to see what kind of response you get."

Because of the space required and the time involved, few laboratories around the country offer a seed hardiness germination test based on this procedure. So farmers and seed growers seldom have access to such information.

There's a new machine called an accelerated aging chamber which may be able to provide a much quicker and less cumbersome measure of seed vigor under stress, says Webb.

Seeds to be tested are placed in small rectangular containers which can be stacked closely together. This permits a lot of seed to be processed in a relatively small space. The chamber uses heat and 100 percent relative humidity to stress seeds, rather than the low temperature and sand used in the standard cold test.

"If this new aging chamber could be used to stress test soybeans," says Webb, "it could provide a very valuable service to many farmers. But first it needs to be correlated with field data."

With the help of a $1,550 grant from Delaware's new soybean checkoff program, he has undertaken a project involving the Delaware Cooperative Extension Service and the Delaware Department of Agriculture's seed laboratory. The project is designed to compare laboratory germination and vigor of soybean seeds with actual field performance.

Webb is conducting the field studies at the university of Delaware research farm near Georgetown. Analyst Richard Goerger at the state laboratory is using three different germination tests to evaluate the seed used in the studies. One is the standard test used by most labs around the country to determine seed vigor under optimum conditions. The second is the cold test. And the third is the new accelerated aging test.

Soybean seed tested by Goerger was planted at two different dates at the Georgetown Substation this spring. The first planting took place at the end of March in soil that was 45 degrees Fahrenheit and relatively wet. The second was made in mid-June after soil had thoroughly warmed up and while soil moisture levels were good.

Four different lots each of five different varieties of soybean seed were used, to see whether one lot had greater or less vigor than another, as well as to compare performance of each variety. Those used included Union, Williams, Bay, York and Essex.

Each planting involved 80 individual plots, so altogether there were 160 plots, 4 rows wide and approximately 50 feet long. "Every one of those seeds had to be counted before they went in the ground," says Webb. "And after plants emerged we had to go back in the field and count the number of seedlings in each row, so you can see that it's a very labor-intensive study."

At harvest, yield data will be taken from plots involved in the study, but the most important information — the actual seed germination — has already been gathered. Now comes the process of analyzing this data and correlating field and lab results, to see if the new accelerated aging chamber can be of some use to soybean seed growers as a test for seed vigor.

One year's results probably won't be enough to make that determination. The specialist expects the process to take at least two, possibly three years.

Another side benefit of the project may be further information on how early-planted soybean yields compare with those of beans planted at the normal time.

"Not many soybeans are planted at the end of March," admits Webb, "But it seems as though a lot of farmers would like to move up their planting dates on this crop. They feel that they might get better yields, though generally this hasn't been the case in research results from the university," he says.

Soybeans don't seem to yield any better when planted earlier than about May 20, concludes the specialist. But this present seed vigor project should provide information that can be used to further substantiate the effect of planting date on yield, at the same time that it helps farmers determine seeding rates in early plantings.

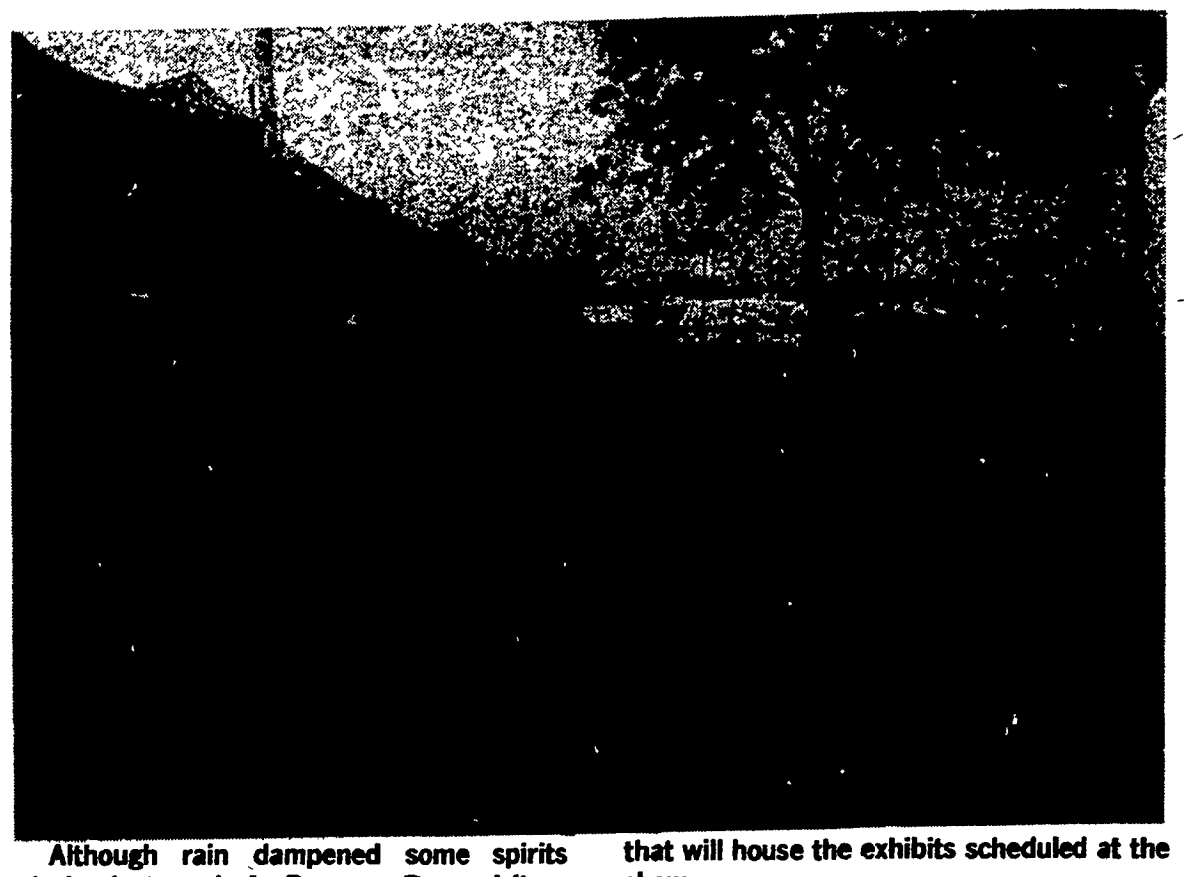
Pat Wolf, left, and Joanne Diller, both of Dillsburg, used the map found in LANCASTER FARMING to help them find their way around the acres of exhibits. A map of exhibits will be published once again this year to help visitors get the most from their trip.



Although rain dampened some spirits during last year's Ag Progress Days, visitors will be able to 'hide' under the many tents that will house the exhibits scheduled at the show.

SILAGE CONDITIONER PRESERVATIVE and NUTRIENT BALANCER

MOPRO

THE PROFIT MAKER

MOPRO 100

LIQUID SILAGE FORTIFIER

A revolutionary new concept in improving silages. University tested and proven MOPRO Liquid Silage Fortifier is formulated to balance the major mineral and protein deficiencies of silages. It also prevents loss from mold and rot after being removed from the silo or trench. MOPRO is added at the time of ensiling and is applied by metering equipment with very little handling cost. MOPRO will not corrode mild steel tanks or brass fittings and has no free ammonia odor to irritate the eyes or skin. MOPRO is a homogeneous solution of ammonia salts, urea, cane molasses, and minerals (except salt and calcium) in an efficient liquid carrier. It provides nitrogen for improved fermentation in the rumen and contains a mineral balance of phosphorous, magnesium, and trace elements. MOPRO 100 will give a resulting silage of up to 14.3% protein.

Lieutenant Governor hails experimental greenhouse

MONTOUR — Lieutenant Gov. William W. Scranton 3d recently hailed an experimental greenhouse as "an innovative energy project with economic development potential for our state."

Scranton made his comments following a Pennsylvania Rural Development Council tour of the greenhouse which is a joint project of Pennsylvania Power and Light and Bryfogle's Plant World, Inc. The greenhouse is heated by waste heat from the utility's coal fired Montour power plant.

"Energy that once was wasted is now being harnessed and used in a productive way to create jobs and business," said Lieutenant Governor.

Agricultural Secretary Penrose Hallowell, vice chairman of the Rural Development Council, stressed reduction of energy costs is a necessary part of any greenhouse operation and a major concern for the agricultural community.

"Rising energy costs have had a serious impact on the floral business and Pennsylvania farmers and it is necessary that we find ways of reducing those costs," said Hallowell. "This project, which cuts the cost of greenhouse operation dramatically, offers great potential. More cost-effective greenhouses, producing products like flowers or tomatoes, year-round, will help strengthen our economy."

Bryfogle's has been operating the three-acre commercial facility for four months and enjoyed success through one growing season.

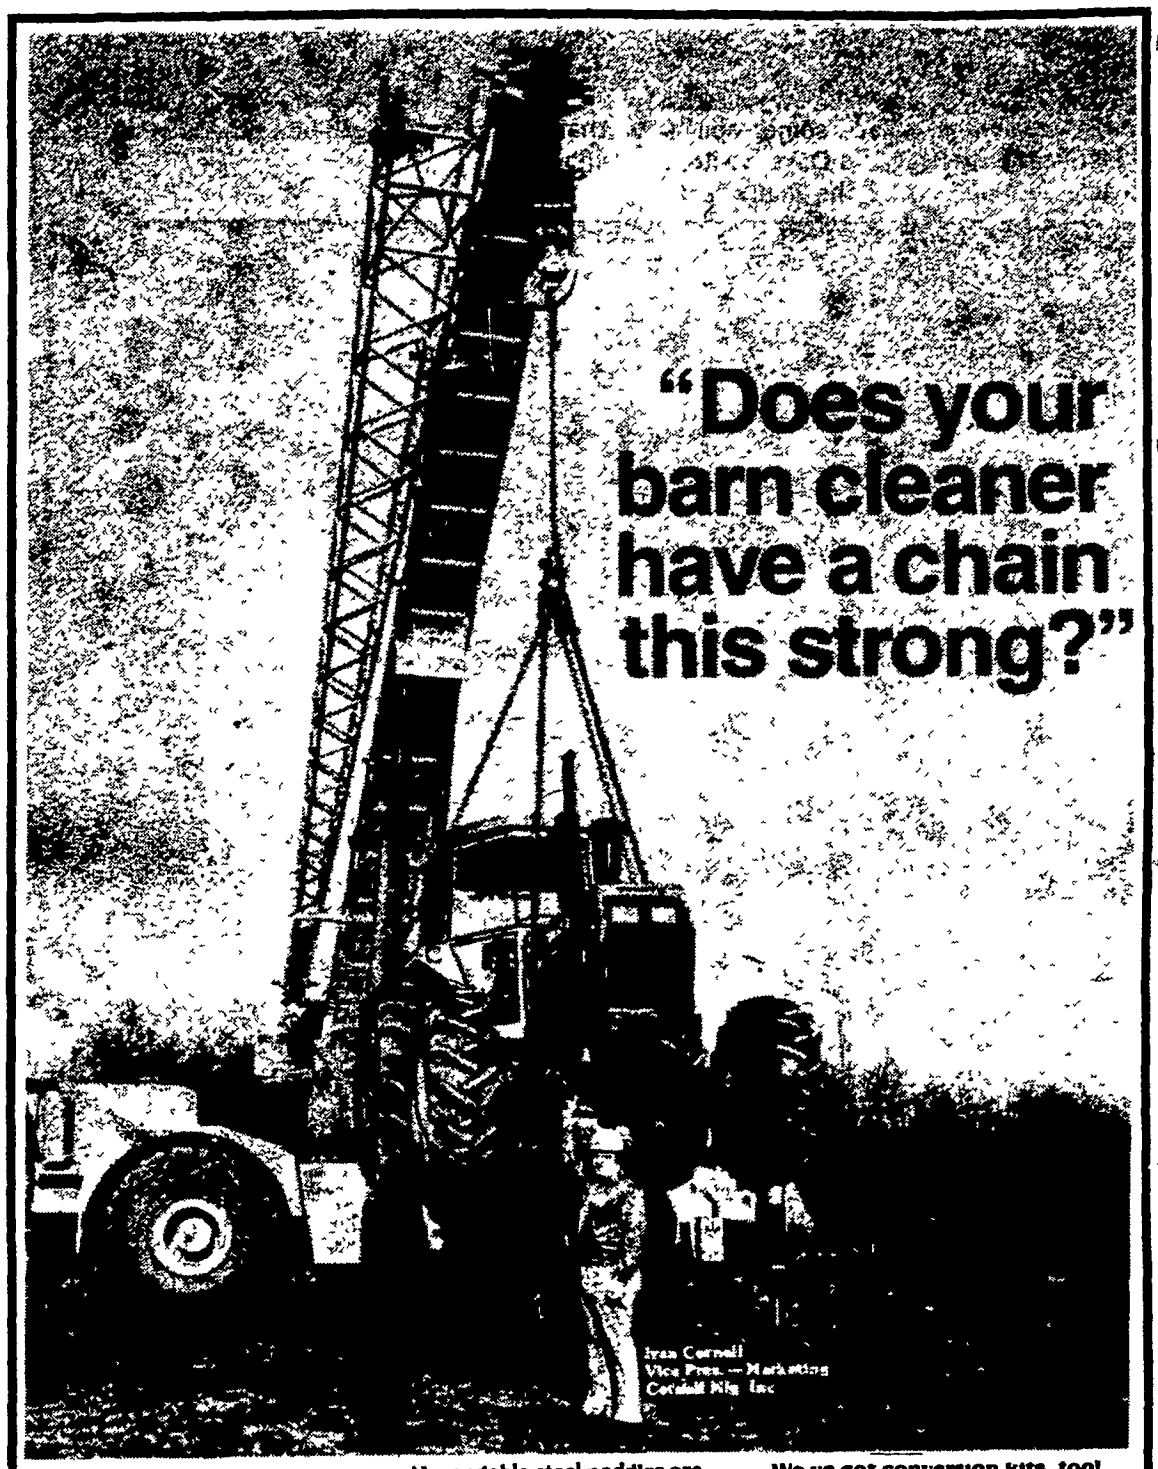
The Rural Development Council which Scranton chairs is working to attract new tenants for this unique site and to see if the concept can be applied in other communities.

Scranton, who also chairs the Governor's Energy Council, said, "Our recently released Pennsylvania Energy Plan stresses the link between creative uses of energy and building a sound Pennsylvania economy, and this project is an excellent example of that approach."

PP&L built the system to utilize the waste heat and the Commonwealth provided support through a Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority loan of $390,906 and an Appalachian Regional Commission grant of $350,000.

Joining the members of the Rural Development Council and the Lieutenant Governor on the tour were leaders of the Pennsylvania utility industry including: William Verrochi, president of Pennsylvania Electric Co.; William Matson, general manager, Pennsylvania Rural Electric Association; Lee Everett, president, Philadelphia Electric Co.; John Kauffman, executive vice president for operations, PP&L; and Arthur Scheib, vice president of customer services, West Penn Power Co.

The Pennsylvania Rural Development Council was created by Governor Dick Thornburgh to promote economic development and community conservation in Pennsylvania's rural areas.



We lifted this tractor to demonstrate just how strong our ⅝" barn cleaner chain really is! Why? There's not much difference between lifting a tractor or moving manure... both are real heavy loads.

So, it makes sense to use a tough, durable link chain like ours... to assure many years of trouble-free barn cleaning. Our chain has the toughest link around. No bolts or pins to shear... no hooks to straighten or break.

Look at these other features that make Cornell so reliable:

Smooth running oval design offers more flex around the corners. Less power is needed. No nooks or crevices to trap corrosive acids.

Dependable steel paddles are welded right to the links for long life. No pins or bolts to loosen. No hooks to straighten or break.

Steady double-tooth sprocket-drive. Cornell uses two teeth to drive the outside of the link for steadier drive, reduced wear.

We've got conversion kits, too! Give your present barn cleaner a new lease on life. Cornell replacement parts are adaptable to almost any make barn cleaner.

Look into trouble-free barn cleaning. Call your nearby Cornell dealer. Or, mail this coupon. Or, give us a call. (717) 869-1227.

Bus tours take Ag Progress visitors to latest research

UNIVERSITY PARK — Free bus tours of Penn State's 1500 acre Agricultural Research Center will be featured during Ag Progress Days.

A tour of general interest will visit farms showing experiments in agronomy, horticulture, plant pathology, and entomology — as well as studies in the Pasture Research Laboratory of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Buses will leave from the top of the midway, the central exhibit area, every half hour from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. The tours last an hour.

Similar bus tours will also take visitors to a conservation research and demonstration area every half hour from 10:15 a.m. to 3:15 p.m. As with the other tours, these leave from the top of the midway and take about an hour. Conservation practices have been designed by the Soil Conservation Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, in cooperation with Penn State personnel.

Visitors to the Horticultural Research Farm may take a walking tour of a synoptic garden, presenting a synopsis or summary of popular flowers, vegetables, shrubs, and trees. This year's synoptic garden will feature mulching materials on vegetables, comparing different mulches.

Horticultural exhibits will also feature an All-America vegetable garden and solar greenhouses. In addition, visitors will be able to examine "lean-to" greenhouses designed for home use. The All-America garden will include winners of top honors this year and the past two years.

William C. Nichol, executive secretary, Pa. Holstein Association, and Mrs. Trish Hallowell, wife of the secretary of agriculture, shared observations on the Ag Progress Days activities. Many dignitaries from the government and and Penn State will be on hand for this year's activities.

Representative Noah Wenger took time out from House Ag Committee activities at Ag Progress Days to check out PS Northern Princess 285, an Angus cow, with his daughter Nancy Wenger Hertig. Livestock Producers will also have displays pertaining to the 'progress' made in the care and maintenance of their animals.

Jerome Pasto, who retired in 1980 after 30 years of service at Penn State, poses with one of the antique farm equipment exhibits in the museum named in his honor. It's a DeLaval Cream Separator made between 1877 and 1916. Flowers are a more recent option. The museum will be open again this year.

Ag Progress Days visitors can evaluate conservation demonstrations

UNIVERSITY PARK — During the past several years, visitors to the annual Agricultural Progress Days have been observing the construction of conservation practices such as tile outlet terraces, diversion terraces, underground drainage, and new mulching and erosion control products.

"But, for the most part, the bulldozers and other heavy equipment will be quiet this year," reports Frederick Bubb, of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service, Harrisburg, and chairman of the field days conservation area.

Instead of watching construction, those attending Ag Progress Days will be able to evaluate the effectiveness of the practices. Farmland soil and water saving practices including diversions, waterways, and tile outlet terraces can be viewed in use with corn, small grains, and hay, Bubb notes.

Surface water control methods, such as stormwater retarding ponds, drop structures, and the erosion filter net, all in use at Ag Progress Days, can be used on both farm and urban sites.

Wildlife management such as tree and shrub plantings and cutback borders will show the value of birds in insect control and environmental improvement.

The roar of chain saws and tractors will come from the woods as the Pennsylvania Bureau of Forestry and Penn State Extension forest resources specialists continue the woodland harvesting and management demonstrations. Those attending will learn not only how to manage a woodlot but the best trees to cut for firewood, Bubb adds.

Tillage and mulching also will be a part of the conservation area demonstrations. "This year we'll have the people with us who helped install the practices. They will be ready for questions," the chairman emphasizes.

The conservation research-demonstration area was developed through the cooperative efforts of the Penn State College of Agriculture, USDA Soil Conservation Service, Pennsylvania Game Commission, and Pennsylvania Bureau of Forestry. The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service provided financial cost sharing for the conservation practices.

Conservation devices were built by members of the Pennsylvania Land Improvement Contractors Association. Equipment and materials were donated by many Pennsylvania agricultural businesses and groups.

Ag Progress Days is sponsored by the Penn State College of Agriculture in cooperation with numerous agricultural agencies and organizations.

A large number of Maryland and Delaware farmers attended Ag Progress Days. Luther Foglesong, Westminster, Md., paused to snap a shot of one of John Deere's big combines during his visit to the show.

HOW TO MOVE ROUND BALES!

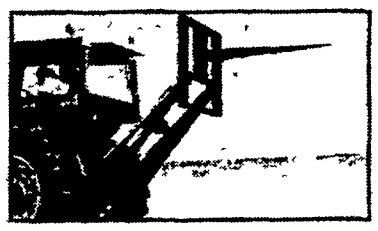
3-POINT BASE WITH FORKS

Bale Forks and 3 Point Base are designed to handle bales that are flat on bottom from prolonged storage, as well as new bales without difficulty. 3 Point Base fits on category II and will accomodate both forks and spike and will fit Hi-Lift or Bale Transport.

Bale Forks have a tapered wedging action to enable operator to load or unload without loss of hay or damage to the bales that no longer have twine on them. Bale Forks are recommended for transportation or movement of bales that no longer have twine on them.

VERSATILE (Same 3 pt Base)



Hi-Lift with 3 Point Base and Spike or Forks.

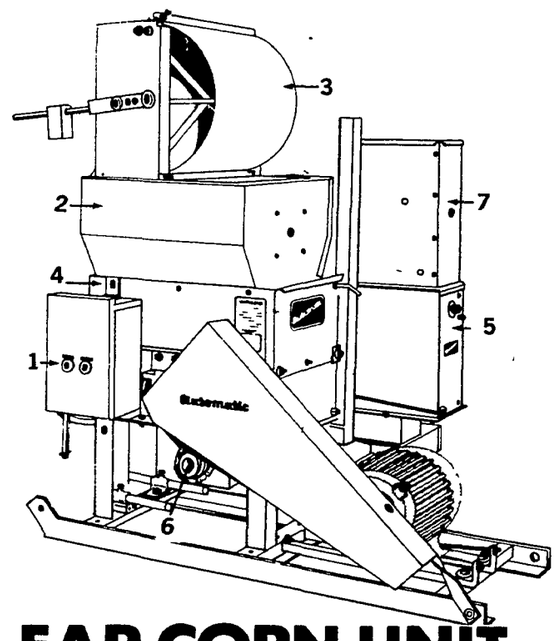
Automatic

ELECTRIC FEED PROCESSOR

(Automation Mill)



Process and blend 3 or more Ingredients at one time!

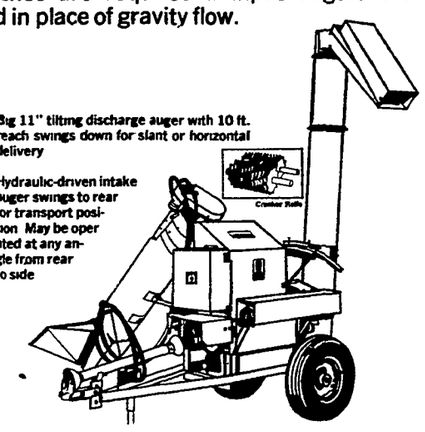
(1) Control center (Type III timer system) predetermines and records amount of feed grain (2) Bin Switch regulates input auger, automatically controls grain level in hopper, (not visible); (3) Automatic scale meters preset amount of grain through roller mill, operates automatically and continuously without power; (4) Automatic Roller mill with fast-roll attachment rolls grain; (5) Dial-controlled variable speed augers in electronic meter let you add protein, mineral or medication into mixing auger; (6) Mixing auger mixes and delivers processed feed to take-away auger. Supply auger and mill processed preset amount of grain; (7) Accessory hopper with flow switch.

Note: The Automatic Dump Scale and feed metering units may be gravity fed from overhead bins or hoppers. Flow-control switches are required if input augers are used in place of gravity flow.

EAR CORN UNIT

Automatic's ear corn unit handles wet, shucky and even frozen ear corn. The crusher unit shreds the cob followed by rollers that crack the corn, producing a flaky, dust-free feed for greater digestibility. The hydraulically driven intake auger swings to the rear for transport and may be operated at any angle from rear to side.

Dust-free rolled grain is more palatable, easier to digest, eliminates wheezing and many digestive disorders.



Big 11" tilting discharge auger with 10 ft. reach swings down for slant or horizontal delivery
Hydraulic-driven intake auger swings to rear for transport position May be operated at any angle from rear to side

Fill your needs with BONITA high capacity heavy duty single chain feed conveyors

BONITA feed conveyors are built for endurance and convenience

SUPER-TOUGH CONSTRUCTION MEANS TOP PERFORMANCE YEAR AFTER YEAR! Bonita single chain feed conveyors offer capacity and endurance to spare. Their extra wide 10¼" troughs combine with rugged 16 gauge steel frame, even heavier gauge head and base sections and special reinforcements at points of greatest stress to withstand heaviest service.

- heavy-duty roller chain final drive stage
- self-cleaning base section.. avoids stopage due to pockets of frozen material
- sealed ball bearings on large 1-1/8" dia. head and foot shafts
- special sprockets with relief at tooth roots to help prevent buildup of materials
- totally enclosed chain return for maximum safety; also eliminates feed carryover
- easy parts replacement with all bolted construction
- low operating, maintenance costs
- conveying lengths up to 44 feet

Kraiburg Happy MooMats Keep Cows Happy, Resting, and Profitable!

The installation of our mats in your cowshed doesn't just save you time, which is money, it helps your herd give more milk, which means added profit! And more! Just look at these features Elastic comfort surface Our advanced rubber chemistry and design groups have developed a surface and a rubber understructure that provides a pleasant lying surface and results in noticeably increased milk yield (University testing has shown that increased milk yield results from increased lying time.

"Sure-grip" textured tread surface Specially developed tread surface gives solid footing protection against udder injuries, abrasions and sore hocks

Sanitary non-porous texture. Resists barnyard acids, trapping of bacteria and disease Reduces barn odors

Saves bedding materials Provides safe sanitary lying comfort for cows Reduces yearly bedding costs by up to $7 000 00 per 100 cows

Excellent heat loss resistance Keeps cows' body heat from dissipating Thermal insulation action rejects cold and dampness from concrete underflooring and minimizes mastitis

No bulging, edge cracks, hair cracks Superior compounding and proper thickness provide insurance against wear aging and loss of service

10 Year Warranty Program Because Kraiburg products are the result of better rubber technology and because they are carefully manufactured and have been thoroughly laboratory and field tested, we back every mat with a Ten Year Warranty

That is our story A product to make cows comfortable A product to make life easier for the dairyman and more profitable

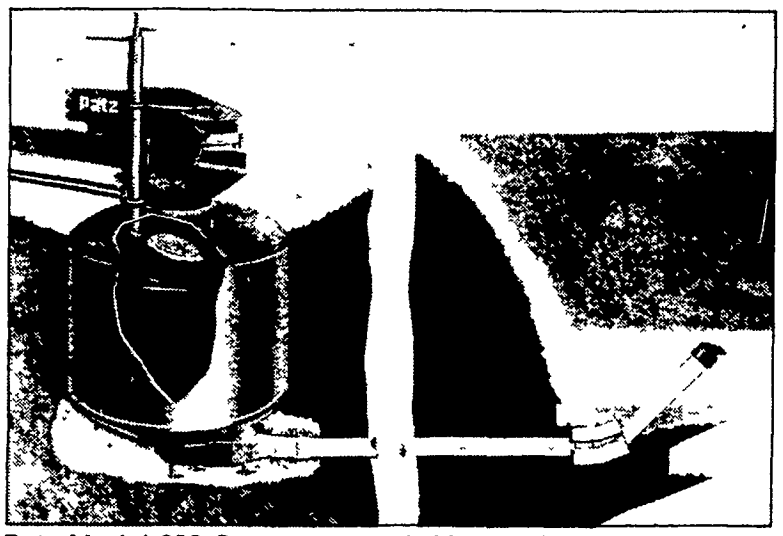
Patz Model 100 Manure Pump



Patz Model 200 Compressed Air Manure Mover

Controlled Manure Management

Patz liquid manure pumps make manure handling faster and more profitable for you.

The Model 100 manure pump handles free flowing manure and slurry with fine cut bedding. Both the plunger and plunger sleeve can be serviced without concrete breakup. And a flapper valve at the end of the 12-inch PVC pipe in the storage facility prevents manure backup.

The Model 200 compressed air manure mover handles slurry, and has fewer moving parts — a manually-operated hatch cover and one-way valve at the bottom of the underground tank. An air compressor provides air pressure to agitate manure in the collection tank and then air pressure moves it to your storage facility.

Find out how simple and economical controlled manure management can be. Take a close look at Patz liquid manure handling systems today.

Pennsylvania's first lady, Ginny Thornburgh, was helped up to the cab of a 251 hp Steiger Cougar by Paul Yingling of C.B. Hoober's, Intercourse. Mrs. Thornburgh was only one of many celebrities who visited the exhibits at last year's Ag Progress Days.

Dairy and livestock advances highlight Ag Progress Days

UNIVERSITY PARK — Proper nutrition and recent advances in management will be the focus of displays in the Dairy and Livestock Tent at Ag Progress Days, next Tuesday through Thursday at Rock Springs Agricultural Research Center, nine miles west of State College on Route 45.

An exhibit to check dairy rations will use a micro-computer similar to those installed in many farm offices and supply businesses. Bring information about a ration used for your herd, with forage testing results if possible, and see it evaluated for proper levels of nutrients. The test also looks for proper balances of forages and concentrates.

Another electronic tester will show how butterfat is determined under the DHIA program operations at the Penn State Central Milk Testing Laboratory. Additional capabilities of lab equipment will be explained and how it facilitates milk testing for cooperators.

Milk production requires good reproductive efficiency and proper management. A dairy display will illustrate goals such as calving at 23 and 26 months of age and detecting 80 percent or more of animal heats depend on cooperation between breeding technicians, vets, and dairy herd managers.

Veterinary diagnostics will be highlighted in a display on The Many Faces of E. coli. It will present the varied forms of this organism and why antibodies for one form will not protect against all other forms. Examples of diseases in animals, such as scours in young calves, and in humans will be shown. Emphasis will be on performance of the organism in animal herds.

Conservation of electricity and heating of water will be featured in a display on milk processing. A cut-away model will illustrate the operations of pre-heaters and efficient uses of energy to cool milk.

A test of acidity in feces often confirms acid load is a problem in beef herds fed a ration high in grain, or when animals are off-their-feed. Buffers may be the solution, according to recent research at Penn State. An exhibit will show baking soda and other materials can promote a good digestion in feedlot animals and increase daily gains.

Other exhibits related to dairy and animal sciences will include an inventory of the total feed required to maintain a horse for a year.

The Meat Animal Evaluation Center will illustrate its function in evaluating meat animals and will feature information on current boar performance testing and sale of those boars on Wednesday, August 26 at 6 p.m. in conjunction with Ag Progress Days.

A sheep display will illustrate some genetic differences in sheep due to selection programs.

Advances in feed efficiencies and management will be illustrated in a poultry display about the broiler industry. It will show the changes that permit production of market weight birds with one-half the feed needed 40 years ago. Using by-products and feed sources that are not competing with human food needs, the poultry producer of today markets a 4 pound bird with an average of 8 pounds of feed.

The poultry exhibit related to 4-H will show the hatching of eggs with an incubator and illustrate how an embryo develops.

PENN STATE'S AG PROGRESS DAYS

Milton Hershey School Farms showed the grand champion hay crop silage sample in the state hay show last year. Al Dugan, left, farm manager, checked the sample with Penn State Agronomist John Baylor. The first cutting from a field of WL 311 was made at early bud. The hay show will be a major part of the Ag Progress Days show once again.

Jay McCarrell, Washington County, showed a later cutting of heat finished Conestoga alfalfa to become the grand champion of the state hay show last year. Show judge Clarence Bryner, left, liked the fine stems, leafiness, green color and early maturity of the sample. The hay show will be judged on Tuesday during Ag Progress Days this year.

Safeguard against deadly dust

NEWARK, Del. — With grain harvesting upon us, it's time for farmers to think about fire prevention and dust control in milling and grain storage operations.

The potential fire problem is great, but there are many things that can be done to lessen the risk of a fire or explosion, says Delaware Extension safety specialist Ronald C. Jester.

Fire prevention begins by realizing that three basic elements are involved in every fire — fuel, oxygen and heat. Since oxygen must be present, eliminating either the dust or the heat (source of ignition) is the obvious way to reduce the hazard.

The following guidelines should be adhered to strictly for reducing the possibility of a grain dust explosion on your farm:

- Have a good housekeeping program. Prevent dust buildup on equipment, pipes, floors, and around grinders.
- Be sure dust-tight equipment is really dust-tight. Spouts and positive-pressure air ducts should be kept in good repair to keep dust from escaping. Give immediate attention to leaks in grinding equipment and fans.
- Dust control systems will help reduce pressure buildup inside equipment, and keep dust from being forced into the mill.
- Prevent ignition by removing foreign materials from incoming ingredients. Magnets are typically installed in spouts leading to processing or grinding equipment.
- Lubricate bearings according to the manufacturer's recommendations to prevent overheating.
- Align belt drives properly. Misalignment can create friction and build up sufficient heat to generate a fire.
- Check tension on bucket elevators. Inspect periodically to insure proper operation.
- Enforce the no-smoking rule in mill and grain facilities.
- Install dust-tight lights and explosion-proof plug-in receptacles.
- Practice welding safety in the mill. This includes shutting down machinery, cleaning work area, covering combustible materials with flame-proof tarpaulins, and having a fire extinguisher available.
- Be sure wiring conforms to the National Electrical Code.
- To reduce the buildup of static electricity, make positive metal connections between pieces of equipment and the ground.

Prevention is the name of the game, but it is also important to know what to do in the event of a fire. Portable fire extinguishers and hoses should be readily accessible and functional. The farmer and employees should be familiar with the different types of fire extinguishers and know how to operate them. It is also important that the local fire company be familiar with your mill, grain storage and its surroundings.

The University of Delaware Cooperative Extension Service has developed a program dealing with fire prevention in feed milling and grain handling facilities which is available to farm groups and organizations. To schedule the program or to obtain a safety checklist for grain elevators write to: Ronald C. Jester, University of Delaware Substation, R.D. 2, Box 48, Georgetown, DE. 19947.

Manure-moving paddles

The new Jamesway Hook-Link barn cleaner features manure-moving 3/16" thick steel paddles, 16" or 18" long, with reinforced wear shoes. Paddles are tapered from 4" high at the outer tip to 2" high and are welded to the link at a 12° angle. Liquids are carried by the 4" deep trailing end of the paddles for superior removal. The hook of the chain link can easily be removed from eye for fast chain take-up without tools.

It's worth more than you realize . . . costs less than you think.

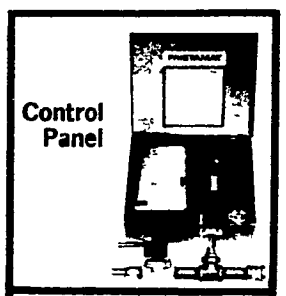
(Not Fogger)
FOR HOGS

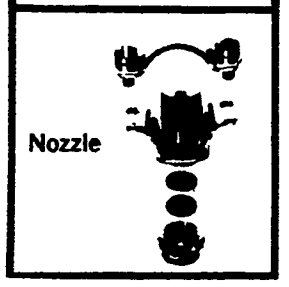
THE PROBLEM
When the temperature goes up, one of the first ways your body reacts is by breaking out in perspiration That's nature's way of cooling off
It's different with hogs High temperatures cause them a great deal of stress because they can't sweat When under this stress due to heat, hogs will lose their appetite, weight gains drop, there is poor feed conversion, conception rate is reduced and pens become a mess All of this adds up to lost profits

THE SOLUTION:
When the temperature is above 72° F even ventilation can't cure the stress that results But a sprinkler cooling system can help your hogs where nature fell short, giving them a chance to cool off It sprays them with coarse water droplets to reduce their body temperature The idea is simple, but extremely effective

THE SYSTEM:
The sprinkle cycle is turned on automatically whenever the barn temperature rises above a preset level 72°· F Throughout this "on" period the control functions to permit sprinkling to occur for a preset time period each hour (2 minutes/hour is recommended for best results) When the barn temperature drops below 72° F the cycle is automatically interrupted



The nozzles are clamped to a plastic pipe strung over the gutter of slatted area at the rear of the pen Each nozzel covers a 5 6 foot diameter area which usually means one nozzle per pen The nozzle assures a coarse droplet spray pattern which is important for maximum cooling A fine mist of fog is not desirable in geographical areas of generally high summer relative humidity



THE PROOF

	Control Hogs not sprayed	Hogs Sprayed 1 min per hr above 85°F	Hogs Sprayed 1 min per ½ hr above 70°F	Hogs Sprayed 1 min per hr above 70°F

USDA proposes changes in marking meat products

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Requirements for the sale, transportation and marking of certain meat products would be simplified under a rule proposed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Donald L. Houston, administrator of USDA's Food Safety and Inspection Service, said the proposal is intended to reduce the paperwork requirements imposed on the meat industry in the transportation of edible and inedible meat food products.

Under the proposal, the food safety and inspection agency plans to delete two shippers' certificates currently required for the transportation of U.S. inspected and passed meat and meat food products.

The proposal also would expedite the return of alleged adulterated or misbranded meat products by retail stores to slaughter or processing plants by revoking a special permit now needed to accompany the products. In its place, the proposal would require that oral permission be obtained from the federal supervisor of the area in which the plant is located.

Houston also said that the present meat inspection regulation requiring certification of inedible meat or meat food products is unnecessary since required denaturing or labeling properly identifies the product as inedible. This certification would be eliminated under the proposal.

Written comments should be sent by September 29 to Regulations Coordination Division, Food Safety and Inspection Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Attention: Annie Johnson, Food Safety and Inspection Service, Room 2637, South Agriculture Building, Wash., D.C. 20250.

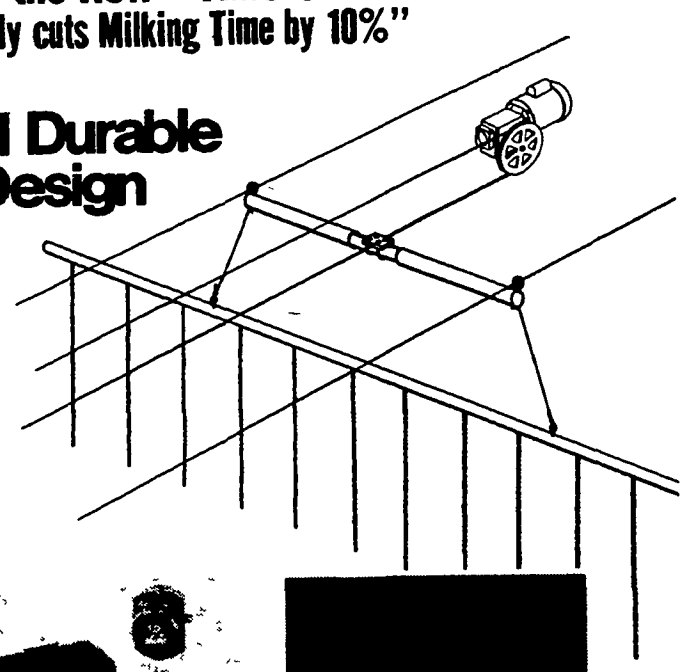
Westfalia introduces the New "Time Saver" Crowd Gate
"Effectively cuts Milking Time by 10%"

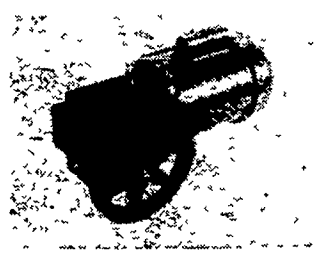
Lightweight and Durable with Practical Design

Built-in practicality with all permanent components, mounted separate from the gate, the "Time Saver" Crowd Gate can be economically installed in any cow holding area with side or rear access.

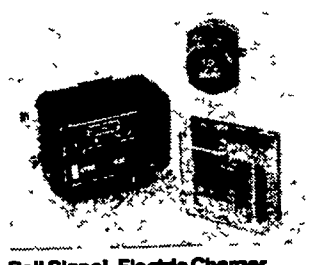
Light weight and easy to-install It has no "track" to run on, thus eliminating the need for reinforced fencing or support rails.

The height of the cow holding area may vary depending on your type of cleaning equipment. But the "Time Saver" Crowd Gate can go as low as practical for your installation

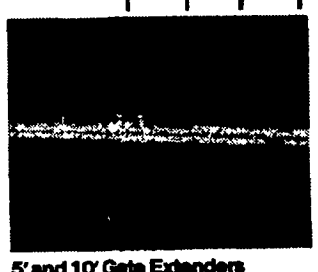




Drive Mechanism with Limit Switches
Full control with heavy duty drive mechanism, with forward and reverse Positive limit switch control.



Bell Signal, Electric Charger, Control Box
Bell Signal Box, Electric charger and Control Box assure positive gate control.



5' and 10' Gate Extenders and 25' Length Extender
Adapts easily to fit your needs. Allows for more versatility for various size holding areas.

Strength. Get it with a Badger Northland Barn Cleaner

There s nothing more frustrating than a broken barn cleaner chain That s why Badger has put over 35 years of development into testing and retesting the chain used in Badger Barn Cleaners

Earlier this year Badger Engineers hung a 3-1/2 ton spreader from one link of their chain to show just how strong it is In fact Badger Chains are tested to withstand a minimum of 24 000 lbs of pull That s what we mean when we sa ' Badger Chains are strong!

But Badger s Barn Cleaners are stronger in other ways too Take the transmission It ll pull up to 550 feet of chain long enough for even the biggest operations And of course Badger Barn Cleaners are backed by the best parts and service network anywhere

Tough dependable and strong That s what you want in a barn cleaner and Badger s got it

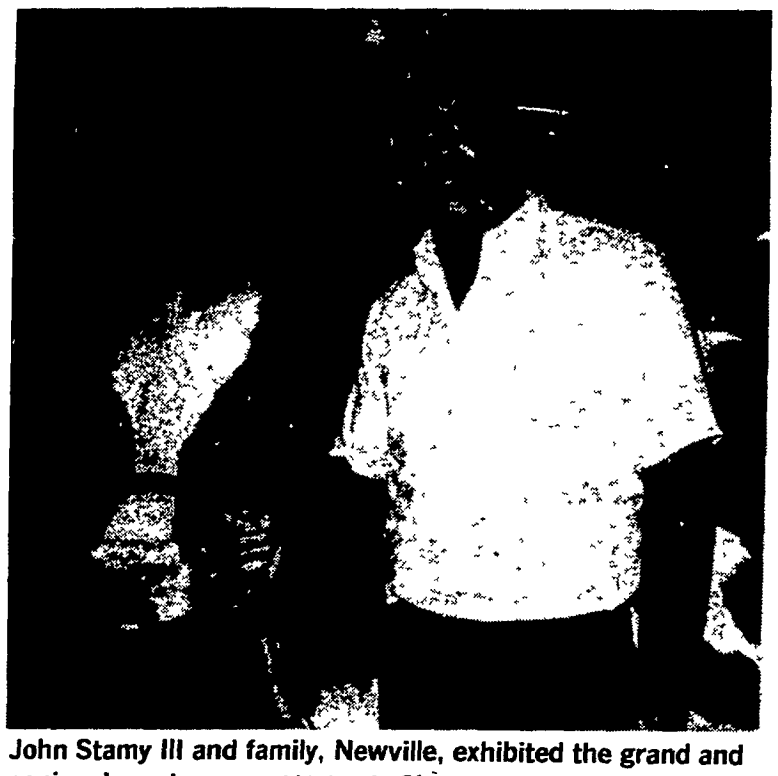
Stamy family sweeps Carlisle Fair dairy show

BY BETH HEMMINGER
Staff Correspondent

CARLISLE — Cumberland County dairy producers provided a show of thrilling competition for the Carlisle Fair's open dairy show held last Tuesday evening. Judging the annual event was Paul King, a Holstein breeder in York County.

John Stamy, III and family, Newville, stole the Holstein show with their outstanding display of four first place cows — junior two-year-old, senior two-year-old, three-year-old and five-year-old.

The Stamy's five-year-old cow was crowned senior and grand champion of the show. After capturing four championship titles, the Stamy's went on to claim several top place group classes, the Best Udder class and Best Three Females.



John Stamy III and family, Newville, exhibited the grand and senior champion cow of Holstein Show.

Delmar Cornman of Corlan Farms, Carlisle, stepped into the limelight with his first place senior yearling to be awarded the junior championship. Mark Naugle, Carlisle, exhibited the reserve junior champion. Cornman and Naugle pulled their top place animals together to win the Junior Get-Of-Sire class.

Junior calf and intermediate calf honors went to Robert Smith, II and Stacy Cornman, respectively. Both winners are from Newville.

Dyar-Acres, Newville, captured top honors for the senior calf and aged dry cow.

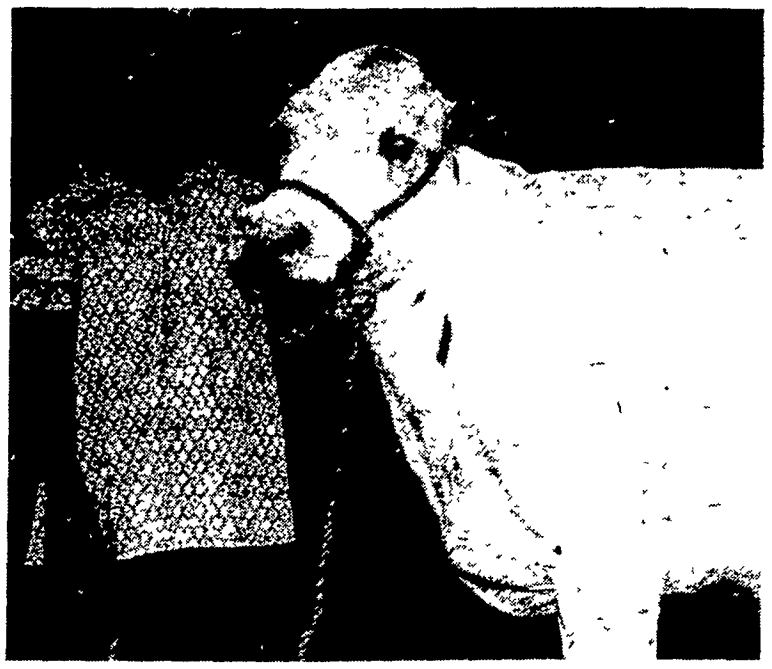
The senior champion exhibited by Three Springs Farm, Newville was selected by Judge King as grand champion of the Milking Shorthorn show. The farm's entries took blue ribbons in the 2-year-old class, 3-year-old class, 4-year-old class and aged cow class.



Patti Ocker, Shippensburg, exhibited the grand champion Ayrshire.

Christine Young of Three Springs, proudly exhibited the junior champion Milking Shorthorn. Three Spring's also claimed their share of the trophies in the group classes, first places junior get-of-sire, best three females, and dam and daughter.

Lucille Ocker and family, Shippensburg, walked away with top honors in the Ayrshire show, claiming junior and grand champion along with blue ribbon awards in all the group classes.

Mildred Seeds went home to her Top-O-Hill Farms, Dowingtown with numerous awards in the Jersey show and capturing the coveted junior and grand champion awards.

Cumberland Co. holds 4-H Dairy Roundup

CARLISLE — Judge Robert Kauffman, Lancaster County, remarked at last Thursday's Cumberland County 4-H Dairy Show, "Cumberland County 4-H'ers displayed an outstanding group of animals and should be proud to exhibit them at any show."

Michael Dyarman, Dyar-Acres, Newville, captured the coveted crown of 4-H Holstein grand champion with his 5 year-old cow, Dyar-Acres Marquis Elva.

The top place Holstein junior calf was awarded to Robert Smith, II, Newville. Sharon Cornman, Justa Beauty Farm, Carlisle, received the first place award in the senior calf class.

Jeffrey and Douglas McCullough, Newville, proudly went home to their farm with the junior and reserve junior championship awards in the 4-H Guernsey show.

Christine Young, Three Springs Farm, Newville, was awarded the junior and reserve junior champion honors in the 4-H Milking Shorthorn show.

After working for months, weeks, days and hours, the 4-H'ers and their animals were ready for the showmanship and fitting contest. They were divided into four categories: junior inexperienced, senior inexperienced, experienced and honorary. The honorary division were those individuals who had already won the other three divisions.

Winning the junior inexperienced division was Ray Yost and Dean Wagner, both of Carlisle.

Dean Wagner exhibited excellent skills and went on to win the experienced division showman and fitter, along with Ann Stover, Carlisle.

Claiming the honorary title for the second time was John Stamy, IV of Newville.

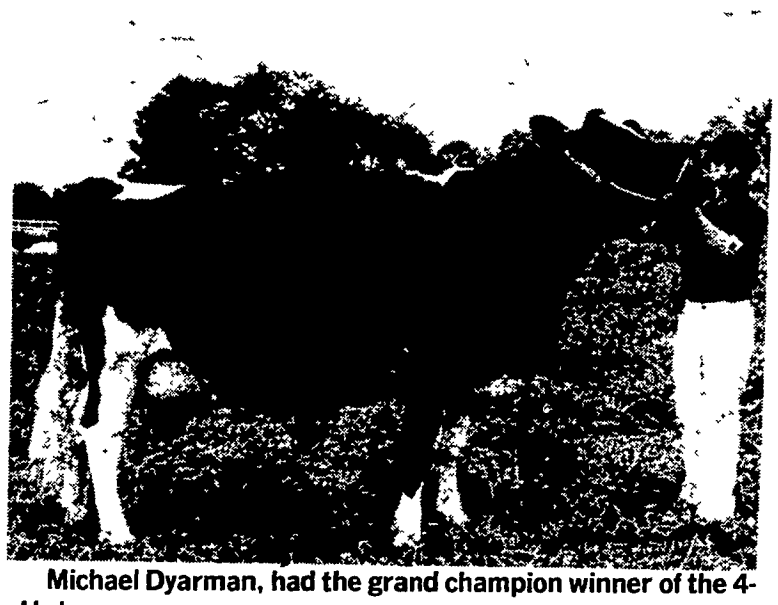
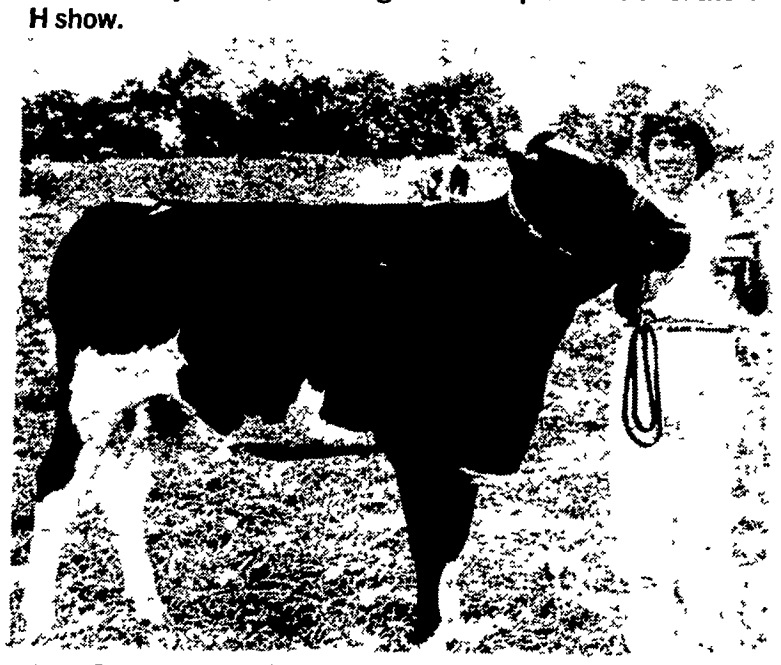
John Stamy IV received reserve grand champion at the 4-H Holstein Round-up



Michael Dyarman, had the grand champion winner of the 4-H show.



Ann Stover, Carlisle, was the winner in the experienced division of the Cumberland County 4-H Fitting and Showing Competition.

Ray Yost was the winner of the junior inexperienced division of the Cumberland County Fitting and Showing competition.

CARLISLE — Cumberland County 4-H Market Steer and Showmanship competition held last Wednesday evening at the Carlisle Fair kept judge Peter LeVan on his toes with 36 rambunctious entries. LeVan is the manager of the Beef Forage Research Farm at Penn State.

Cumberland County 4-H'er Ron Kimmel was a happy exhibitor when he heard that famous slap on his steer's rump proclaiming his steer as grand champion and heavy weight champion of the 1981 Market Steer Show.

Angie Fought followed close behind to reign as the reserve heavy weight and reserve grand champion.

The first lightweight steer class began with little 'lightweight' competition. The seven steers, ranging from 650 to 775 pounds, circled the ring numerous times before the judge could select a winner. Bill Wardle was pulled to the top of the class with his lightweight steer weighing in at 775 pounds.

In the next lightweight class, the

1190 MOWER CONDITIONER

Preserves hay quality to maximize profits

Precision-machined, intermeshed rubber conditioning rolls crush and crimp your crop for fast dry-down, yet they work gently to save leaves. Rolls are mounted in the header, not on the frame, so the crop feeds straight in for complete conditioning, even in rough terrain.

- Two sizes: 7 and 9 ft.
- Over-the-top frame suspension allows for header float, keeps crop pathway clear
- Rolls separate automatically when header is raised so you can clear slugs from your tractor
- Lever control lets you adjust the width of windrow or swath
- High-speed oil-bath knife drive gives you clean cutting, long life
- Simple equalizer hitch lets you turn sharp without losing performance.

competition was just as heavy with the steers weighing 805 to 865 lbs. Keith Baker received top place honors in the class and went on to become the lightweight champion of the show. John Wardle exhibited the reserve lightweight champion.

Chris Hopple captured the blue ribbon winner and mediumweight championship with her crossbred steer. Jeff Wardle followed his brothers' footsteps and reigned as the reserve mediumweight champion.

The market steer showmanship contest began without delay and Cumberland County 4-H'er Angie Fought captured Judge LeVan's eye immediately as she smoothly led her heavyweight crossbred around the show ring with ease. She stepped into the senior division winner circle to be named champion showman. Judge LeVan remarked, "She is a natural showman, always aware of her animal and me."

A sister monoploy claimed the intermediate and junior showmanship awards. Champion intermediate showman was Chris Hopple with her 910 pound crossbred steer. "She made all the right moves," said Judge LeVan. Following close behind her sister was contestant Kim Hopple who won the junior showmanship competition.

The placings of the market steer competition are:

JOHN DEERE COMPACT UTILITY DIESEL TRACTORS

CUT IT ANY WAY YOU LIKE

Capacity-matched mowers give these Task-Master™ Tractors the versatility you need to handle a variety of mowing jobs

Roadsides, municipal parks, schoolyards...wherever there's a mowing job to do, the John Deere 650, 750, 850, 950 and 1050 stand ready.

With diesel engines (14.5, 18, 22, 27 and 33 PTO hp, respectively*) and five mower options, these tractors can handle most grounds maintenance jobs.

Mid-mounted mowers are ideal for grooming parks, airports, shopping centers and large estates. Cutting width is 5 or 6 feet, depending on model. Gauge wheels help prevent scalping.

Rotary cutters work wonders around buildings and along roadsides. Pick a model with 4½-, 5- or 6-foot cutting width.

The flail mower (for 850, 950 and 1050 Tractors) cuts through dense growth quickly. It has a 6½-foot cutting width and an adjustable cutting height of ½ to 5 inches.

The new rear-mounted grooming mower mows a 6-foot swath. Cutting height adjusts from 1½ to 5 inches.

A 7-foot sicklebar mower (for 850, 950 and 1050) is also available. It's great for trimming ditches and inclines.

See us soon for a compact utility diesel tractor and capacity-matched mower. We also have implements for landscaping, farming and utility work.

★ Maximum PTO hp at 2600 engine rpm for the 650 and 850. 2400 engine rpm for the 750, 950 and 1050. All ratings by official test, except for the 650 and 750, which are factory observed.

Hereford cows achieve production recognition

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — A listing of 1,331 registered Hereford cows has been afforded special recognition by the American Hereford Association. Cows in this elite group have combined the single most important economic trait of fertility, with the second most important trait of growth of her offspring.

To be a member of this elite group, a cow must meet high criteria in that she must be four years of age or older, must have had her first calf at 25 months of age or younger, have a calving interval of 370 days or less, and her calves must have weaned at least five percent above the average of her herd. In addition, the most probable producing ability, compares dams which do not have the same number of calf records in their average. It is most helpful in identifying the highest producing cows to be kept.

Only one-half of one percent of the nation's registered Hereford breeding cows can meet the rigid standards to attain listing. "Because of different management programs, many cows do not have the opportunity to be listed, however those making the list are efficient, productive cows and are deserving of the special recognition" stated H.H. Dickenson, executive vice president of the AHA.

There are 1,331 cows representing 327 breeders from 30 states shown on the list. "This widespread distribution in numbers and areas further reflects the Hereford cow's ability to adjust to different climates and management programs," Dickenson added.

Montana Hereford breeders ranked first in the number of breeders with 49 breeders listing 208 cows. South Dakota ranked first in number of cows category with 306 cows from 46 breeders and Nebraska ranked third with 28 breeders and 118 cows.

Three cows listed are 14, 15 and 17 years of age, have weaned 13, 14 and 15 calves respectively, and still maintained the five percent above herd average for growth on their offspring. They are LH Miss Colo Dom F56, owned by Dan Landers, Wilsall, Mt.; Mischief Heiress 547, owned by Eugene Foster, Greycliff, Mt.; and RC Evan Heiress 53, owned by Ned Ray Purtle and Son, Hope, Ar.

A total of 79 cows have had nine calves or more with never skipping a year, and still sustaining the performance traits.

LEBANON — Give your cornland and soybean land a green blanket for Christmas suggests Karl Hellerick, Soil Conservation Service.

These crops need additional green cover over the winter to keep the soil in top condition.

Richard Elliot, South Annville Township, has been using aerial seeding to get the rye grain sown in his standing corn and soybeans in August. Elliot has had good results using 2 bushels of rye grain per acre.

Aerial applications in August get the job done quickly when farmers are "less" busy.

Regardless of how you get the rye grain planted, it's worth the effort, advises Hellerick.

- Made from fiberglass, the lasting answer.
- Color molded permanently into fiberglass to remain attractive and new-looking.
- Fiberglass is practically dent-proof. Stands up to long periods of hard use.
- Contents stay fresh because fiberglass absorbs little or no heat.
- Because there is very little condensation on the inside, moisture cannot alter the contents of material being stored.
- Fiberglass is rust resistant. Acids and salts can't hurt it.
- Steep-slope symmetry plus a large 26" diameter hopper keeps material pouring freely without bridging.

POSITIVE-LOK TRUSS COLUMN CONNECTION
Interlocks truss and wall column, eliminates knee bracing

UNI-FRAME TRUSS
design loads certified by licensed engineers

FLUSH FRAMING
This means a bird nest-free building. New flush fit leaves no room for birds to enter. Eliminates dirt and prevents disease.

LAMINATED WALL COLUMN

BRACE-TO-BRACE FLUSH FRAMING
Assures even and positive distribution of all forces eliminating weak spots.

INTER-LOK COLUMN CONNECTION
Gives continuous beam strength and rigidity.

TRIPLE-STRENGTH ROLLING DOOR door framing members placed on edge rather than flatwise to the metal skin triples strength

NON-SAGGING DOOR HEADER
Composite beam of lumber laminated to a heavy steel core. Handles doors up to 36' wide

USABLE SPACE
No interior posts, no in-the-way knee braces. Full use of valuable space

THE UNI-FRAME FOUNDATION SYSTEM
A laminated timber replaces the "old style" square post and is individually pressure-treated for 100% penetration of the wood preservative. Then it is buried four to five feet into the ground and solidly anchored in 90 lbs. of concrete with a reinforcing steel rod. Reliable against uplift by wind pressure, protected against decay and insects.

Pa. Milk production 'booming', says economist

UNIVERSITY PARK — Pennsylvania dairy farmers are creating a "boom" in milk production. Their milk output has increased in greater amounts and at faster rates than anywhere else in the Northeast, according to Blair J. Smith, agricultural economist at Penn State.

In 1960, 12 percent less milk was produced than was consumed in the state. By 1980, production was 26 percent greater than consumption. Smith analyzed state and federal reports of milk production and consumption in his work with the Agricultural Experiment Station at Penn State.

"Of the Northeastern states, only Vermont has a greater milk surplus relative to consumer needs," he stated. "Vermont's surplus is about 2 billion pounds annually while the surplus in Pennsylvania is 1.75 billion pounds."

The Penn State economist suggested several reasons exist for the vigorous growth of Pennsylvania milk production. Closeness of dairy farmers to great masses of people has become increasingly important. This is due largely to the rapidly increasing costs of transportation since 1973 and 1974.

In addition, soil, climate, and topography in the Commonwealth lead to a kind of dairying that is only slightly affected by widely fluctuating feed prices. This occurs since much of the feed needs of dairy herds are produced on home farms.

The dairy "boom" in Pennsylvania is also seen as beneficial to consumers. Other factors remaining equal, more milk at the farm tends to create lower prices at the supermarket. Smith pointed out that milk and dairy products have long been an economical source of a very important part of human diets.

"Currently, for about 13 percent of our food budgets, we receive about 22 percent of our dietary protein in the milk and dairy products that add so much variety to our meals," he affirmed.

Contrary to what some people may believe, retail prices of milk and dairy products have gone up less than prices of all foods generally, it was stated. The increase has also been less than the average price increases of all consumer products taken as a group.

Smith predicted retail milk and dairy product prices will rise more slowly during the next several years. He indicated this will be due to probable future actions of the federal government — similar to those taken recently.

"The primary effect of government dairy programs," Smith said, "has been to moderate the wide swings in prices and production that might otherwise take place. Stability introduced into the market by government programs is important," he commented.

"Such stability reduces the risk and uncertainty facing dairy farmers and milk processors," the Penn State economist stated. "With a fairly stable outlook, farmers and processors can carry out more highly efficient, lower cost operations than otherwise. Moreover, competition within the dairy industry assures that most cost savings are eventually passed along to the consumer," he concluded.

Bupp's top York black and white show

YORK — The annual York County Black and white show was held on Friday at the York Fairgrounds, in conjunction with the York 4-H fair.

Topping the annual affair was a bred and owned heifer, Bupplyn Marvex Patty, that was named the grand champion of the show. The junior two-year-old, was selected by judge Sam Acker, Chester Springs, as the champion and was exhibited by Bupplyn Farms, Seven Valleys.

The reserve grand champion went to George Knight of Woodbine Farms. The three-year-old Woodbine Astro Mollie, was sired by Paclamar Astronaut.

The Paul King family of Delta was named premier breeder and co-exhibitor along with Boyers. However, their day was not all winning for while they were competing one of their cows went into labor. The difficult breech birth left the very large heifer calf dead.

In addition, the 4-H members present at the show got a chance to demonstrate their knowledge of the dairy industry by competing in a junior dairymen's contest. The winners were announced after the conclusion of the black and white show. Leslie King came out as the winner in the junior division while David Krone topped the senior division.

York 4-H fair hosts a number of activities.

BY LAURIE DOBROSKY

YORK — Competing, exhibiting, learning, and doing were just a few of the types of activities that the York County 4-Hers got to participate in at the annual York 4-H Fair held at the York Fairgrounds here last week.

Members from all over the county got a chance to view dairy and beef shows; projects displays, tractor driving contests and other types of contests designed to test any number of skills developed in their projects.

The main hall of the fairgounds was filled with projects completed by York members. Projects of all descriptions from clothing to woodworking; from paintings to flowers filled the building. Ribbons and certificates were given to the members who completed their projects.

In addition to the inanimate projects many live animals were also on display. The York County Rabbit club members held their crossbred steer was selected as the champion medium weight steer before it advanced to its champion position.

The reserve champion steer was exhibited by Chris Shive, her Angus steer was the reserve champion middle weight. Chris also exhibited the supreme champion heifer of the show with her April calf, Rally Elba 330.

The champion bred and owned heifer, was exhibited by Tammy Eisenhour on her July heifer, H L Blackcap.

In addition to the beef show, another type of contest was held the 4-H fair stockman's contest. This contest included the judging of beef, sheep, swine, meats, equipment and feeds. There was no age limit to the competitors; anyone from eight to eighty could and did compete.

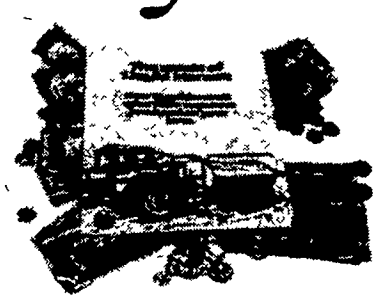
Like money in the tank

Invest in a Calumet Vacuum Tank with soil injector.



Liquid hog manure can save you several thousands of dollars in commercial fertilizer costs. That's why it pays to invest in Calumet.

Pick the tank size that fits your herd—from 1180 to 4500 gallon capacities. Choose from three vacuum pumps—177 CFM, 247 CFM, or 353 CFM—for fast filling Select PTO powered at 540 or 1000 RPM, or optional hydraulic motor drive.

Then put those liquid assets to work with a Calumet 2- or 4-shank soil injector. Injecting helps retain four times the nitrogen usually lost in surface spreading. And you'll reduce odor and runoff problems.

You'll get long-term dividends too. Calumet tanks are engineered for years of efficient, low maintenance operation. Heavy duty steel alloy tanks are epoxy-coated to resist corrosion. Double reinforced A-frames and support skids add strength for heavy loads. All Calumet products are backed by a 12-month warranty.

So start profiting from the fertilizer produced on your farm. Get a Calumet vacuum tank and soil injector. It's a tank you can bank on.

the top five individual judges competed for top honors. This competition involved the exhibition of their showmanship skills. Each finalist had to show each of the three species of animals: beef, sheep, and swine.

The final results were tabulated, while the winners rested their show weary bodies. In the junior division the top stockman went to Julie Myers. In the senior division Robert Livingston captured the top honors; while in the adult division, former Penn Stater, Linda Ebaugh, took home the silver plate.

Dauphin 4-H"ers win big at fair

HARRISBURG — Dauphin County 4-H Days are now a memory to approximately 300 4-H'ers.

What is the 4-H fair? It is a time when 4-H'ers assemble at the Farm Show for judging and competition of their projects. This is an opportunity for the 4-H'ers to see what others have worked on this past year.

Clover award winner in livestock was Kaye Sweigard, Halifax; Clover award winner in Home-Ec was Barb Baker, Elizabethtown; Clover Award winner in General was Michelle Mock, Middletown.

In the Thursday evening, "Anything Goes" contest, the winners were from the Upper Dauphin Area Dairy and Swine Club: Rick and Bryan Weaver, John, Jim, and Mike Lesher, and Dale Smeltz.

The auction of market hogs and sheep was held Friday evening. The Hatfield Packing Company purchased 50 of the 53 hogs.

Participating in the Fair were: Horace Mann, director of the Farm Show; Chet Heim, Deputy Secretary of Agriculture; Senator George W. Gekas, Dauphin; and Major Paul E. Doutrich, Jr.

Show results are:

Block warns wheat, barley farmers of crop insurance deadline

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Final signup for the U.S. Department of Agriculture's federal crop insurance for winter wheat and barley ends August 31 in most growing areas, Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block announces.

Block said he strongly urges farmers to sign up before the deadline, rather than expect federal disaster program protection to be available again next year.

"The farm bills currently working their way through the Congress allow for disaster payments only in those counties where USDA federal crop insurance is not available," he said. "Farmers who think they will be eligible for disaster payments may be in for a big disappointment next spring."

Crop insurance is available in every county previously covered by USDA's disaster payment program. This, coupled with the recent expansion plans of USDA's Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, means the insurance can be bought in nearly 3,000 counties, Block said.

"Our new crop insurance program is a major policy change from federal disaster programs that pay too little, too late, to too few farmers," Block said. "All-risk crop insurance is a self-help assistance program that is fair to all."

USDA statistics show that every year one of every 14 planted acres never makes it to harvest. "This is the equivalent to the entire state of Montana," Block said. "Most farmers cannot afford to take such a risk on their own without insurance protection. All-risk insurance provides the economic protection farm families need at a price they can afford."

FCIC plans to establish insurance coverage on most agricultural crops. The expansion is part of an overall effort to assure virtually every farmer the opportunity to take advantage of the all-risk crop insurance program.

For 1982, federal crop insurance will be available nationwide on the six major crops: corn, wheat, cotton, grain sorghum, rice and barley. Major producing areas growing 22 other crops also will be covered, Block said.

Winter wheat and barley farmers now can call their county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office for a list of insurance representatives in their area who will be able to explain how they can receive insurance protection for their crops.

USDA also has established a toll-free number farmers can call to get names of agents in their county who sell all-risk insurance. The number is 1-800-447-4700.

Pennsylvania's Three Top Alfalfa Producers

Champion growers Norman and Harold Davis of Huntingdon, owners of Daland Farms, and Apollo variety alfalfa from RP Seeds.

When Harold and Norman Davis entered the 1980 State Alfalfa Growers Program, they knew the competition would be tough, that it would take a lot to win first place. A lot of yield... pounds of protein... and TDN produced over the entire growing season.

That meant careful planning, proper management and a little luck with the weather. Plus the best alfalfa stand on their entire dairy operation.

The Davis brothers' choice to win? A two-year old field of Apollo, the alfalfa variety bred to beat Phytophthora root rot ("wet foot" disease) and deliver high yields of consistently top quality hay.

The result: Apollo yielded 8.6 tons per acre, with 3,410 pounds of protein and 9,765 pounds of TDN.

And Harold and Norman Davis won first place to become Pennsylvania's 1980 State Champion alfalfa growers.

Champs switch at district FFA show

BY DICK ANGLESTEIN

KUTZTOWN — Holstein judge Sam Acker, of Chester Springs, pulled a "first" in his busy career of surveying black and whites in the ring at the Southeastern Regional FFA Dairy Show at Kutztown on Tuesday.

In his own words, he admitted:

"This is the first time I've ever done this."

What he did was single out not only the first-place animal in the Intermediate Calf Class as the Junior Champion, but then went to the second-place calf in the same class as the Reserve Junior Champion.

His "thing" for calves brought the top junior honors to Todd Reed, Cloister Chapter, and the runnerup Holstein junior laurels to Ed Breckbill, of Oxford.

But his partiality to youth ended there as Acker selected the top two finishing cows in the FFA Show at the Lebanon Fair last week and reversed their honors.

The Holstein grand championship of the Southeast Show went to Herrvales Royal Sheila-Red (that's right - a red and white), shown by Sheryl Horst, of the Elco chapter. Last week, the aged cow finished as reserve grand champion in the Lebanon Fair's FFA Show.

And reserve honors this week went to last week's grand champion, Broslin Linda Chief Charlie, a four-year-old shown by Barry Donmoyer, of Northern Lebanon.

"No matter how good these calves are, when you have two such outstanding cows, I must go with them," Acker said.

And when he selected the junior champs, Acker commented he couldn't say enough about them, their dairyness and breed characteristics.

In the Ayrshire competition, the grand championship went to the aged cow shown by Kennard Henley III, of Octorara. He also had the reserve grand champion, a senior two-year-old

In the Jersey competition, the grand champion rosette went to the junior two-year-old of Patricia Dreisbach, of Hamburg. The reserve grand champion honors were taken by a four-year-old shown by Marilyn Deaven, of Northern Lebanon.

There were only two entries in the Milking Shorthorn competition.

Judge for the colored breeds was Mrs. Jane Pepple, of Oxford.

More than 200 animals competed in the show, which included FFA chapters from the nine-county area of Berks, Bucks, Chester, Lancaster, Lebanon, Lehigh, Montgomery, Northampton and Schuylkill.

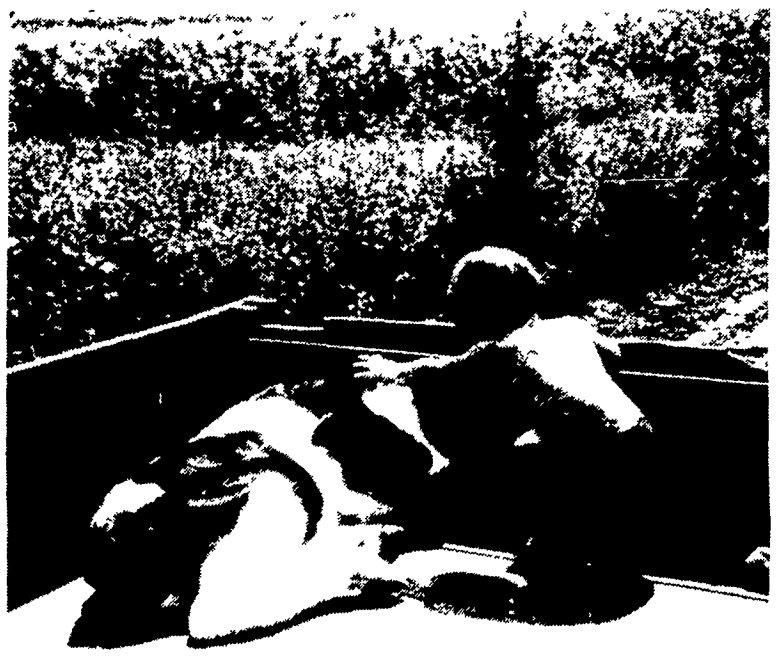
A few photos - just for nice



LANCASTER — Many cute but meaningful photos were received in the recent Dairy Month Photo Contest.

As a child, I remember reading the story about "Ferdinand the Bull," who didn't act like a bull because he liked to sniff flowers.

Well, one of the accompanying photos, sent in by Joanne Fisher, R1 Warriors Mark, brought this bedtime story to mind.

I'm not sure if it's a small bull or heifer, but it makes no difference since it has the right idea and the message is clear:

We should all take a pause now and then and stop just to smell the flowers. And, the two other photos carry a meaningful message about life, too.

Youngsters, no matter if they're human or from the animal kingdom are born with an instinctive need to reach out.

The photos typify this reaching out — an act of loving care that we must all pause to practice more often.

In the photo on the truck bed, submitted by Arthur Ebbert, R1 Biglerville, a new-born calf is being brought in from the pasture following its abrupt arrival into the world. And, it has a friend reaching out in welcome.

Future Ferdinand Reaching out

Young eagles fly at Pymatuning

HARRISBURG — All five eagles which were raised in the Pymatuning/Conneaut Marsh area of Crawford County are now flying, according to Pennsylvania Game Commission personnel in the area.

Four eaglets were hatched in the area this year from three nests, and a fifth eaglet was successfully introduced to the nest of the only unsuccessful pair. One of the nests was used for the first time this year.

The five eaglets represent a modern-day record for production of the endangered birds in Pennsylvania.

Prior to last year, the three nesting pairs of bald eagles at the Pymatuning were able to produce only 28 offspring in 20 years. In 1980, the birds hatched four eaglets.

At one point recently, Game Commission personnel were concerned that one of the young eagles had perished in a severe storm that hit the area on June 22, just after the time when the young bird should have begun flying.

But a search for the eaglet several weeks later revealed that it had been sighted both before and after the storm by personnel from the Pennsylvania Fish Commission's fish cultural station at Linesville.

Shortly after the search, the eaglet reappeared, and has been observed regularly near the nesting island.

The June storm toppled numerous trees on nearby Ford Island, where the Game Commission's Waterfowl Museum is located, and blew over all the trees on an adjacent, smaller island. Apparently the eagles had a bad experience with the storm and decided to avoid the area for awhile.

The eagles' nest was almost completely blown apart, according to Michael Puglisi, coordinator of the Game Commission's endangered species program. "We're hoping that the eagles rebuild the nest at the same site," he said.

"The nest near Ford Island has been easy to monitor at that location, and it is easy for visitors to see the nest from the Waterfowl Museum," Puglisi added.

Jim Harakel, manager of the Waterfowl Museum, indicates that more and more persons have been visiting the Waterfowl Museum in late spring and early summer to see the eagles. "It would be a shame if the birds move their nest," Harakel says; "people really get excited about seeing them here."

The Game Commission's Waterfowl Museum is located just south of Linesville.

1981 hunting licenses and forms now available

HARRISBURG — Pennsylvania's 1981 hunting licenses and special license application forms will be available this month, according to the Game Commission's Chief of Administration, Kenneth L. Hess.

"County treasurers now have the new licenses and forms available. Licenses and special application forms will be in the hands of another 1,100 statewide issuing agents by August 24," Hess stated.

"This will be the first year for the new bear license," Hess noted. "Any person who desires to apply for one of these permits may submit an application immediately after purchasing a 1981 resident or nonresident hunting license.

"Supplied by the issuing agent, the application (one per hunter per season) may be completed and mailed in the official red envelope anytime through Friday, September 25."

In calling attention to the new bear license, Chief Hess cautioned hunters to "follow to the letter" instructions printed both on the application forms and the two supplied envelopes. Hess reiterated that a hunter may apply for only one license per season — either an "individual" or "group" license — but not both.

Applicants for "individual" licenses will complete Section I of the supplied form and submit it along with a check ($5.00 resident — $15.00 nonresident) in the red envelope. Multiple applications for "individual" licenses are not permitted in a single envelopes.

On the other hand, persons choosing to hunt as a "group" may submit multiple applications in one envelope along with two copies of the group register (Section II of the application form).

Envelopes containing "group" applications and registers must also have a return address — indicate whether the applicants are residents or nonresidents (residents and nonresidents cannot apply together for a group license) — show the number of applications enclosed — have first class postage stamps equal in number to the applications — include sufficient remittance to cover each license requested — and contain a properly addressed and stamped blue return envelope.

All bear license applications received through September 25 will be secured and stored at the Game Commission's Harrisburg headquarters. Successful applicants will be determined in an impartial drawing set for 10:30 a.m. Monday, September 28. 125,000 licenses will be issued for the one-day bear season, scheduled in 32 Pennsylvania counties, Monday, November 23.

Auctioneer's Note: We have been requested to omit the name of our consignor for security reasons, until the toys etc. are removed from his house; However, this is a fully packed house full of toys and related items collected over a 50 yr. span. We are continually unpacking boxes in an attempt to list and catalogue this sale. Most toys are old - however purchases were made up to 2 years ago - so some reproductions are included - we will try to mark them as such, but do come to the inspection and see everything for yourself, then come to the sale prepared to bid and buy. This is a very large collection not seen in one place for many years. We will be selling rapidly in order to get through this in one day.

GPR™ from Kleen Leen®

The Problem. . .

Successful hog producers agree that selecting the right boar is a matter of having the right information about the hogs they're picking from.

But genetic potential isn't something that can be seen. So, hog producers have relied on whatever performance data was available to help them make the right selection.

Unfortunately, performance data including only days to 220 lbs. and feed efficiency can be influenced by weather, facilities, and other environmental factors. A boar that performs well under ideal conditions may acutally possess only mediocre genetic potential and not perform up to expectations in a different environment.

As a result, hog producers have had to trust their instincts and leave the rest to chance.

The Solution. . .

Kleen Leen has recognized the need to improve the way boars are rated and sold and now responds with Genetic Potential Rating (GPR™). It's an all new testing procedure that tells you the true genetic potential of Checker™ Boars before you buy.

Under the GPR system, all Checker Boars are now rated in GPR points. GPR scores are determined by important performance traits that directly affect your hog income.

Because the GPR system eliminates the influence of weather and other environmental factors on the breeding farm, measurement of days to 220 lbs., feed efficiency and backfat become reliable indicators of real genetic potential for the first time.

In addition to GPR measurements of these performance traits, all Checker Boars must meet rigid Kleen Leen standards regarding conformation, prolific breeding ability and soundness.

The accuracy of the GPR system lets you calculate a close estimate of the return you can expect from investing in a Checker Boar. This allows you to make more intelligent management decisions.

Only 1 out of 3 boars qualifies to become a Checker™ Boar

Under other testing programs, environmental factors such as weather could let undeserving boars pass acceptable performance standards That won't happen under the GPR system because Kleen Leen boars are rated against each other.

Regardless of environmental conditions at the breeding farm, only about the top 33% become Checker Boars That's how Kleen Leen protects you against getting a fair weather boar.

When boars reach about three months of age at the Kleen Leen breeding farm, they are evaluated for quality, soundness and growth rate Never more than the top 50 out of every 100 boars evaluated are approved for GPR testing

The approved boars are taken off test when reaching around 220 lbs Their GPR performance scores are computed at that time Any boar with a GPR score below 80 is automatically disqualified This usually eliminates about 10 more boars

Finally, the remaining boars are checked for quality and soundness a second time and another 7 are disqualified

Out of the original 100 boars, only about 33 measure up to become Checker Boars Their GPR scores range from 80 to 140

Pick the perfect Checker™ Boar for your herd

Your Purina dealer now offers 7 different breeds and 7 different GPR performance levels within each breed That's a total of 49 different Checker Boars to choose from Pick the breed and performance level for your herd

Kleen Leen breeds include Blackline (Duroc X-Hamp) Whiteline (Duroc X York) M-Line (York X Landrace), Hampshire, Duroc, Yorkshire, and Landrace

The Graduating Class of Checker™ Boars

How many Checker Boars earn how many GPR points? GPR performance standings resemble class standings Here are the approximate percentages within each GPR category

- 140 GPR - points and above — in the top 2% of their class
- 130 GPR - points and above — in the top 5% of their class
- 120 GPR- points and above — in the top 9% of their class
- 110 GPR-points and above — in the top 15% of their class
- 100 GPR-points and above — in the top 21% of their class
- 90 GPR points and above — in the top 28% of their class
- 80 GPR-points and above — in the top 33% of their class
